COURT UPHOLDS TRIBUNE SUIT ON EXPERTS' FEES

City Officials Lose on Every Point.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

JUDGE C. M. FOELL.

The overburdened taxpayers of Chicago—still bent under a 41 per cent tax boost this year—won a notable victory yesterday. They procured a new club to keep spendthrift officials within legal bounds of expenditures, under penalty of personal restitution.

This came in THE TRIBUNE suit to recover $1,065,000 paid two city building experts in a little more than a year. The city officials concerned cannot, by demurrer, sidestep a hearing on the merits of this suit. Judge Charles M. Foell overruled all demurrers—general and special—of all defendants. They must answer.

Officials Liable, Too.

The effect of the decision is that Mayor William Hale Thompson, President Michael J. Faherty of the board of local improvements, and City Controller George F. Harding are individually and personally liable for the $1,000,000—if THE TRIBUNE'S bill of complaint is true—as well as Frank H. Mesce and Austin J. Lynch, the two experts who received the cash from the city treasury directly.

It has not been charged that the mayor, controller, or the president of the board of local improvements received any cash from the city treasury, but Judge Foell held that they are properly joined in this suit.

The judge thereby plowed new grounds. He set a new and important precedent.

While it has been popularly believed that public officials could be held responsible for payments from public treasuries, neither the lawyers for the defendants nor for the plaintiff cited a single Illinois case wherein a public official had been held responsible, except a case where the official himself had directly received money from a public treasury.

Effect of the Decision.

If Judge Foell's decision is upheld, as Howard Ellis and Jay Stough of THE TRIBUNE counsel predict, taxpayers throughout Illinois will have an open gate through which they may enter to compel public officials to use care and common sense, and observe the legal guide posts set here and there to protect property owners and residents. It will open the way for taxpayers to force public officials, although not financial beneficiaries, to reimburse public treasuries with monies which they aided in paying out illegally.

This decision came from a judge, selected by the defendants as acceptable—not suggested by THE TRIBUNE—after the defendants had labeled fourteen other judges as prejudiced.

Suit Filed One Year Ago.

The suit was filed April 19, 1921, and the Foell decision came yesterday, April 19, 1922—a year to a day later. Apparently it came as a surprise, perhaps a shock, to the majority of the attorneys for the defendants.

Edward Potter Vail, attorney for Harding, told the court he is ready to answer, but did not want to embarrass attorneys for other defendants. Matthias Concannon, attorney for Lynch, wanted thirty days in which to decide whether he will stand by his demurrer and appeal from the decision or answer, and if the latter, to file the answer.

John McInerney, attorney for Mesce, wanted two weeks to elect what he would do, and then more time in which to do it. He said he had devoted all his time to the demurrer and hadn't given any consideration to an answer. Attorneys for Faherty made no statement, and Corporation Counsel Ettelson, Chester E. Cleveland Sr., and David H. Jackson, attorneys for the mayor, were not in court.

Other Experts Present.

Interested spectators, who frequently made notes of the long argument on the demurers, were attorneys for Ernest H. Lyons, Arthur S. Merigold, and Edward C. Waller Jr., real estate experts for the city. Against them also, coupled with Mayor Thompson, Controller Harding, and President Faherty of the board of local improvements, THE TRIBUNE has a suit pending to recover $1,738,000 for the benefit of all taxpayers of Chicago.

In its bill of complaint involving the

Church Spire Falls, Buildings Hit.

One little schoolgirl was killed when she was struck by a cornice blown from a three story building at 1920 North Fairfield avenue. She was Evelyn Jacobson, 8 years old, 2734 Cortland street. Her sister, Ragnhild, 9 also was hit, and is not expected to live. The girls were coming home from the Chase public school.

William Brest, 66 years old, porter in the Silver Leaf Park saloon at Lyons, lost both hands when he came in contact with a live wire which the storm had blown to the ground in a lot next the saloon. He tried to poke it out of the way with a stick, and it recoiled and struck him.

Fifty Persons Hurt.

At least fifty persons were injured in minor ways by the freakish action of the storm in blowing glass, bricks and other materials through the air as though they were made of paper.

One of the most peculiar accidents happened to George S. Knapp, a merchant at 1322 South Wabash avenue. He was walking on Michigan avenue near the Congress hotel when a piece of skylight or cornice came from the heights and neatly ripped off most of his clothing. Half an inch nearer and it would have killed him. He held the tatters together until he could get into the hotel and find a new suit.

Trees and shrubbery in Lincoln park and the north shore suburbs suffered heavily. Many streets were blocked by fallen trees and poles.

The Lawndale police received reports of heavy damage in that district. Oak Park, River Forest, Melrose Park, and Maywood reported many windows broken, trees and poles down.

Flagstaff Injures Girl.

Miss Mildred A. Pope, 1048 Foster avenue, stenographer for an automobile concern in the Metropole hotel, was injured in a peculiar accident that followed the partial wrecking of the old Immanuel Baptist church. The church is at 2320 Michigan avenue, next door to the hotel, and when a flagstaff fell from the steeple it carried a five pound iron ball through the window of the office where Miss Pope was working. She had just returned from the phone when the ball crashed into one corner of her desk, striking her on the arm and nearly breaking her wrist.

In the basement of the hotel Thomas McClellan was shaving Carl Henderson. They heard the sound of the falling steeple and ran to the street. A moment later about 300 pounds of cement fell into the room, wrecking the chair where Henderson had been sitting.

Crowds Watch Fall.

Traffic in Michigan avenue was blocked for two hours, while thousands watched the rocking church steeple. They waited for it to fall and were rewarded. There were several women in the church restaurant and two or three men in the church offices when the roof partially caved in, but no one was injured.

Windows, signs, telephone poles, and trees snapped and crashed in all parts of the city. The wind was the highest for this time of year since the spring of 1894. Its highest velocity was fifty-four miles an hour at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. At 4 o'clock it had fallen to forty-two, and at that time Forecaster Cox said the worst of the storm had passed. He predicted cold weather today and then a return to spring for a more extended visit.

Firemen, Police Busy.

Firemen and police were busy trying to hold down roofs, protecting pedestrians from brick showers and guarding against fallen wires.

At 3626 South Halsted street the roof of a house was lifted and placed on top of a neighboring building. At 2300 South Ridgeway avenue a porch was carried away. Two big horse-drawn trucks were overturned at Dearborn and Harrison streets.

Storm Warnings for Lake.

Storm warnings were sent over the entire lake area and a "heavy night" was experienced at sea. The coast guard at the mouth of the harbor went out after a fishing craft that was disabled, but the fishermen got their boat under way without help. Watch is being kept for the gasoline fishing boat, Halftath, which went out to set nets and should have returned yesterday. It is thought the boat put into an Indiana port.

DOG SAVES LIVES IN $40,000 BLAZE STARTED BY CAT

New York, April 19.—A one eyed Angora cat played the rôle of villain, and a small fox terrier that of hero, in a fire today which damaged the exclusive gown shop of Tappe, Inc., in West 57th street, just off 5th avenue.

The cat was blamed by Herman P. Tappe, proprietor, as the "jinx" which caused the fire, while the unnamed terrier was credited with saving many of the 100 young women employés from suffocating by barking a prompt alarm. The cat paid with her life.

Mr. Tappe said most of the damage was to gowns ordered by Mrs. George Vanderbilt, Mrs. W. R. Hearst, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. George Widener, and other wealthy women, and would total about $40,000.

CRANE CAUSES A COMMOTION IN DAMASCUS

PAIRS, April 19.—The presence in Damascus recently of Charles R. Crane, former American minister to China, caused considerable agitation, according to the Beitut correpspondent of the Havas agency. Police were called out to calm the populace. The American consulate, it is added, declared officially that Mr. Crane was visiting as a plan citizen with no official mission and the trouble ended. Mr. Crane cut short his stay in Syria. In 1919 Mr. Crane went to Syria as president of the American cosulate investigating the mandate question. His attitude at that time was the subjec of a general protest.

HOUSE VOTES FOR 'ADEQUATE' NAVY

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—The administration won a complete and final victory today in its fight in the house for an adequate navy.

On a formal roll call, the Vare amendment for 86,000 enlisted men, adopted in committee of the whole Saturday, was carried by a vote of 221 to 148.

Following this action the house passed the naval bill by a vote of 279 to 78. As increased by the house, the bill now carries appropriations totaling $251,000,000, about $17,000,000 more than recommended by the appropriations committee. The measure now goes to the senate, where it is expected some further increases will be made.

Illinoisans Bolt Party.

Party lines were entirely swept away when the final showdown was reached. Ninety Republicans, including Representatives Mondell [Wyo.], Republican leader; Madden [Ill.], appropriations committee chairman; Kelley [Mich.], naval subcommittee chairman; "Uncle Joe" Cannon [Ill.], Mann [Ill.], and other prominent party chieftains, bolted the administration and voted for the "little navy" program. The administration succeeded, however, in holding the large majority of the Republicans in line, 173 being counted in favor of the "big navy."

The Democrats were badly split up. Forty-eight of them joined with the administration in suport of the Vare amendment, while fifty-seven voted for the "little navy."

Little Navy Coalition Loses.

Generally speaking, the "little navy" faction was made up of a coalition of southern Democrats and middle western Republicans. Illinois voted: For "big navy": Chindblom, Fuller, Graham, McKenzie, Moore, Rodenberg, Wheeler, Yates—8. Against "big navy": Brooks, Cannon, Dennison, Funk, King, Madden, Mann, Shaw, Sproul—9.

The contest over the size of the navy was one of the most spirited the house has witnessed for several years.

Just before the vote was taken Mr. Kelley read a letter he had just received from Secretary Denby, which, Kelley declared, meant that additional appropriations of $40,000,000 would be necessary under the higher personnel. "Big navy" leaders disputed this, contending that the increased personnel called for an increase of only $22,000,000, and that the remainder of the $40,000,000 would have been necessary, regardless of whether the personnel was increased. Mr. Madden insisted that the increase would be $60,000,000.

BLACKMAIL PLOT AGAINST MRS. DAY IS REVEALED

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 19.—A plot to blackmail Mrs. Jean P. Day, wife of Jean P. Day, wealthy attorney and oil man, who recently was exonerated of the slaying of Lieut. Col. Paul Ward Beck, was revealed tonight with the announcement that a man giving his name as Ed Reed of Oklahoma City had been arrested at Edna, Okla., at the request of postal authorities.

Day testified at the coroner's inquest that he killed Lieut. Col. Beck after he returned home and found the army officer attempting to attack Mrs. Day. The testimony of Mrs. Day corroborated that of her husband.

A letter was received last Wednesday by Mrs. Day from a man who demanded $2,000 to keep silent on what he claimed he saw through the window of the Day home on the morning Lieut. Col. Beck was slain, Mr. Day said tonight, after being informed of the arrest at Edna. The letter was signed "G. Daer," Day said.

In the letter, Mr. Day said, the man declared he was passing by the Day home early in the morning of April 4 and "saw through the window what occurred." The author did not say whether he witnessed what occurred between Beck and Mrs. Day before Mr. Day returned home or what took place after the return of Day.

SMUGGLE DRUGS FOR JAIL INMATE IN SANDWICHES

"Drugs enough to cause a howling riot in the jail"—the words of Warden Wesley Westbrook—were discovered yesterday by Jail Guard William Wagner in seven sandwiches which had been sent in for William Gillard, a prisoner in cell 176.

Wagner, who works in the "Bundle cage," where all food and clothing sent in to prisoners is inspected, opened the sandwiches to find mingled with the ham and butter nearly 100 pills of cocaine and a paper containing cocaine in powder form.

Futile Effort at Kidnaping Bares Discord

Mrs. Ruth Shaffner Mayer, daughter of Charles Shaffner, president of the Malt Maid company, formerly the Manhattan Brewery company, has left her husband, E. Millard Mayer of Cincinnati, and has taken refuge with her brother, Philip H. Shaffner, 5426 Harper avenue. This was disclosed last evening, following an attempt by Mayer and two companions to kidnap his three children from the Shaffner home.

Last night this twenty-six years old mother of three was locked in the house and surrounded by private detectives, afraid to let the children even be seen at the windows. Through her attorney, Leo F. Wormser, of the firm of Rosenthal, Hamill and Wormser, she issued a defiance to her husband and made charges of "brutal and inhuman treatment" against him. She left him two months ago and has been expecting some move of this kind for days.

Mayer Comes to City.

Mayer, who is a truck manufacturer at Newport, Ky., and who attained notoriety two years ago in connection with the leaks in the United States Supreme court decision in the Southern Pacific case, as a result of which he is under indictment and will have to stand trial soon in Washington, left Cincinnati Tuesday night with a man and woman companions.

Early yesterday morning the trio appeared in an automobile in front of the Shaffner home, where Mrs. Shaffner, a nurse, and the three children were secluded. The first intimation of the visit came in a telephone call from a stranger, who said he had been sent to repair the roof and wanted to make sure that he could get into the house. At this the doors were double locked and Mrs. Shaffner telephoned to her attorney.

Husband Demands Children.

Later in the day Mayer came to the front door and pounded to stir the silence within. He demanded admittance and the children. But guards had arrived by this time and Mrs. Shaffner had no more fear. She had also telephoned to the Hyde Park police and requested protection. When the police arrived Shaffner and his party drove away. What his next move will be is a mystery, but it may take a turn toward the courts. Mrs. Shaffner has not yet begun suit against her husband.

This statement last night was given by Attorney Wormser:

"This attempt to wrest the children from Mrs. Mayer is made only to terrorize her, but she will stand her ground. On account of her husband's brutal and inhuman treatment Mrs. Mayer had to flee from Cincinnati and seek shelter here in her family home. We will continue to guard the house. Mrs. Mayer will retain custody of her little ones and, if necessary, invoke the aid of the courts for their protection. The plot of attacking defenseless children failed in the war raids; it will not rout Mrs. Mayer in this contest."

The children are a girl of 2, a boy of 4, and another boy, 6 years old.

Married Seven Years.

The Mayers were married seven years ago in Chicago. Mayer is 35 years old and is well known here. His indictment in Washington is on the charge of being in a conspiracy to defraud the government. There are three other defendants, including Ashton R. Embry, former clerk in the office of Justice McKenna, and Barnett W. Moses, a Washington lawyer. It is said the advance information on the decisions was used in the stock market.

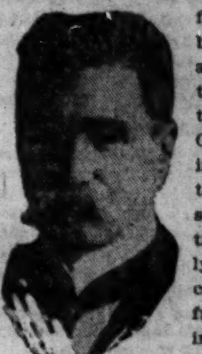
NEUTRALS AND RUSSIANS DEFY ALLIED POWERS

Demand Germans Stay at Genoa.

BY GEORGE SELDES AND HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]



HJALMAR BRANTING.

GENOA, April 19.—Russia and the premiers of six neutral states opened fire today on the big allied powers and the little entente for their attempt to punish Germany for signing an economic treaty with the soviets. The neutrals declared flatly that Germany cannot be barred from participation in the discussions of Russian affairs by the various committees of the Genoa conference unless such punishment is meted out by a vote of the full conference.

The Russian delegates insisted Germany must sit in all conferences, because there are many questions still at issue between Russia and Germany which must be settled if there is to be a satisfactory readjustment of Europe's affairs.

Seek Basis of Compromise.

GIUSEPPE MOTTA.
[Copyright: U. & U.]

While Great Britain and France continued to demand that Germany must renounce the treaty with Russia, there was a strong undercurrent of feeling here that the whole matter might be compromised by a general agreement in which the main elements of the Russo-German treaty would figure.

Norway, Sweden and Denmark, with Holland, Switzerland and Spain, already have lined up solidly in favor of fighting the allies' ultimatum to Germany. Premiers Motta of Switzerland and Branting of Sweden called on the Italian secretariat and asked for a further explanation of the discipinarian action against Germany.

Judging by the Italian attitude when the expulsion decree was under discussion by the big and little ententes, it is believed that Premier Facta would support any move for a milder form of punishment, such as a simple diplomatic note of censure.

Wirth Meets Lloyd George.

The neutral delegates are expected to press the issue, not because they love Germany, but in order to smash the allies' grip on the conference and because of their displeasure at the little entente being included with the powers which drew up and sent the expulsion note to Germany.

Chancellor Wirth and Dr. Rathenau called on Mr. Lloyd George at his villa at noon today. The British prime minister offered the Germans a choice between two alternatives—a withdrawal of the Russo-German treaty or the withdrawal of the Germans from the committee dealing with Russian affairs.

"We do not want to humiliate or penalize Germany," Mr. Lloyd George told the Germans, "but if Germany insists upon concluding a separate treaty she cannot expect the other powers to let her come in and interfere when they are negotiating with the soviets."

Situation Eases Up.

The German headquarters here awoke this morning with the prospect of writing a sharp note in reply to the allied protest against the signing of the Russo-German treaty.

While the reply was being drafted the meeting between Chancellor Wirth, Foreign Minister Rathenau, and Prime Minister Lloyd George, as well as conferences with M. Tchitcherin and Krassin of Russia, were suddenly initiated. These, plus Dr. Rathenau's request to meet M. Barthou of France, helped to ease the situation and take considerable of the sting out of it. However, the Germans late tonight had not agreed upon an answer to the allies' note.

Germans Become Worried.

The treaty has caused considerable trouble in the ranks of the German delegation. One section, which was enthusiastic over the treaty and which declared "we are going home with something tangible to show the country," seeing the unfavorable impression created in the entente countries, is now beginning to wonder whether Russia has not played Germany a grand trick whereby Russia strengthened its position greatly and Germany got all the blame.

Others of the delegation say they would rather go home than give up the treaty.

The delegation is eagerly awaiting the reaction in Berlin inasmuch as the German government as now constituted finds it impossible to forget party politics.

Russia Takes Up Cudgels.

MM. Litvinoff and Rakowsky of the Russian delegation took up cudgels against the allies. "The entente note of protest is an error both in form and in contents," M. Rakowsky said tonight. "It punished a nation which gave us moral support here. Russia will take no action, although the note creates a special situation for Russia.

"The note was wrong because the conference as constituted cannot decide whether this or that country may be excluded. A plenary session alone can do so. Moreover, the treaty does not interfere, because the main question of the conference, discussion of Russia's paying for nationalized property, remains provisional, Germany obtaining the right to reimbursement if the others here do. Russia objects to Germany's exclusion because there are many questions still unsettled between us which we want Germany to discuss."

Soviets to Answer Allies.

The Russian headquarters today concluded the answer to the London memorandum which caused the first big break and directly led to the Russo-German treaty. M. Tchitcherin called the allied demands "an impassable barrier" in an interview.

It was officially announced that the Russians' answer is a note of many pages.

The note, which considers all the Russian questions, begins by analyzing the London memorandum and discusses the Cannes conditions. It contains the Russian counter propositions, gives their views for a loan to Russia, asks for de jure recognition by all the nations participating, outlines Russia's part in the reconstruction of Europe, and details the protective legislation already in force in Russia.

Stirs Baltic States.

RIGA, April 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—News of the Russo-German treaty has caused a sensation in the Baltic states, which form a bridge between the two powers, the diplomats not having any inkling that an agreement was likely to be concluded at this time. The Baltic states are vastly interested owing to their geographical position and the fact that the government owned railroads traversing the different countries form the only connecting link between Germany and Russia.

A commission of Germans from Berlin and a soviet commission from Moscow are already on the way to the Baltic states to confer with Lithuanian, Letvian, and Esthonian representatives regarding transportation arrangements, which the Germans and Russians hope will soon permit a through service from Russia to East Prussia via these countries.

Hears of Military Agreement.

LONDON, April 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—Allan Clement Edwards, Liberal member of the house of commons, who has just returned from a tour of investigation in western Prussia, said today he was informed last Friday by representative Germans that a compact had been concluded between Prussian authorities in Berlin and soviet representatives of a dual nature, which in addition to a commercial agreement included a secret military arrangement.

MORGAN AGREES TO AID ALLIES ON GERMAN LOAN

GENOA, April 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—Former Premier Delacroix of France announced tonight that J. Pierpont Morgan had accepted the invitation to be one of four bankers who will meet in Europe to study the question of arranging an international loan for Germany.

The object of the loan will be to help the reconstruction of Germany, to improve her exchange, and to assist her in paying war reparations.

The American Federal Reserve bank will be asked to participate in the financial conference to be called shortly by the European banks of issue for the purpose of discussing plans for the regulation of currency, Sir Robert Horne, British chancellor of the exchequer, said today. He expressed his belief that the American bank would consent to take part.

RUSSIAN TREATY MAKES GENOA END FINANCE DREAM

Keynes Says It Curbs Impossible Claims.

BY JOHN MAYNARD KEYNES.

[Special Cable.]

GENOA, April 19.—There is a tendency in some quarters to be unduly upset by Russia and Germany reaching an amicable agreement between themselves.

First, as regards the substance. A mutual agreement to wipe out claims arising from the war does no one else any harm. De jure recognition of Russia and the resumption of normal trading relations are beneficial.

The important section is clause 11, in which Germany waives claims for compensation in respect of injury done by bolshevik legislation to private interests, with the proviso that this waiver is withdrawn if Russia grants compensation to any other powers. It is not clear whether this clause covers the pre-war state debts. The Germans maintain it does not, in which case the French position about this is not prejudiced. But, in any case, it makes it decidedly more difficult to get a satisfactory settlement on the private claims, to which the British delegation attaches primary importance.

Method Open to Criticism.

Second, as regards the method. This is open to serious criticism. Dr. Rathenau should have communicated the agreement to Mr. Lloyd George before signing it.

Excuses offered in German circles for his failure to do so are that he tried unsuccessfully to see Mr. Lloyd George beforehand, that the agreement was really negotiated in Berlin three weeks ago, when the British government was generally informed, and that private negotiations between Mr. Lloyd George and Foreign Minister Tchitcherin made him anxious lest something might be settled behind his back which, if he waited too long, would prejudice his own agreement.

But all this does not justify their actually signing the document here at Genoa without any prior notification to any other member of the conference. The official note informing the Germans that presumably they do not wish to take further part in this particular section of the Genoa proceedings is a moderate and reasonable reminder.

Condemns "Back Stage" Stuff.

Mr. Lloyd George's characteristic methods certainly have been seen to great disadvantage. After setting up a political subcommission on which Russia, Germany, and the neutrals were represented as well as the allies he immediately adjourned this body and spent several days giving small parties at his villa to members of the old supreme council, which we thought we had got rid of, with the Russians called in from time to time in a suppliant capacity, the plan being to fix something up behind the scenes which the Germans and neutrals could then be summoned to ratify.

Mr. Lloyd George, assuming the prime ministership of Europe, tried to treat the assembled statesmen as he treats his own cabinet, and to play an old game over again with Georges Tchitcherin in the rôle of Michael Collins and the French as the Ulster diehards.

Not round table discussion, but seduction, was the order of the day, and Europe was to be saved by the fascinations of the lady from Wales.

Russians Score Again.

But he should have remembered that M. Tchitcherin is one of the most brilliant diplomatists in Europe, and by no means in the position of a vanquished suppliant, and that the Germans, left out of the game, might not be content to kick their heels in their hotel until he chose to send for them.

The Germans do not seem to have expected or have intended that their action would have made such a sensation, and are a little flustered at the consequences. Probably M. Tchitcherin saw more clearly than Dr. Rathenau the sort of impression it would create. It is he once again who scores.

The Germans have undoubtedly done themselves harm and rearoused suspicions They have received the allied note of condemnation quietly, the signature of which by the inviting powers and the little entente without the neutrals has excited some comment. It is rumored they will put themselves in order and close the incident by offering to submit the agreement for approval by the conference as a whole.

Nevertheless, the incident may do good if it brings the conference back to a sense of realities. If the allies persist much longer in confining our conversations, both with Germany and with Russia, to the subject of the vast number of millards which each of them owes, we cannot expect them to refrain from talking more sensibly between themselves.

The conference was suddenly made aware of the immense latent possibilities, which no statesman should have ever forgotten, of our driving Germany and Russia into each others arms.

The agreement has also served to wake it up to the preposterous character of the proposals of our own experts. Having got Russia here, we tell her she must agree to owe us 1,500,000,000 pounds sterling ($6,600,000,000) or more, with a hint that the figures may be reduced by bargaining, to about 1,000,000,000 pounds ($4,400,000,000). And that apparently is all.

Not Dealing with Helpless Foe.

Why should M. Tchitcherin accept this liability without any tangible inducement on the other side? And if he did, what would happen to him when he got home?

Because they concede only half of the more extravagant demands of the French, the British and Italian delegations persuade themselves that the result is reasonable, just as at Versailles, having reduced the French demand from ten times what Germany could pay to four times what she could pay, they thought Germany very ungrateful to grumble.

But this time they are not dealing with a helpless and vanquished power. And they must remember that though in Paris it was safe to concentrate on settling with France and to forget Germany, in Genoa it is impossible to forget Russia.

Armenia Reminds U. S. It Once Was Recognized

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, April 19.—The publication in Paris today of an American cable stating that America still is not recognizing the republics of Georgia, Azerbeidjan, and Armenia called forth a communique today from the Armenian delegation recalling the fact that Washington gave de facto recognition to Armenia in January in 1920 when the state was free. The status of the nation is complicated now because Armenia at present is one of the federated republics of soviet Russia.

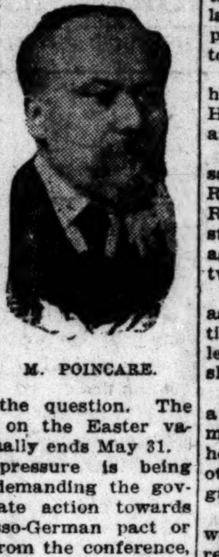
POINCARE PUT TO SEVERE TEST BY RUSS TREATY

Demands for Annulment of Pact Grow.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]



M. POINCARE.

PARIS, April 19.—Premier Poincare's right to the title "France's Strong Man" is being put to test by the press and politicians who are demanding action from him on the Genoa developments. The number of interpellations of the government are growing daily and units of the extreme right wing are even demanding that President Millerand convoke parliament, when the very life of the present administration may be brought into the question. The deputies are now on the Easter vacation, which normally ends May 31.

While strong pressure is being brought to bear, demanding the government's immediate action towards annulling the Russo-German pact or else withdrawing from the conference, the more conservative elements realize that France is not able to run the danger of isolating itself at Genoa where the Russians and Germans undoubtedly are making great efforts to strengthen their combination from the ranks of the neutrals and members of the little entente.

"A Preparation for War."

"The treaty is really a preparation for war," the semi-official Temps says in an editorial today.

The military potentialities of the Russo-German combination are considered more dangerous to France than the combination of Germany and Austria which it faced in 1914.

The French look upon the British foreign office calmness as a superficial front, making the best face of a bad situation, but certain Anglophobe circles in the French capital express a firm belief that Prime Minister Lloyd George had advance knowledge of the pact and even intimate that plans might be on foot for forming a new entente cordiale, in which England and Russia would remain, but in which France would be replaced by Germany. Such a combination of British finance, German industry, and Russian material and labor is considered far fetched.

Sees Absorption of Poland.

Poland will face complete absorption, according to French opinion, which holds that the buffer state between Germany and Russia will be economically crushed by the close cooperation of the Teutons and Muscovites. The countries of the little entente, which also would participate in the advantages of Russian trade, would be seriously affected through their inability to compete with German exports.

Italian Nationalists Fear War.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

ROME, April 19.—The Russo-German agreement continues to be the all absorbing subject of conversation in political and diplomatic circles here. The nationalists see in the pact preparation for a great alliance between the Russians and Germans, and possibly all the Islam world, and a huge war in the future between those nations and the present allies. The majority of newspapers advise the people to be calm and have faith in the ability of the allied statesmen to meet the situation and surmount all difficulties.

Dentists Propose Free Clinics in Public Schools

Plans to establish free dental clinics in the county hospital and in public schools of the city were discussed at a meeting of the Chicago Dental society, held in the Northwestern building last night. Officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, Dr. Harry B. Pinney; vice president, Dr. Charles P. Baker, secretary.

PLOT IS SEEN IN EASY WAY THIEF DODGES THE JAIL

'Out Again' Cohen Is Twice Freed in 2 Days.

A crook with a criminal record twice arrested in Chicago within forty-eight hours after being caught in the act of thievery and twice released on bonds that he might continue his trade aroused police anger last night. "Out Again" Cohen's story demonstrates how a crook can successfully tie the hands of the chief of police and the city's law enforcers and leave himself free to plunder.

Loots Safe of $60,000.

Last Saturday Cohen walked into the Plows' candy store, 118 South Michigan avenue, and sat down at a table near the store safe. A moment later he walked to the safe, extracted papers valued at $60,000, and started to walk out.

Miss Nellie Cronin, the manager, held him. He was in court Tuesday. His case was continued until May 5 and he was released on bonds.

Yesterday morning Cohen, with a satchel full of twine balls, entered the Russell studio on the top floor of the Republic building, State and Adams streets. Cohen asked for the manager, T. J. McKearnan. He was a twine salesman, he said.

Miss Laura Wilson, the cashier, asked him to be seated in the reception room. The safe was there. She left the room for a few minutes; when she came back Cohen was gone.

An hour later she discovered that a cash box containing $140 was also missing. She called Mr. McKearnan; he notified the police and then called other photographers to put them on guard.

Fifteen minutes after this Cohen walked into the Sykes studio. They recognized him there and held him in conversation until Mr. McKearnan and Miss Wilson arrived. They identified Cohen, who denied ever seeing them before.

Traffic Policemen Voight and Johnson were called from State and Madison streets; Cohen was arrested.

An hour later a phone call came to the commanding officer of the station.

"This is the clerk of Judge Scanlan's court—have you got a Sammy Cohen down there?" was the query.

"We have," was the reply.

"Is he booked?"

"He is not."

"There's some parites here for a writ of habeas corpus. Will you book him by 8 o'clock tonight?" the voice went on.

Booked, Then Freed.

The officer thought about it.

"He'll be booked," he said, and hung up the receiver disgustedly.

Promptly at 8 o'clock three men appeared at the station. They had a bond signed by J. Frank Condon, who isn't listed in the telephone book, and approved by Municipal Judge John Richardson. Cohen was out again; he laughed as he was leaving.

Last night detectives were called to the Hotel La Salle to look over a suspicious person loitering there. It was Cohen. He was locked up again.

In a cell last night he boasted: "Get out tomorrow? I'll say I will—getting out is easy. Just have a smart lawyer and a little 'dough' and work it right—that's all."

A Clear Complexion

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 30c.

GIRL EXPLAINS MIDAS TOUCH OF BANKER PEACOCK

Bares Wizardry That Got a Million.

Miss Clara Rahn, confidential secretary to Everette R. Peacock, "champion borrower," yesterday told state investigators how her employer had agreed with bankers and big officials to borrow funds variously estimated at more than a million dollars from Chicago banks.

Answering questions as coolly as if she were merely taking dictation, she told how Peacock, two other members of the Everette R. Peacock Seed company, and a bank official had conferred in her presence on ways and means of obtaining funds from the Milwaukee-Irving State bank and other banks on worthless checks and securities.

Checks Kited for $400,000.

She set the amount obtained from the Milwaukee bank by the simple expedient of "kiting checks" at something like $400,000. As to the amounts obtained from other banks she was not so sure. All she knew was that her employer and his associates had used every method they could think of in their effort to get money. She admitted that she herself had signed fictitious names to checks in order they might be cashed, justifying her act to her own conscience by declaring it was for the good of the firm.

Peacock and his associates, according to her account, had borrowed money on securities which had no definite market value, "kited" checks, organized companies so that the stocks and bonds could be used for borrowing funds, used personal notes as security, and had connived with bank officials to obtain money from an empty bank account.

Get More Statements.

Miss Rahn's confession came as a climax to a day of rapid developments in which the state investigators obtained statements from five persons, boosted the number of banks in which Peacock is said to have had borrowing accounts up to seventeen, and obtained the names of two new institutions which the fingers of Peacock had touched not too lightly.

The statements were obtained from Albert Sporleder, who was president of the Milwaukee-Irving State bank in the days when Peacock was "kiting checks" in the institution; Albert Gascon, secretary-treasurer of the Everette R. Peacock Seed company, a $500,000 company of which Peacock was president; Mrs. Everette R. Peacock, and John Nissen, former bookkeeper of the Milwaukee-Irving bank.

Two Make Confessions.

Of these, Sporleder and Gascon made confessions telling how they had operated in aiding Peacock to borrow money from the Milwaukee-Irving bank. Sporleder accused Peacock, declaring that he was the guilding genius of the band.

Gascon told how he made up a statement of the overdraft at the Milwaukee-Irving State bank every morning for Mr. Peacock so that his employer could make out checks and take them to the bank in lieu of cash. He said the usual method followed by Mr. Peacock was to write a check against the Milwaukee bank, obtain cashier's checks on this and then cash them on other banking institutions.

Assistant State's Attorney Jonas had planned to have all the evidence in the case taken before the grand jury today, but because of the new developments yesterday he said that he did not believe he would present the case before tomorrow.

He said he would recommend four indictments.

GIRL TELLS STORY

The name of Miss Rahn was first mentioned in the state's attorney's office by Sporleder. He told Attorney Jonas during the course of his confession that Peacock had an attractive young lady confidential secretary.

"She's a peach of a looker," said Sporleder, "and she was well liked. She knows all about Peacock's financial affairs and she may have knowledge of what he did with money obtained from the banks."

Miss Rahn was immediately called over the telephone and asked to come to the Criminal court building. Arriving shortly after 4 o'clock she made good on the description given by Sporleder. She was smartly dressed, looking modish in a plain tailored suit of dark blue whipcord and a hat of blue shot with henna colored silk.

Given Long Vacation.

"I've been told to tell the truth and nothing but the truth," she said on entering the office of Attorney Jonas. In the next few moments she told how she had worked so hard for Mr. Peacock that he had sent her to Mount Clemens, Mich., for two months last summer with all expenses paid, so that she might recover her health. She often worked late at night, she said. Peacock had a private office in his own residence, and it was there that much of the evening work was done.

"When did you see Mr. Peacock last," Mr. Jonas asked after her relations with the firm had been discussed.

"I spent the night at his home with his wife," she answered. "We talked over his financial affairs."

Q.—How long have you worked for him? A.—Seven years, but it's only in the last year and a half that he has been in financial troubles.

Q.—Do you know how much money the seed company made last year? A.—The figures up to July, 1921, show a net profit of $51,000.

Got $380,000, She Says.

Q.—How much did Mr. Peacock obtain from the Milwaukee-Irving State bank? A.—About $280,000 on the company's account and something like $100,000 on his own account.

Q.—What did you know about his dealings with the Milwaukee bank? A.—Everything, I guess. They talked the whole thing over in my presence. I was often asked to help them.

Q.—In what way? A.—On several occasions I was asked to sign fictitious names to checks so they would be honored at banks.

Q.—Didn't you know that was wrong? A.—Yes, but they told me it was all right—that Mr. Peacock would make it all right later. Anyway, I was willing to do what I could to keep the company on its feet.

Q.—What was said at these meetings? A.—They merely discussed the policy they would adopt in treating with certain institutions. Sometimes they spoke of concerns which they intended to use in making loans.

Names New Companies.

Q.—Do you remember the names of any of these? A.—There was the Finance Organization for one and Standard Laboratories for another.

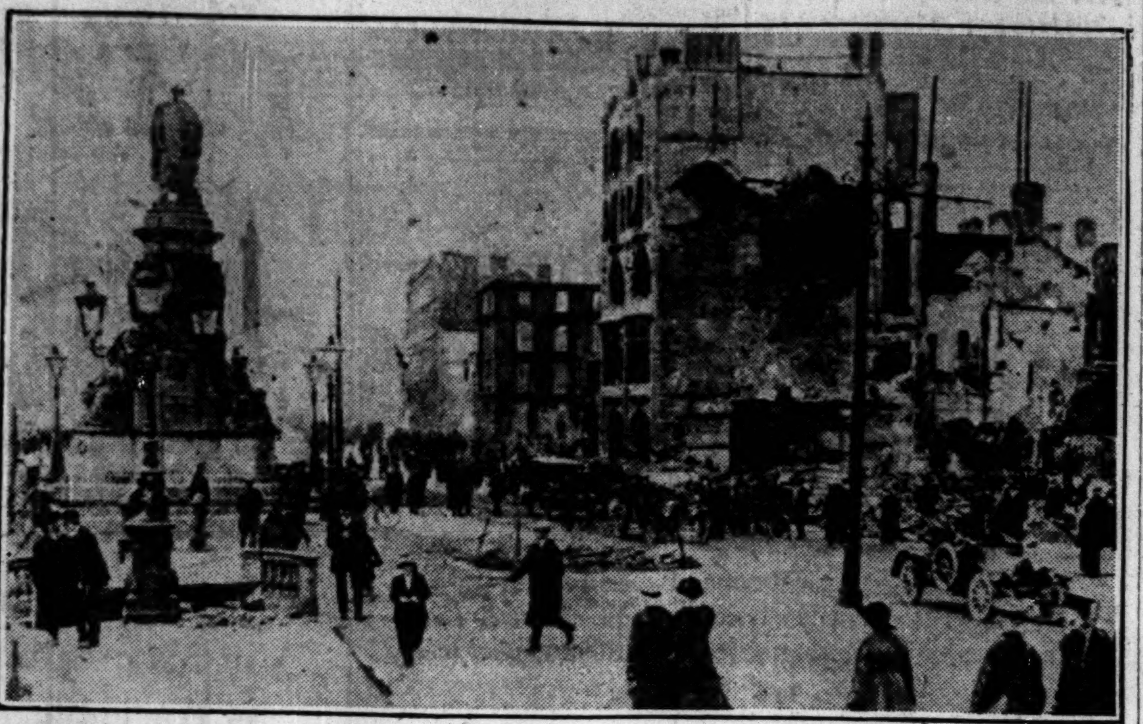
Q.—How were these concerns used? A.—It was planned to have them make loans from outside banks—that is, banks in other cties by "kiting" checks. But they never were able to make a go of it.

Q.—Did you ever make loans for the company? A.—Yes, I borrowed $2,000 from two banks on ten shares of the Oshkosh Seed company, stock and a couple of Liberty bonds. The banks were the Amiel State bank and the Milwauke-Irving State bank.

THIRTY STILLS SEIZED IN RAID.

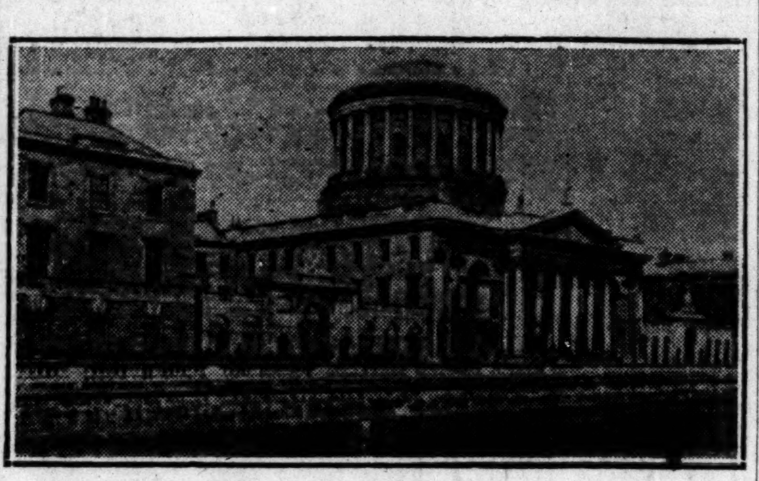
Federal prohibition agents raided the Home Manufacturing company, 2650 North Halsted street, late yesterday and seized thirty stills and a large quantity of illicit liquors.

THE NEW BATTLE OF DUBLIN



According to dispatches, the battle which is raging in Dublin between provisional government troops and radical republicans covers much of the heart of the city. The above photograph shows Sackville street, the principal thoroughfare, along which vast ruin was spread during the Easter rebellion of 1916. The post-office is on the left, beyond the O'Connell statue in the foreground.

The map shows the heart of Dublin, where the battle is raging. Collins' troops are known to hold the quays on both sides of O'Connell bridge, across the river Liffey, and heavy firing is reported in that vicinity and along Sackville street.



The Four Courts building, where for years the British dispensed their brand of justice and where the new Irish courts expected to open soon, has been fortified by the radical republican troops commanded by Roderick O'Connor, a follower of Eamon de Valera.

Volunteer entertainment was so plentiful at the Auditorium last evening that the "T. R. Follies," staged for the benefit of disabled and needy ex-service men, ran far past its 11 o'clock deadline.

Jimmy Duffy and his "Horrors of 1922" moved over from the "Ziegfeld Frolic," scenery and all, to provide the peak of the program—a complete travesty on the revues of the moment, introduced by Duffey's butlers, "Lea and Perrins, two very saucy little boys," and participated in by various hapless damsels of the sort who, according to Duffy, "try to find Lincoln's Gettysburg address in the directory."

The rest was more serious, though sprightly, comprising many vaudeville acts from various theaters—songs, dances, and acrobatic exercises—and concluding with a complete tabloid production called the "Harris Revue."

The "Follies" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night.

BATTLE RAGES IN HEART OF IRISH CAPITAL

'Rebels' Believed to Have Made Attack.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]
[Copyright: 1922.]

DUBLIN, April 20.—(Thursday morning.)—A terrific outbreak of rifle and revolver fire occurred in the center of Dublin at midnight, lasting over half an hour. The firing took place from both sides of the quay ruins of the old general post-office in Parnell square, and also around Four Courts and King's Inn. It is believed to be an attack on the official Irish Republican army posts. Firing was resumed at 12:40.

BELFAST, April 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—One man and two women were killed and many others are reported wounded, including two children, in rioting in East Belfast this evening. Houses in Altcar street were set on fire during the disorders.

A bomb was thrown in Ballymacarret, an eastern suburb of Belfast, wounding a woman.

The rioting was the result of feeling aroused over the shooting this morning in which John Scott, a youth, was killed and William Johnston fatally wounded.

There had been an air of unrest about the district all day, and when night came serious rioting broke out in Altcar street and also in Marine and York streets. The firing was most intense in Altcar street, which was near the scene of the Scott tragedy. Many cases of persons wounded were reported early in the evening. An armored car and two cage cars with military and police patrols vainly tried to restore order.

Goes on Hunger Strike.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

DUBLIN, April 19.—Sergt. Murray, who was arrested for shooting at Michael Collins last Sunday night, has been on a hunger strike since Monday in Mountjoy jail. Murray stated that Mr. Collins threatened to blow his brains out and also asserts that the Collins party fired first.

Rory O'Connor, commander of the Dublin rebels, made a statement today denying several reports about his operations which were recently issued from official headquarters at Beggar's Bush barracks. He alleges that money is being spent freely to buy over people who support the republic.

The irregulars occupying the Four Courts building today played the piano for several hours, while a crowd on the outside joined in singing popular and patriotic airs. It is believed tonight that the judges will sit in a temporary court in the Green street court house tomorrow. It is clear that the provisional government does not intend to use force in dislodging the O'Connorites.

Mother Asks Wayward Son Be Found and Sent to Her

Chicago police were asked to search for Henry Winsauer Jr., 19, of Peoria, in a letter received yesterday from his mother, Mrs. Helen Winsauer. According to the letter, Winsauer had fled from Peoria to escape prosecution for passing bogus checks. His mother says she fears he may have taken to gambling and she wants him returned to Peoria.

OWNERS OF I. C. STOCK APPROVE ELECTRIFICATION

Early Start on Huge Project Assured.

Approval yesterday by Illinois Central railroad stockholders of the financing of the electrification scheme by issuance of $50,000,000 in preferred stock is said by officials of the Chicago plan commission to expedite the project of lake shore development and creation of a lake front park unequaled anywhere in the world for beauty, recreation or facility.

The vote was 810,947 shares for and 370 shares against. The road had already entered into a contract with the city and the south park board under which the railroad, in return for electrification, was given title to land needed for expansion but forfeits riparian rights beyond the present shore line.

Engineers Begin Work.

Engineers and railroad officials who have studied electric railroads in Europe will begin as soon as possible to work out the most feasible plan of electric operation, according to President Charles H. Markham. Elimination of the smoke, cinders and gases which now begrime the city and destroy plant life in Grant park, will permit the park officials to get under way with the big plan.

This provides for the filling in of five miles of submerged land from Grant park to Jackson park providing 1,138 acres of new parks, consisting of an inner and an outer park. The center park will extend the full five miles and will vary in width from 800 to 2,500 feet. Between that and the shore park will be a watercourse five miles long and six hundred feet wide.

This protected waterway will afford opportunity for regattas, rowing, boating, swimming and skating. It will be fresh water, connecting at both ends with the lake, making the outer park an island.

Plan for Huge Harbor.

A big modern harbor will extend from Grand avenue to Roosevelt road, bounded on the south by a recreation pier similar to the Municipal pier and nine bathing beaches strung out along to the south. Provisions will be made for eight cross town car lines to reach the park and beaches via subway.

CITY'S RIGHT TO LICENSE CAFES DENIED BY COURT

With three justices dissenting, the State Supreme court yesterday decided that the city is without power to license restaurants.

The decision sustained the injunction under which the police are enjoined from closing the Colosimo restaurant. The place was closed on orders of Mayor Thompson, who revoked its license in the fall political campaign of 1920.

Owners of the restaurant, following the murder of "Big Jim" Colosimo, took the case to court, alleging the city was without power to license, and therefore was without power to close, restaurants.

An ordinance requiring "coffee houses and ordinaries" to take out licenses is still in effect, however, and the city has collected thousands of dollars in license fees from what are commonly called restaurants, under this ordinance.

MRS. WILKERSON IS GIVEN DIVORCE, BUT NO ALIMONY

Visits to Virginia Belle's Told in Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., April 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. Susie Kyle Wilkerson, who admitted attending sprightly entertainments in Chicago with several married men, was granted a divorce today from Henry Lynn Wilkerson, Wealthy Memphis business man, but lost out in her demands for alimony.

Mrs. Wilkerson is the daughter of Mrs. Susie White, 5358 Winthrop avenue, Chicago. She was allowed custody six months of the year of Billy, the 6 year old son.

Husband Pays Attorneys.

A lump sum of $25,000 alimony was at first sought by Mrs. Wilkerson's attorneys. Wilkerson's counsel refused to agree to a cent. As a result, a compromise was reached, whereby Chancellor I. H. Peres will fix tomorrow the sum the husband will pay for his wife's counsel fees.

Capt. Morgan Collins of the Chicago police testified as to the reputation of Virginia Belle's dance studio, where Mrs. Wilkerson admitted she had gone on several occasions.

Maids Tell of Teas.

Maids from several Chicago hotels were called to testify regarding teas attended by Mrs. Wilkerson and Ford Rodman Carter of Lake Forest, Ill. There were also handwriting experts, hotel registers, and hotel managers.

Arthur Harland, who is Mrs. Wilkerson's brother-in-law, and Walter Hildebrand, a manufacturer of laces, who lives in the apartment next to Mrs. Wilkerson's mother's, testified today of the good character enjoyed by the dance studio up to the time it was closed by Capt. Collins.

Mrs. Wilkerson produced witnesses in order to prove constructive cruelty. Wilkerson denied the allegations.

Arrest 6 Striking Miners Mistaken for Holdup Men

Six striking miners from Thayer, Ill., were taken into custody yesterday at Stillson's restaurant when the manager of the restaurant mistook them for holdup men. The men are John Bednarchick, 24; Paul Enrietta, 21; John Sohook, 19; Ernest Denwoody, 20; John Schick, 22; and Joseph Skobo, 23. They were held for questioning.

HARVESTER CO. SENDS EXPERTS TO RUSS PLANTS

Extension of Factories Is Planned.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

RIGA, April 19.—Without awaiting the outcome of the Genoa conference, the International Harvester company is sending additional employés for its staff in Russia. Six officials, two with their wives, who have just arrived at Riga, will leave for Moscow tomorrow.

The members of the party speak a total of eleven languages. They include: Hans Emch, a Swiss and formerly superintendent of production; Mrs. Emch, who was Miss Anna Woodward of Chicago; John Devine, an American from Chicago, as purchasing agent; Gustav Thorsell, Swedish, superindent of the foundry; Christian Rasmussen, Danish, master mechanic; Joseph Gardner, English, a purchasing agent, and Joseph Cooymans, a Hollander, secretary, and his wife, a Belgian. Mr. and Mrs. Cooymans were recently married.

Factories Kept in Operation.

The Harvester officials left Russia in 1920 and they assume that their return is on the soviets' invitation. They hope to increase production in the International Harvester company's two factories which produced 50,000 machines annually before the revolution and employed 3,000 persons. The Harvester company's factories, which were the only one the soviets did not nationalize, have produced machinery continuously under the management of Nicholas Kruming, a German who has never left his post.

With the departure for Moscow of these International Harvester company men, Chicago leads the foreign sales representatives going to Russia. The General Motors company, the Moline Plow company, the John Deere Plow company, the Case company, and the Ford company have agents on the way to Riga.

JUST "REINFORCEMENTS."

"The group of men now at Riga and bound for Moscow represent reinforcements for the Russian plants whose activities have been uninterrupted during the revolution," said George A. Ranney, secretary and treasurer of the International Harvester company, last night.

"They are sent as the result of a survey made of conditions at the Russian plant by officials from our Brussels office last October, in which a need for technical men was shown, and it is also planned to relieve some of the men who have spent several strenuous years in Russia without rest. A program of rebuilding and extension has been contemplated for some time in Russia, and the arrival of this party will hasten these plans to completion."

"This move has been under consideration for many months and is not affected by any phase of the political situation abroad. The sole purpose of the party is to increase the efficency and capacity of the Russian plants."

MRS. DUNHAM GETS DIVORCE, $20,000 ANNUITY

Mrs. Ethel L. Dunham was granted a divorce yesterday from Robert J. Dunham, former vice president of Armour & Co., on the grounds of desertion. Mr. Dunham now has charge of the personal investments of J. Ogden Armour. Besides looking after Mr. Armour's affairs he is interested in the street railway companies of Kansas City, Omaha, Des Moines, and several other western cities.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Dunham was in court when the decree was signed. Mrs. Dunham's deposition sets forth that they were married Dec. 6, 1899, and lived together until Jan. 10, 1920. A settlement has been arranged out of court by which a trust agreement has been executed to guarantee Mrs. Dunham an annuity said to amount to $20,000. The Dunhams have four children, the youngest 13.

RAILWAY LABOR BOARD CENSURES AN EASTERN ROAD

Public censure—the most drastic sentence the United States railroad labor board can impose—was yesterday chalked against the Interstate railway, a Virginia line.

The Interstate railroad case establishes a precedent. It was alleged the carrier had discharged certain employés because they had complied with a request of the labor board for specified information.

Upon the effect of yesterday's action probably will depend the significance of other decisions issued by the labor board.

To Make Your Garden Grow
Gladioli are a delight. Put some in as soon as the ground can be worked, with successive plantings every two weeks until July 4. Hardy annuals may be seeded now for transplanting later. Sow poppy and smaller plants where they are to grow. Set out clumps of lily-of-the-valley, golden glow and other hardy plants. Start vines to cover back porches and fences, such as scarlet runner, cinnamon, hop, morning glory and madeira.
Sow beets thickly now; thin out large roots as they grow, to make room for the late comers. Smooth variety early peas may go in as soon as the ground can be worked. Sow a row of Swiss Chard this year and have good greens for the whole family all summer. Watch seedlings started indoors. Thin out the weak and sickly.
We have a choice lot of blooming shrubs and berry bushes ready now. The roses are unusually hardy and fine.

COLD WAVE ADDS TO DISTRESS OF FLOODED STATES

Illinois Rivers Overflowing in New Districts.

By way of variation after a series of heavy rainstorms and cyclones, a cold gale swooped over the central west Wednesday, accompanied by snow.

The weather change did not keep flooded Illinois rivers from continuing on a rampage, however, and additional levees broke. At Meredosia 7,000 additional acres of wheat lands and fifty homes were under several feet of water.

A supply of cots, tents, blankets, and stoves was dispatched to the flood area in southern Illinois by Col. Charles F. Willard, acting under instructions from the war department at Washington. The supplies will be distributed under the supervision of the Red Cross.

Beardstown Nearly Isolated.

Beardstown, Ill., April 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gradual isolation of Beardstown was carried a step farther this morning, when it was announced that all telephone communication with the farm communities of Schuyler and Brown counties had been cut off. Rail communication with these counties and the country west and north stopped two days ago.

Twenty coast guards and eight boats arrived today and started patrolling the submerged drainage lands.

Child Killed in Iowa.

Clinton, Ia., April 19.—[United Press.]—Maxine Fife, 6, was killed here today when the central portion of Irving public school collapsed after the wind had blown a sixty foot chimney onto the roof. Marion Hill, 7, was slightly injured.

With Commanche, below here, reporting railway tracks under water, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy has suspended service. Thousands of acres are under water between the two towns, part of the levee going out.

Iowa Towns Alarmed.

Muscatine, Ia., April 19.—A northwest wind which lashed the Mississippi river into a fury today threatened for the first time levees protecting vast areas opposite the city. In the business area, gasoline pumps are drawing seepage water from many stores and office building basements.

Construction of a temporary levee to protect the railroad and interurban tracks in east Davenport was begun by the Milwaukee railroad.

Sand bags are being rushed from Davenport to Dubuque and other river cities where large forces of men are making heroic efforts to keep back the rising waters.

Four Indiana Casualties.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 19.—Three men were drowned in a gravel pit near West Terre Haute in the flooded Wabash river valley this afternoon, according to reports to local police. The men were in a boat in the pit when it overturned. With the death of Ivan Gritton, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gritton of Hedrick, Ill., in a Danville, Ill., hospital, the death list from ville, Ill., hospital, the death list was brought up to eleven.

Detroit Reports Losses.

Detroit, Mich., April 19.—Snow, rain, and a 22 degree drop in temperature accompanied the gale today. Numerous towns report uprooting of trees and unroofing of buildings. Broken telephone and telegraph poles seriously hamper communication lines. Across the river, in Windsor, Ont., a small factory building was unroofed and the power transmission lines torn down.

Inundate Huge Sector in South.

New Orleans, April 19.—Thousands of square miles of lowlands in the valley are inundated today. Large areas of farming land are also included, and in some cases small towns and villages are inundated, especially in Phillips county, Ark., where about a dozen small towns are covered from a few inches up to about fourteen feet.

In the lower Yazoo river basin it is reported that 884,480 acres, or 1,382 square miles of land in Yazoo, Warren and Issaquena counties are covered with back water.

DODGE AND EARL CONVICTED ON GIN CARRYING CHARGE

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 19.—John Duval Dodge, Detroit millionaire, and Rex Earl, an architect of Kalamazoo, were convicted in Circuit court here late today on a charge of illegally possessing, transporting, and furnishing liquor. Attorneys for the defendants immediately gave notice of appeal and Judge Weimer withheld sentence.

The charges against Dodge and Earl resulted from a midnight automobile ride on the night of March 11, when they invited three young women into their car and drove them, against their protests, into the country. During the ride, the three girls testified, they were offered liquor.

Girl Leaps from Car.

Miss Emeline Kwakernaak, a Western State Normal school student, becoming alarmed, jumped from the machine and was seriously injured. The other women were Ethel Clemens, a normal student, and Sue Stegenga.

Under the Michigan law Dodge and Earl are liable to sentence to one year's imprisonment or $1,000 fine and costs of the trial or both.

Was His Second Trial.

The present case was the second trial within a few weeks of the Detroit millionaire, who is a son of the late John F. Dodge, automobile manufacturer. His first trial on the charge of driving while intoxicated followed the joy ride that resulted also in the charge on which he was convicted today. He was acquitted, while Earl was convicted on a charge of being intoxicated.

Immediately after his first trial Dodge was sentenced by Judge Charles L. Bartlett of Detroit to serve five days in the house of correction for exceeding the speed limit.

CHICAGO WOMEN ATTEND MEET OF WOMEN VOTERS

Chicago will be well represented at the third annual convention of the National League of Women Voters which today opens a ten day session in Baltimore. Thirty-five Chicago delegates and alternates and ten downstate representatives, led by Mrs. Henry W. Cheney, president of the Illinois branch of the league, left for the convention in a special coach on the Baltimore and Ohio yesterday morning.

The Illinois group included Dr. Rachelle S. Yarros, Miss Mary E. McDowell, Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, Mrs. E. W. Bemis, Mrs. Raymond Robins, Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Emmons Blaine Jr., Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, Miss Jessie Binford, Mrs. George Bass, Mrs. William G. Hibbard, and Miss Mary Eileen Ahern.

In Baltimore the Illinois women will meet delegates from every other state in the union and a number of prominent women from Hispanic America and Canada.

Cuban Chief of Police Surrenders to Troops

HAVANA, Cuba, April 19.—After an all night siege of his home, where he had barricaded himself, Manuel Sanchez, chief of police of Baracoa, surrendered to a detachment of troops sent to arrest him on a charge of killing Manuel Perez Lora at a political meeting Monday night.

SEARCHING ARMY FAILS TO LOCATE MISSING PASTOR

Peoria, Ill., April 19.—[Special.]—Several hundred civilians and a national guard company were unsuccessful today in an all day search for the Rev. W. J. Leach, newspaper man and minister, who disappeared a week ago tonight.

REV. W. J. LEACH.

The rough country in back of East Peoria, just across the river from here, was covered by the gigantic searching party. Reports had been received that a man resembling the missing minister had been seen in that vicinity.

Every section of Greater Peoria furnished a large number of men for the searching party. The Rev. Mr. Leach was widely known and in great demand as a public speaker here and in surrounding towns.

The reward fund was closed tonight with a total of $1,015 contributed. The offer of a reward will stand for any one who furnishes information leading to the finding of the Rev. Mr. Leach alive. One hundred dollars will be paid for the recovery of his body.

Lone Shot in Air Routs 4 Prowlers from Garage

When Joseph Olker, 9008 Commercial avenue, returned home with his wife late Tuesday, he saw a light in his garage. He slipped into the house, obtained his revolver, and started toward the garage. Four men appeared. Olker fired into the air and the quartet fled. Olker, who is a building contractor, thinks the four may have been labor sluggers.

COURT UPHOLDS TRIBUNE'S SUIT ON EXPERT FEES

Gives Taxpayers a New Club Over Officials.

building expert fees, THE TRIBUNE charges that $1,065,080 has been paid Mesce and Lynch, and that they will seek to collect $1,207,786 additional. Other investigators have said that THE TRIBUNE is too conservative by $603,000 in stating the total claims of these two building experts; that their aggregate claims are $2,876,062—including payments—instead of $2,272,867, as charged by THE TRIBUNE.

Charges in the Bill.

The bill charges the defendants conspired and confederated together for the purpose of cheating and defrauding the city, and that part of the expert fees were passed along to other members of the Thompson-Lundin political machine. It further charges that the more than $1,000,000 was paid out when only $225,000 had been legally appropriated. It asks an injunction to prevent further payments of $1,207,786 to the experts.

The court took up each of the fifteen principal points made against the bill by defendants' attorneys and decided all of them in favor of the bill. He said the bill is not multifarious, that the complaint has not been stopped by laches, and that no legal misstep has been taken in joining the parties to the suit.

The defendants wanted the city treasurer made a party to the suit. Attorneys Ellis and Stough replied that the treasurer is not charged with being a part of the conspiracy and it was unnecessary to make him a defendant. The court took the same view. The court also held that members of the board of local improvements, other than President Faherty, are proper parties to the suit but not necessary parties.

Overruled on Conspiracy View.

Another contention of the city was that money voluntarily paid by a municipal corporation cannot be recovered in the absence of fraud. In overruling this idea Judge Foell said:

"The complainant claims in its bill to have charged fraud; and further, that the money involved was paid without an appropriation therefor. If either fraud is properly charged in the bill, or the payments complained of were made without an appropriation authorizing the same, the court is of the opinion that this contention is untenable."

Another contention bearing upon conspiracy as stated by the court reads: "It is contended that in a civil case the charge of an unlawful conspiracy in itself does not state a ground for relief, but that it must be shown that some wrongful act is done in pursuance of such conspiracy." In commenting upon and overruling that the court said:

"This undoubtedly states a correct proposition of law in the abstract, and in so far as applicable to this case it must be considered in connection with defendant's tenth contention, which is that the complainant has not in its bill set forth facts which show actual fraud, or facts which show that the payments to the defendants Mesce and Lynch were so grossly excessive as to amount to fraud.

Value of Work Ultimate Question.

"On this aspect of the case the value of the services rendered is the ultimate fact to be determined, and while the bill might well state additional facts or reasons for the pleader's allegation that the services rendered by the defendants Mesce and Lynch were worth only one-twentieth of the amounts paid to them, and that 'any reputable appraiser or appraisal concern would have contracted to perform the same services for the city for one-twentieth of the compensation provided for in the contract with said two defendants, yet where the information upon which the validity of this charge depends is as fully in the possession of the defendants as of the complainant, the court is of the opinion, from a consideration of all the cases cited on this contention, that the allegations of the bill in this regard, if true, state a ground for relief against each of the defendants named, and each should be required to answer the same."

View on Appropriations.

Nor could the court see that the board of local improvements has authority to expend corporate money without a previous appropriation, as contended by the city officials. He also discarded as unsound the plea that the order of the city council passed before the annual appropriation bill was adopted, was an appropriation. Assistant Corporation Counsel Hornstein on behalf of the city proper, urged this idea.

Still another contention was that the people appropriated the money for the experts when they approved of the bond issue for the street improvements. Judge Foell threw that aside for two reasons. The bond ordinance did not give sufficiently definite information regarding the amounts to be spent for various purposes; and the bonds were not approved by a majority of the voters—only a majority of those who voted upon the bonds.

Judge Foell, as recalled by attorneys for the city officials, was once chairman of the council finance committee. He had had experience with the customs and practices relating to appropriations.

NOTRE DAME ALUMNI TO LAUNCH CAMPAIGN FOR FUND OF $500,000

JUSTICE SCANLAN.

Chief Justice Kickham Scanlan of the Crinminal court will be the principal speaker at a meeting in the Elizabethan room of the Congress hotel tonight of men and women interested in the campaign of the University of Notre Dame for a $500,000 development and endowment fund to be raised in the territory of which Chicago is the center.

The intensive drive of the campaign will open on May 5. Preliminary meetings will be held between now and that date to complete the work of organization. Three hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the quota set for Chicago and Cook county, and $150,000 is the quota for the surrounding territory in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Luster to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriously dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

CITY CLUB URGES QUICK START ON SUBWAY BUILDING

RALPH C. HEILMAN

The transportation committee of the City club wants action at once on initial subways. The committee composed of engineers and lawyers, of which Ralph C. Heilman is chairman and E. O. Griffenhagen is secretary passed a resolution yesterday expressing its views on what should be done—and what should be done first.

Briefly, the result of their study is this:

"Steps should promptly be taken to the working out of arrangements and agreements for the use of subway facilities and that when such arrangements have been made the subway plan proposed by the committee of five engineers be put into immediate operation."

This is the plan submitted to the council local transportation committee, on which no action has been taken. The reasons for the City club action are given in the preamble of the resolution as follows:

"With the unavoidable congestion of traffic under present conditions no substantial or permanent relief to the users of the transportation system in Chicago can be secured except through the construction of subways.

"A plan for an initial subway system has just been submitted to the council committee on local transportation by a committee of five competent engineers, in whose mature judgment we have confidence.

"The system provided for in the plan could be constructed for a sum which the city now has available for the purpose, or which could be secured by special assessment, or partly from the funds now available and partly from those secured through special assessment, always provided that the latter two of these three methods are found to be legal and practicable.

"It would not be wise to proceed with any subway plan or construction until the use of the subway facilities as part of the transportation system has been arranged for and the necessary agreements regarding such use by the transportation companies or their successors have been made."

Catholics Plan $1,000,000 Home at State University

A drive for $1,000,000 with which to establish a Catholic foundation, including a church, social center, educational hall, and dormitories, at the University of Illinois was launched last night at a dinner in the Morrison hotel. The quota for Chicago was fixed at $500,000. Ex-Judge John P. McGoorty was named chairman of the drive and Boetius Sullivan secretary. Among those present were Edward Houlihan, state deputy of Knights of Columbus, and William Ryan, state chief ranger of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Our Progressive Ideas Appeal to Other Motor Clubs

The secretary of the Ohio State Automobile Association sounded the keynote of what outsiders think of the Chicago Motor Club, in a speech before our annual meeting at the Coliseum. He stated, "You have a wonderful club here; what you do, we do." That is the way practically every motor club in other cities feels about the progressive work we are accomplishing. There must be something to the standing and services of the club whose reputation has spread so widely. The underlying reasons certainly mean much to every motorist in this vicinity. They are stated in brief and interesting form in our book, "The Story of the Chicago Motor Club"—gladly sent to any motorist on request.

TREASURY MEN CLASH; POLITICS OR EFFICIENCY?

Dover-Blair Row Will Be Put Up to Harding.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—A new row involving questions of political patronage and administrative efficiency has broken out in the treasury department. President Harding will be required to take a hand in the affair which is not unlikely to end in the retiremen of one or more high officials.

Having reorganized the customs service on what he deems a basis of increased efficiency Assistant Secretary Elmer Dover set about a similar overhauling of the internal revenue bureau which he had pronounced a glaring example of governmental inefficiency and incompetence.

Mr. Dover had promoted, demoted and transferred some 500 employés of the customs service and he thought some of the same medicine was needed by the internal revenue bureau, which is four years behind in checking income tax returns.

High Officials Disagree.

But Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair declined to allow his bureau to undergo the Dover treatment. He referred to Mr. Dover as a political spoilsman, asserted that he was putting the internal revenue bureau on a business basis while Dover wanted to put it on a political basis and served a no-trespassing notice on the assistant secretary.

Although the internal revenue bureau is under his jurisdiction Mr. Dover found himself unable to carry out his organization plan, Secretary Mellon and President Harding to whom appeal was made proving indisposed to force Blair into submission.

Republican members of congress, nearly all of whom have candidates for positions in the internal revenue department now held by Democrats, were greatly shocked by the behavior of Blair and declared themselves 100 per cent behind Dover.

Will Be Put Up to Harding.

Blair said today he merely had reissued an order of his predecessors designed to eliminate pernicious influences, political and otherwise, from personal matters. Friends of Dover say the order was issued at the instance of a clique of Democratic holdovers from the Wilson administration who have Blair under their thumbs and are responsible for the alleged state of inefficiency in the bureau.

It is asserted that more than one billion dollars is due the government from persons who fraudulently or mistakenly failed to make full return of their incomes. With a more efficient administration, according to Dover, this money could be collected without increasing the number of employés.

His reorganization of the customs service, Mr. Dover says, has increased customs revenue considerably and introduced a new spirit into the force of inspectors.

Harry Gordon Selfridge called on Mr. Dover today to tell him that on his recent arival in New York from England he was agreeably surprised at the courteous treatment he received from the customs officials on the dock.

"I issued orders," said Mr. Dover, "that customs inspectors should assume that a traveler is telling the truth instead of lying in his customs declaration and to explain that they search the baggage only because of the requirement of law."

PROFESSOR ESCAPES FROM BOLSHEVIKI; TAKES U. OF C. CHAIR

MRS. ALEXANDER MAXIMOFF.

PROF. ALEXANDER MAXIMOFF.

After an escape from bolshevik Russia Prof. Alexander Maximoff, renowned Russian authority on microscopic anatomy, arrived in Chicago yesterday to assume the professorship of anatomy in the University of Chicago. With him came his wife and her sister.

Prof. Maximoff was professor of histology and embryology in the Imperial academy at Petrograd when the bolsheviks came into power.

Since that time he says he has lived a life of a fugitive, witnessing sacking of towns, battles with the bolsheviks, and the slaying of men and women.

10 CENT TAX LEVY FOR ROAD REPAIR IS RECOMMENDED

Taxpayers were saved $1,400,000 yesterday by the roads and bridges committee of the county board, which voted to recommend a levy of 10 cents for maintenance of roads instead of 17½ cents as previously agreed upon. Commissioner Frank J. Wilson, chairman of the committee, said the board would ratify this action at the next meeting.

The last legislature placed upon the county commissioners the duty of keeping hard roads in repair and authorized a levy of 25 cents per $100 valuation. This would produce more than $4,000,000 yearly.

When the county budget was passed in February, appropriations for approximately $3,000,000 were provided but it was the understanding of the board that the levy would not be 25 cents but 17½ cents. Not aware of the understanding, the bureau of public efficiency criticized the board.

"We were not influenced by this criticism," said Commissioner Wilson. "We had in mind the already staggering burden of taxes upon the people and felt it our duty to lighten the load as much as we are able. High salaries are to be pruned, too."

Held as "Fence" Suspect in De Luxe Burglaries

William De Ryder, 1828 Indiana avenue, said to have been a "fence" for Edward Collins, Hyde Park's self-confessed $100,000 burglar, was held to the grand jury yesterday on $1,000 bonds, charged with receiving stolen property. Collins on the witness stand said he had disposed of the proceeds of burglary expeditions at De Ryder's place at a fixed price for various classes of loot. De Ryder maintains he is innocent.

THE CRISIS AT GENOA.

What the German delegation has to say in response to the nine power rebuke is not at hand at this writing. The protest asserts that the Rapallo treaty is "a violation of the conditions to which Germany pledged herself upon entering the session." Dr. Rathenau, who represents a government which has been credited even by the French with a disposition to fair dealing, asserts he made several unavailing attempts to see Mr. Lloyd George and justifies the separate negotiations on the ground that he was reliably informed that British negotiations with the Russians were developing in a form to injure and isolate Germany.

It is apparent a rather unsatisfactory diplomatic controversy will arise, but there are more important consequences already appearing. The most significant of these is the tendency of the neutral states to oppose the proposed expulsion of the Germans from the principal commission—that which is dealing with Russia. They evidently believe that their interest will not be advanced by a bargaining of Great Britain, France, and their allies with Russia, to the exclusion of Germany and themselves, who are not represented on the first commission.

This is not surprising. Without any direct knowledge of what has been taking place behind the scenes at Genoa, American observers can appreciate the desire of such countries as Sweden and Denmark to prevent an arrangement between Great Britain, France, and Russia by which special advantages in the trade and development of Russia should be secured, while the revival of Germany, in which these neutrals have an immediate concern, may be seriously compromised.

It is undeniable that separate negotiations by any pair or group of the nations assembled at Genoa might be destructive of its announced purpose of dealing collectively with the problem of Russia for the common benefit. But that negotiations have actually been carried on in this spirit is now challenged by the German delegation with apparently the sympathy of neutral delegations. The question is now whether the governments not in the allied group will draw definitely together in a powerful opposition, which would probably finish the conference at once and leave the European situation at a very dangerous crisis, or whether the issue can be smoothed over at the price of concessions to the outsiders.

Serious as the crisis is, it may have a desirable result in forcing the conference to deal with basic factors which the allies had agreed to exclude from discussion. This restriction, it has seemed to us, would certainly break down, because once governments hard pressed for relief, like Russia and Germany, and concerned chiefly with the earliest possible economic and financial restoration of central and eastern Europe, like most of the neutrals, are able to meet and confer as they can at Genoa, they are very unlikely to submit to the exclusion of primary factors in the restoration problem. They are certain to get together in one way or another.

As we have said before, Russia and Germany, even in their present state, are too powerful to be treated as criminals or irresponsibles, and the need for their resources is so great that in the long run, if not at once, it will shape the main course of any conference. Just now the situation is confusing and explosive. Our government made a wise decision when it resolved to keep out of it.

FACT AND FANCY ON THE BONUS.

Secretary Mellon, chief official opponent of the soldiers' bonus in Washington, works in mysterious ways his wonders to perform. He is torn between pride in the efficiency of his department, easily revealed by figures, and the natural antipathy of a multi-millionaire to paying out large sums of money which he thinks he might be able to escape and from which he expects no direct financial returns.

Between the two his abstract arguments are invariably against the bonus, and his concrete statements, despite his sentiments, in favor of the bill. Probably it is embarrassing to the secretary, but it is good for the adjusted compensation legislation. The abstract arguments are swamped by the concrete facts.

From the first the secretary has voiced the views of innumerable wealthy men who made millions out of the war that financing of adjusted compensation for men who earned a dollar a day in the country's service would impose such a burden upon business and industry that a return to prosperity would be impeded, factories would be closed, and the former service men would collect their bonus at the cost of their jobs. That argument went well at first. But advocates of justice for the service men persisted. Facts began to appear.

The facts showed that the financial condition of the government is such that three and one-half billion dollars of the public debt has been retired in two years. And that has been accomplished largely under most adverse business conditions. In the same period Liberty bonds approached par, with a gain of fourteen points or thereabouts. Industrial securities and some railroad issues have also been climbing. The financial condition, both of the government and of the private business of the country, is unmistakably sound.

Now, in answer to an inquiry from Senator McCumber, one of the chief advocates of the bonus, Mr. Mellon submits a report on the condition of the treasury. It shows that the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, will show an excess of receipts over expenditures of $47,000,000, as compared with an indicated deficit of $24,468,703 estimated last December. No longer able to say convincingly that the government cannot afford to pay its defenders, he lets it go with the intimation that it will be unable to pay next year. Mr. Mellon's facts refute his arguments.

Essentially all is clear for the bonus. A caucus of Republican senators has approved it, 3 to 1. It should be put through before the senate becomes involved in a two or three months' battle over the tariff.

CUTTING DOWN MOTOR FATALITIES.

The test of the sufficiency of the present regulation of automobile speed in Chicago will be revealed in the fatality record. The judges in charge of the hearing of speeders' cases are trying to make a new record. Many of the fatalities are avoidable. If Chicago's automobile statistics do not show that deaths in the streets are going down the state must be asked for more vigorous laws.

Detroit found that the answer was in the rock pile. Speeders who broke rock for five days did not return to break more rock. A few men with hammers cleared the Detroit traffic court of speeders' cases. Many avoidable fatalities result from violations of speed ordinances. No conspicuous violator has yet served a severe sentence in Chicago.

HOPE FOR A COAL SETTLEMENT.

The house committee on labor is considering establishment of a commission of ten members to obtain information upon which a permanent settlement of the problems of the coal industry may be based. That is a practical move in the right direction. Every day brings us nearer to a crisis in the coal strike, with the probability of a makeshift agreement which will mean another strike in a year or two years, with continued mismanagement of coal production and distribution, and consequent unnecessary burdens upon domestic consumers and all industry.

The time to take action to avoid such a makeshift settlement is now, while we still have coal above ground for our needs. The house committee is on the right track. It should hurry its action to put through the necessary bill.

We are inclined to believe the commission which it advocates is too large. It would be better if the ex-officio membership for which it provides were reduced to two instead of four, and if the members to be appointed by the President were reduced in number to one representative of the operators and one of the miners, with two for the public. That would provide men with the necessary knowledge and prejudice to ask such searching questions in any inquiry as would bring out all necessary facts, and at the same time would give the public a representation which would assure that the findings be clear and just to all. Also the smaller commission would be less unwieldy and probably more efficient for that reason.

But those are minor points. What we need is the fact finding agency. The Bland bill provides for it. That bill should be reported out at once. There is nothing before congress of more immediate importance. It may be amended, but its main provisions should be adopted speedily and some constructive action thus taken to settle the coal troubles once for all before they hurl back our rising tide of prosperity.

A JANITOR IN THE BASEMENT?

Secretary Mellon says he hasn't heard from Henry Ford in response to his inquiry as to the whereabouts of the $29,000,000 war profits which Mr. Ford's biographer said the manufacturer donated to the government.

Search for that $29,000,000 has now been going on for several weeks without result. It begins to look as if a relative of the Grant Park bank janitor, who inadvertently burned much of the evidence in the Small case and then died, must have been working either in the Mellon or the Ford basement.

We respectfully suggest that Mr. Ford and Mr. Mellon find out whether one of their janitors has passed recently to his reward. They may discover a clew to the $29,000,000. It is a small sum, but interesting.

BAD ENOUGH AND IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.

"In 1913 I bought 160 acres, and my tax was $78. This year the same land pays $209."—"In 1916 I paid $58.30, and this year $167.25."—"My tax last year on 160 acres was $558.42, or more than the farm would rent for a few years ago."—"If taxes continue to rise, my wife and I in our old age will lose the little farm we have worked so hard to get."

The foregoing are from letters written to the tax editor of Orange Judd Farmer. They are not special cases. They simply illustrate what taxation means to us all today.

But if our condition is hard now, what would it have been if the Small-Lundin-Thompson outfit had passed their tax commisison bill at the last session and got a stranglehold on the tax machinery of the state?

Editorial of the Day

THE UNSEEN CITY.

[Decatur Herald.]

At 4 o'clock of a dark, foggy morning the clear, rippling notes of a robin suddenly ring out from the top of a tree near the heart of the city. How the little optimist knows that dawn is approaching is a complete mystery to the belated human who chances to pass. It is still as dark as at midnight; the moon, high in the sky, is dimly outlined through the mist. No faintest glow penetrates the haze to the east.

But the robin seems to know, and so do his fellows. The first tentative notes of the earliest singer seem to awaken half a dozen others in every block. Soon the air is fairly ringing with the chorus. A scant two blocks from Main street, and one of its busiest corners, a cardinal, timid creature of thickest woods, whistles from a high perch. A wild cottontail rabbit, feeding on the tender grass of a lawn, becomes uneasy and hops in ungainly fashion across the street to the opposite side, a strange sight on the pavement that a few hours later will be resounding from the wheels of ice wagons and the whir of spinning rubber tires.

There are innumerable other little wanderers from the fields and wood. A flicker sends forth his long, musical "brrr." Bluejays are early awake, and they delight in making as much noise as possible, except when, like boys, they chance to discover a delicious morsel to eat, when silence reigns lest others be attracted. In the old, unused barns at the rear of the lots rats race back and forth in the darkness.

All this exotic, wild life in the very middle of a large city, totally unsuspected by most of the thousands of men who hurry about their errands in daylight hours in the impression that this is urban territory. The fact is significant, perhaps, of man's inability, however he may crowd himself in a congested city, to shut out nature. She somehow penetrates all barriers and goes to him.

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

LET ME GO THEN.

Some morning now the hedgerows there
That naked lie to all the air,
And bare to all the cold
Shall wake at morn to beauty bright,
Bedecked for half the world's delight
With starry blossoms bold.

If one must die in early spring,
Church bell o'er barren field will ring
And chill may be the air—
But impious ought it be presumed
To hope the shadbush should have bloomed
Ere forth one's soul must fare?

OH, MEMORIES!

R. H. L.: Bitterroot Bill ought to be hung. Here we are, thirty years after, settled down in Ioway, in a big arm chair, with The Trib, waiting for the kids to get to bed so we can read in peace, when Bill has to start something. Did he ever climb the west slope of The Hills, on a clear morning, to look for the Big Horn two hundred miles away? And did he ever go wadin' in Salt Creek or the Belle Fourche—'cause they weren't deep enough to swim in? We won't ask where he went at night, but did he ever dance with Belle? L. M.

WE HAD a postal card from somebody down in Beardstown, Ill., yesterday. He wrote: "Just got ashore. Spent all last night roostin' on the roof of my house with the family, the dog, and two cats, while the darned old Illinois river ramped and raved around us. I know it was funny because I saw John McCutcheon's cartoon about the flood down here a few days ago, but last night when I sat on that ridge pole holding on to the kids I didn't have a grin left in my system. Yours truly, Drowned Rat." Well, Drowned Rat, the flood on the Illinois is funnier if you're on the Boul Mich than if you're riding down the river astride a ridge pole.

HOW THE RHYME BANDITS DID THEIR WORK.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN THE FAMOUS LOOTING OF THE CANNERY.

Ime A. Dud, who was captured yesterday by the Sharpshooters charged with stealing the poem, "The Building of the Ship," the property of Mr. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, from the Cannery, was closely questioned regarding the identity of the other rhyme bandits. The Sharpshooters were grimly determined to find out who O. T. I. C. was who purloined Mr. Longfellow's "Psalm of Life."

Ime A. Dud refused for a long time to talk, but when the Sharpshooters threatened to kill him if he would not tell, and the recovered "Building of the Ship" was suddenly shoved in front of his eyes, he burst into tears and shouted, "Oh, This Is Cheese!"

Some of the Sharpshooters believe that this accidental statement by Dud contains a clew to the identity of the robber who stole the poem. The bandit who stole "The Old Oaken Bucket" is known as N. I. D. A former butler in the Cannery named Noe I. Diddent is suspected of the crime, and the Sharpshooters are said to be close on his trail.

The two kleptorhymeiacs who visited the Cannery just before its wholesale looting and walked out with the "Atavistic Maid" and the "Pig Molicepan" were questioned by the Sharpshooters. They both said they didn't mean to do wrong, but that every time they saw a pretty poem they felt that they had a poetic license to walk off with it. They were given a warning and sent home.

The "Atavistic Maid" has been identified as the property of Berton Braley of New York. Ownership of "The Old Oaken Bucket" still remains a mystery, although many who visited the Cannery during the day declared they had read it before and thought it was written by Robert Burns, the well known Scottish poet.

HORRIBLE COMBAT BETWEEN A FILIPINO AND THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

[By the Second Post via Carlos.]

Dear Mr. ——. I take a pleasure in sending you a peice of paper contind of the name of our new model Navy shoes for summer eather winter with economical spend. These shoes have so fine hells, no other Shoes having a hells with one inch and a half high. Well, I will give Proft right, now, Last week I was walking on the street down in Cuba, I was surprised all ladies and gentlemen were looking to-ward on me I thought they were surprised how I look-like, then I just contenue to walked the next cornner, later on I meet one beatiful lady, then I asked her in Spanish, I said, Excuse me lady, then I asked her about the women and men were looking to me wherever I walked. Then she answered, she said to me, those shoes, in fact thoes people had been all over in United States they did not see such kinds of shoes.

So told I them That these are latest model shoes in United States Navy & army Co. Whenever you go some places in United States terroties very ease for you to get an aquainted with a nice young lady, just only the hells of your shees will attract to her, Now do not forget that. hoping to hear from you soon.

INSULTING ON THE STREET.

(A new poet has risen. He is Ralph Eugene Hemmick, who is the author of this poem published in the Columbia City, Ind., Post. N. J. K.)

Just a moment, stranger, I overheard your last remark,
Concerning the fair lady, entering yonder park;
Whose gracefulness and beauty a virtue to proclaim,
Eyes that shine in innocence, a mother's descent name.
What are you and your kind, that walk a crooked beat?
Insulting of the ladies, as they pass upon the street?

From Pups like you, that jerk and prey, upon a lady fair;
She is not your class that suffer, in a hurried life,
But a sister fair and square, or a husband's faithful wife.
You may have a sister or a mother grand to meet.
Would you be happy if they, too, were insulted upon the street.

THE 147th anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and the ride of Paul Revere was celebrated in Boston yesterday. It is best remembered because of the immortal poem by Longfellow, which thrills us even now from the first line, "Up from the south at break of day," to the throbbing ending of every verse, "And Lexington sixteen miles away." MEASLES PROTECTION.

IN their great work on epidemiology Vaughan and Palmer prove the impossibility of controlling an epidemic of measles in an army.

But the evidence by which they prove their point helps to prove that, under the condition of life in a civilian population, measles can be controlled.

We made a distinct gain when the army experience proved that measles was a respiratory disease in the sense that the virus was spread by the nose and mouth secretions, and that it entered the body of the people it attacked through the nose and mouth.

Perhaps we have recently made another distinct gain. Anderson and Goldberger proved that the blood of a person with measles could be used to cause measles in monkeys.

Duval and Duanoy seem to have proved that guinea pigs can contract measles. They injected human blood from measles cases into the hearts of guinea pigs. The guinea pigs developed fever and had a decrease in their white blood corpuscles.

The attacks were interpreted as measles, though many of the characteristics of the disease were absent. Other guinea pigs injected with blood from human beings not sick with measles were not affected. The guinea pigs which had had this atypical measles did not get sick the second time when the inoculation was repeated.

The incubation period of this condition was established at nine to twelve days.

Human blood was not infective until thirty-six hours before the onset of the eruption. It ceased to be infective twenty-four hours after the fever had subsided. It was most infective at the height of the eruption.

The animals that died had violent hemorrhagic nephritis—inflammation of the kidney.

If we can apply these findings to the human subject the incubation period of measles is nine to twelve days. The disease becomes catching from thirty-six hours before the eruption appears and ceases to be so twenty-four hours after the fever becomes normal.

In measles watch out for evidence that the kidneys are involved.

It has long been known that babies at the breast are not susceptible to measles. Bottle fed babies are. The reason for this safety of the breast fed baby, it has been said recently, is protective substances in the milk, these substances being derived from the mother. Cows never having measles, their milk does not contain this substance.

In some places children, especially children in asylums, are being protected against measles by injecting them with blood from other children recently recovered from the disease. In this way closed populations of children such as those in hospitals, home asylums, and institutions are no longer subject to the old time hazard of violent measles outbreaks. Serum of convalescents is also being used to cure.

If monkeys and guinea pigs can be given experimental measles it may not be long before some large animal will be found capable of contracting the disease, just as it was found that horses could be inoculated with diphtheria. Therefore it does not seem impossible that before long a measles vaccine will be available for general use.

In the meanwhile if teachers and parents will keep on watch, measles can be held down.

Measles registers in school, morning inspection for dry coughs, weeping eyes, and running noses, exclusion on suspicion, and care in the home will do the trick.

HELP FOR STAMMERING.

E. B. F. writes: "In my fifth year I was much distressed by my inability to begin speaking without the usual troubles of a stammerer. In an effort to overcome this difficulty after trial and practice by myself, without even mentioning the matter to anyone, I hit upon the device of beginning to speak by making first a very low noise with my mouth shut, and then running this noise into the first word that I wanted to say.

"I could begin to make this noise without stammering, and I could run it into an articulate word without a break. By practicing this method I soon broke myself of this difficulty.

"The one associated nervous symptom that I remember is that my hands trembled noticeably, due to eagerness and lack of stability, in performing the manual exercises.

"I cured myself of this distressing defect of speech so easily that I have always felt that other children could do the same if they would try it in the same spirit of experimentation."

HER ANGEL CHILD.

Mrs. C. S. E. writes: "Inclosed find 36 cents, for which kindly send me four copies of 'The Right Food for the Growing Child.' Want them for some children. Mine is wonderfully well and happy following the instructions in this simple book.

"Hope to place her in the next baby show; not to win the prize, but to show others how easy and delightful a child can be under the right nourishment."

HAND TO MOUTH, SO TO SPEAK.

Mrs. H. S. writes: "My boy began to speak at the age of 3 years 8 months.

"He was unable to speak right until I read an article that stated that most children with speech defects are left handed and are forced to use their right hands.

"That was the cause with my boy. After I let him work with his left hand, his speech began to improve."

YOU'VE DONE YOUR PART.

Glen Ellyn, Ill., April 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My neighbor owns the fence which is standing on the lot line and when he was talking about putting up this fence I offered to go half on the expense, which he refused.

Now I want to make a chicken run along forty feet of this fence. Must I have his permission to use the fence as the fourth side of the run and to put extensions on the posts with extra wire so that the chickens do not fly over the fence? F. P. F.

No, you do not need his permission.

THE HOG-TIGHT FENCE.

Neoga, Ill., April 16.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Can land owner adjoining my corn field compel me to erect a hog-tight division fence between us, because he wants to pasture? I already have there a good fence that will turn all stock except hogs. L. G. M.

The fence act provides that fences 4½ ft. high consisting of several stated materials "or whatever the fence viewers of the town or precinct where the same shall be considered equivalent thereto suitable and sufficient to prevent cattle, horses, sheep hogs and other stock from getting on the adjoining lands of another, shall be deemed legal and sufficient fences; provided, in counties under township organization the electors at any annual town meeting may determine what shall constitute a legal fence in the town, and in counties not under township organization, the power to regulate the height of fences shall be vested in the county board." On this wording it would seem that you can be compelled to share the cost of a hog-proof fence, unless your officials have taken action to the contrary. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PERSONAL TAX BILL.

Chicago, April 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Will you please inform me as to whether a grocery stock and grocery fixtures are subject to personal tax? No one has ever been in the store to assess the stock or fixtures, but I have received a personal tax bill nevertheless. L. S. W.

Yes, it is subject to tax.

SIGNATURE IS BINDING.

Chicago, April 17.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—During my husband's absence the landlord insisted that I sign the lease for our apartment, which I did. Since then he has refused to do the agreed cleaning. As I have no income is my signature binding? H. J. N.

The agreement is binding upon you but if you have no unexempt property or income it is difficult to see how it could be enforced.

CUTS WATER SUPPLY.

Chicago, April 17.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I should like to know if a landlord could turn off the water supply of his tenant's flat if they refused to pay rent or move. They have no lease. S. K.

He should first terminate the tenancy under a five day notice.

MEMORY TESTS Can You Answer These?

Answers to these questions will be published tomorrow.

1. What famous French revolutionary general helped Napoleon overthrow the directory, later was tried for treason, exiled to the United States, returned, and joined the allies and was killed fighting against the French?
2. Whom did Frank Erne defeat to win the world's lightweight championship, where, when, and number of rounds?
3. What are five synonyms for the word advise?
4. What general received the final surrender of the main confederate army and afterwards became President?
5. When and by whom was the sewing machine invented?
6. Where is the Gulf of Laitary?
7. What famous address begins, "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal"?
8. What country derives its name from the City of Rome and speaks a language derived from Latin?
9. What is the Indian meaning of the name "Tennessee"?
10. What is the origin of the handclasp as a greeting?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions.

1. Why are horses mounted from the left? In the beginning so a man wouldn't have to throw his sword over the horse.
2. Who was the "Bard of Bristol," or "Bristol Boy"? What hoax did he perpetrate on the public? Thomas Chatterton, 1752-'70. He wrote a number of poems, ascribing their authorship to a monk, Rowley. The literary world for years disputed their authorship, which was finally credited to Chatterton.
3. Who was the first recognized world's lightweight glove champion who retired undefeated, and who then claimed the title? Jack McAuliffe. George "Kid" Lavigne.
4. Who was the real conqueror of Prussia in Napoleon's 1806 campaign? Marshal Davoust. He won the battle of Auerstadt against vastly superior numbers on the same day Napoleon won at Jena. If he had not won Napoleon would have been crushed.
5. When was the republic of Rome founded? In 509 B. C.
6. What is a whale? An eel? The whale is a mammal, not a fish; the eel a fish, not a reptile.
7. Where is Eski-Shehr? A city on the Bagdad railway in Asia Minor. There has been much fighting about this point in the Greco-Turkish war. The Turks now hold it.
8. What is Malthusianism? The doctrine of Thomas Robert Malthus, an English political economist [1766-1834]. It states: That as population rapidly increases, but land is a fixed quantity, the time must come when the population will outgrow the means of food supply, and therefore government should make laws to restrict marriages and check the increase of man.
9. What districts or boroughs comprise Greater New York? Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx, Richmond, and Queens.
10. What is the Indian meaning of the name "Texas?" Taken from the Indian word "tachies" meaning friends.

IN DEFENSE OF THE FRENCH POSITION.

Chicago, April 15.—The poor Hollander, A. V. D. Does, who writes from Berlin to the Voice of the People in defense of Germany and in opposition to France, which he pictures as a vicious and revengeful nation, does not seem to think of the inhuman conditions that would have been imposed upon the already afflicted French people, had France been vanquished. Yes, those French people were starving, deprived and dispossessed during the world's war, while the German people calling for sympathy were enjoying all commodities and did not experience a home invasion. They are suffering yet by the high cost of living, and more heavily taxed than the Germans. Their currency has also lost in value. If bread has been costing so far half a mark, what was the price of bread and other necessities of life, such as food, garments, shoes in Paris from the beginning of the war to the present time?

French people around Paris' walls were shot by Bismarck's orders whilst gathering frozen potatoes with the idea that the number of French people would be decreased and the fare of Parisians during the siege of 1870-1871 never was shared by the actual Germans as yet with their "Vaterland Ueber Alles" on the lips and a love next to craziness for the kaiser, the author of all those miseries, in their heart, whilst French people had chased their emperor, never to cherish any affection for him or his race.

The debt is enormous for the Germans! What was it to be for the French and the other allies, including America, in the dreams of the kaiser? What was it for the short campaign of 1871, the last German soldier quitting French soil only when all the treaty's conditions had been fulfilled and the last cent of the $1,000,000,000 had been paid in 1873? And it is from Berlin, from a Hollander, whose country shelters the greatest criminal of all ages in the midst of luxuries, that an appeal came to the American government to stop the French requiring only a strict accounting, according to treaties, for all the depredations and acts of vandalism perpetrated by the orders of an autocrat, always and as yet upheld by the German people! Too bad, poor A. V. D. Does. J. DARCHE.

THREE CHEERS.

Chicago, April 18.—"Hurrah for Germany and Russia" will be the thought uppermost in the hearts of all right minded people. These two nations set the glowing example of dropping hatred and malice of wartime and raising the progressive banner of mutual helpfulness and brotherhood.

Down with implacable hatred; down with vile malice; down with arrogance and conceit; up with the slogan: "God helps those that help themselves." Forward on the road to universal peace and prosperity. A. T.,

DETROIT SPEEDERS' NEMESIS SPEAKS.

Detroit, Mich., April 17.—My attention has been called to the editorial and splendid articles in your paper regarding my policy of sending speeders to jail.

I believe that this campaign is getting big results, and I am informed that it is being adopted in several cities throughout the United States.

The lives of pedestrians and others I believe to be more important than the convenience of reckless drivers, who will run down people on the streets and never stop even to give their license number or render assistance.

ASSORTING CRIMINALS.

Chicago, April 18.—For the case hardened, habitual criminal there is very little chance of reformation; consequently there is only one place for him—prison.

But for the youngster, naturally wild and unruly, stumbling into his first wrongdoing, there IS a chance of reformation in ninety-five cases out of a hundred.

If the crime is petty, keep the youth out of the reformatory by granting him court probation, and while on probation keep him under the strict supervision of a kind but stern probation officer. I might add here that these officers in the past were lax, indifferent, and often times negligent in the performance of their duty.

If the crime is major and serious send the youth to the reformatory. But do not let your interest in the boy end here. Have the trial judge and state's attorney immediately after commitment, forward facts of the case, together with their personal recommendations for leniency or otherwise. Of course, I know this last is a requirement by law and the division of pardons and paroles, but it takes the Chicago judges six months (or longer) before they forward their reports on these convictions. These reports are very important and help the authorities at the institutions to place the boy in the right position.

Having reached the reformatory, under no circumstances allow the first offender to mingle with others who are tough and crime hardened and who are always willing to boast of their exploits and teach the youngsters what they do not know regarding crime, beating the law, and escape of punishment. The young wrongdoer is very impressionable and will look upon these boasting criminals as masters in crime and will try to emulate them at the first opportunity.

The next step in combating and lessening crime is to install good, competent, experienced teachers in the reformatory schools.

As the last step I would recommend humane treatment, a square deal while incarcerated, and a fair chance to make good when released.

EX-CON., PONTIAC.

CHAUFFEUR, BLOW YOUR HORN.

Chicago, April 17.—Your recent editorial on war on speeders is good. However, there is one class of autoists who are more a menace to pedestrians' lives than speed law violators. I refer to the drivers who are too lazy to use their horns.

The average pedestrian in crossing at a street intersection may be careful to look to the right and left before crossing, but forgets the danger from the rear. An auto driven in the same direction a pedestrian is walking, swiftly and silently turning the corner as the pedestrian starts across the crossing, has been the cause of numerous deaths. This class of drivers make a street crossing the most dangerous place to cross.

An ordinance to compel drivers to stop their cars before turning corners except where crossing is guarded by a police officer would save lives.

Let us have more use of the horn. Warning given in time will reduce the number of deaths. H. F. R.

LEGION OPPOSES NATIONAL SUICIDE BY SLICING ARMY

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—The American Legion is steadfastly opposed to the little army bill. Hanford MacNider, national commander, before the senate appropriations committee today, denounced the house bill providing for only 115,000 enlisted men.

"It is the judgment of the American Legion that the sentiment 'back home,'" the commander said, 'supports our position, and as men who have seen with their own eyes the horrors of unpreparedness, we pledge our honest efforts to President Harding and Gen. Pershing in their endeavor not to have reduced the means for an adequate national defense below a well recognized line of national safety."

Legion Helped with Bill.

The Legion, Mr. MacNider explained, had taken an active part in the preparation of the national defense reorganization act which utilizes the citizen soldier as a basis for the future army. Under the house bill the development of this important phase of the defense program, he argued, will be seriously restricted, and the training of the national guard will particularly suffer.

"The American Legion," he told the committee, "is here today to protest against the manner in which the house passed the army appropriation bill. It believes the radical reductions made for the maintenance during the coming fiscal year of the three component parts of the army of the United States (the regular establishment, the national guard, and the organized reserves) is the first open step towards undermining our splendid military policy as expressed by congress in the army reorganization act of 1920 and approved by the entire country.

Legion Backs the President.

"The American Legion unqualifiedly backs up the president, the secretary of war, and Gen. Pershing in their support of necessary appropriations for the national guard, organized reserves, reserve officers' training corps, and civilian military training camps as recommended by the war department, and also supports the position that approximately 150,000 men is the minimum number needed for the regular establishment to perform its proper mission in our plan of national defense.

"The American Legion does not insist upon either the regular establishment of the national guard functioning at the strength provided for in the army reorganization act, but does believe that appropriations that provide for less than 50 per cent of the strength originally planned (280,000 in the regular establishment and 425,000 in the national guard) weakens our national security."

Police Character Stabs Youth as He Leaves "L"

A police character known as "Smithy" stabbed John Sullivan, 18, 5649 Emerald avenue, in the shoulder late Tuesday night as he descended the steps of the Englewood elevated station at 63d street. Sullivan said he knew of no motive for the stabbing. "Smithy" is being sought.

BRITISH MAY PAY BONUS BY BONDS FOR 4 BILLIONS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—Sale of British bonds to provide funds for the soldiers' bonus again is being discussed by Republican senate and house leaders. With this program in mind efforts will be made to postpone senate consideration of bonus legislation until the tariff bill is passed, by which time it is believed the new foreign debt commission will have proceeded far enough in its task to give assurance that long term securities of the British government will be available.

It is proposed that the United States guarantee these bonds and sell sufficient of them to meet the expense of the soldiers' bonus. The British bonds, which will be obtained in exchange for present demand obligations, will amount to about $4,000,000,000.

Senator Watson, Indiana, one of the leading Republican members of the senate finance committee, today conferred on the bonus with President Harding. It is understood the President reiterated his desire that if a bonus bill is passed it shall be accompanied by some provision for raising the revenue.

While the President has urged a sales tax, it has been the understanding for several months that if British bonds are available he will not object to their sale to provide funds for the bonus. He has objected, however, to the passage of bonus legislation in expectation of the obtaining of British bonds before the refunding negotiations are completed.

The foreign debt commission has now started work and it is believed that by June the British bonds may be in the possession of the United States.

It is proposed that authority to guarantee and sell bonds of foreign governments shall be included in the tariff bill.

BULGARIA OPENS WAR ON DIVORCE OF EX-SENATOR

SOFIA, April 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—The divorce issued to former United States Senator Henry F. Hollis of New Hampshire by the pastor of the Unitarian church at Dubnitza is not officially recognized by the Bulgarian state, and possesses no legal force, the department of religion and education of the foreign office has advised the Bulgarian legation at Washington.

The religious department denies having given official approval to the divorce papers, and the government is instituting proceedings against Pastor Toplisky, who granted the divorce.

Dr. Dobtshef, professor of canonical law at Sofia university, declares the divorce invalid by virtue of the Bulgarian laws. He points out that Bulgarian religious authorities have not the power to annul a marriage consummated civilly either at home or abroad, and says that only the civil authority which executed such a marriage can annul it.

NEW REGIME IN STATE'S PENAL PROGRAM NEAR

Modern Joliet Prison Is Almost Completed.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

In the new penitentiary at Joliet which will be completed in about another year, Illinois plans to develop extensively prison employment, which is the real basis of the modern idea of prison administration.

A model penal institution is pictured as a "beehive of industry" by experts the country over. Nothing, they declare, can take the place of labor as an agency for re-claiming the criminal if he is susceptible of social reëducation. The habit of work, the will and the inclination to labor productively, these are regarded as the great essentials.

Employment and the response the prisoner makes to work are the real meat in the classification and progressive merit system in vogue in Illinois. Although seldom emphasized, it is all the real foundation of indeterminate sentence and parole system, under which supervision over the delinquent is carried beyond the prison walls.

Convicts Building New Jail.

So, in the new jail, which is being built, largely by convicts themselves, the state is engaging on an intensive study of what industries can be set up and how wide a variety the work can take to advantage. A large field of activities is open, for the supplies and materials used by the state institutions themselves are manifold.

At present about 65 per cent of the prison population of Joliet is productively employed, and the rest works at jobs around the prison. Yesterday there were 1,820 men and 36 women in the institution. At the stone quarry, 155 men were employed. The quarry is just across the road from the prison. In it quantities of crushed stone for road building purposes are produced. Any township can get a certain supply by requisition from the state authorities and all it costs is the freight. In the reed and rattan furniture factory 194 men were at work and in the wood furniture plant 168. Some 87 were working in the shoe factory, while at the state farm 85 were at work under the honor system without guards.

Plan New Industries.

About 500 convicts were at work at the new penitentiary, the erection of which from an employment point of view alone has been a great thing for the prison and its inmates. The work is mostly hard labor, but it is in the open air and many of the prisoners have been placed on the construction gangs at their own request. When the new prison is completed, it will make a sort of industrial gap, and to fill this in, the authorities are planning to set up a larger variety of prison industries than the present quite limited number, namely, shoes, furniture, quarrying and farming.

The new prison is in the center of a tract of 2,200 acres. For one thing intensive farming is to be engaged in. The manufacturing industries will be of a nature to fill in all seasonally slack periods, so that every man physically able will keep employed all the time. Road building by convict gangs is not in favor by the experts here as a means of employment. It was tried for a time under the Dunne administration, but not with what were accounted the best of results.

At the southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard the convicts make some clothing for state institutions, but the great activity centers on the crushed rock, quantities of which are marketed to farming communities for fertilizer.

Work Done at Pontiac.

At Pontiac reformatory the printing shop forms the leading industry; most of the printing and ruling for the state offices is done here. Next in importance is the reed and rattan furniture work. Most of the shops at the reformatory are adjuncts to the manual training school, and the work has a vocational training value.

At the penitentiaries, however, the vocational training of prisoners is not particularly sought after, although some of the men acquire handicraft in the rattan shops or the shoe plant that gets them work upon discharge. But the chief values of employment on which the emphasis is thrown are the formation of the habit of work—most of the prisoners have never learned to work—the engaging of the mind upon productive effort, the development of responsibility, and the improvement of mental and bodily health by work.

MESSENGER BOY TAKES $121,879

New York, April 19.—[Special.]—Robert Byrnes, 15 years old, earning $19 a week as a messenger for the brokerage firm of C. D. Halsey & Co., 27 William street, stole $121,879 from his employers today and fled.

During his flight he dropped $121,000 in securities and certified checks from the Brooklyn bridge into the East river. He was arrested as he was starting with the remainder in cash for Arizona to carry out fantastic plans for riding down bandits.

NOTIFY UNIONS TO "START WORK OR OPEN SHOP"

"We are spending money like water, but little in comparison to what we can get. We shall not cease fighting until eleven holdout unions of the building trades surrender unconditionally."—Statement of Thomas E. Donnelly, chairman of the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award.

Declaring war to a finish on eleven building trades unions and issuing an ultimatum to a twelfth, the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award last night announced that it was prepared to handle any or all building construction in Chicago on the open shop plan.

T. E. DONNELLEY. [Copyright: Matzene.]

The announcement stated that there are now 12,373 building trades workers employed under the Landis wage scale and that more than 60 per cent of the city's contractors have signed up with the committee.

Ultimatum to Glaziers.

Members of the glaziers' union must return to work under the provisions of the award by tomorrow or they will be added to the list of unions under the committee's ban, it was added.

"The glaziers struck in the shops of all the large glass manufacturers and contractors about a month ago," Mr. Donnelley told members of the millwork cost bureau at a meeting in the Congress hotel.

"We were told by the contractors that the strike was the direct result of an order by the painters' council and that the men as a body were perfectly willing to continue work. In other words, the glaziers were being forced to break a contract through pressure from a more powerful union which practically controls them.

Demand End of Strike.

"Because of this, we have tried for three weeks to bring the union back under the Landis award. At a meeting this afternoon it was decided to give the glaziers until Friday morning to call off the strike. Should this not be done, the trade will be placed on the open shop basis and the men will be supplied through our employment office."

"More than $150,000,000 worth of building contracts are under way," Mr. Donnelley said. "Over 60 per cent of this work is being done under the Landis award. We have now 12,373 Landis award workers on the job, of which 7,992 have been placed by our employment office. We shall not cease fighting until the eleven holdout unions of the building trades surrender unconditionally.

"We are not fighting labor, but criminal conspiracy. Building conditions have been rotten in Chicago for four or five years."

USE OF PHONE TO GIVE RADIO FANS BETTER PROGRAM

BY CHARLES SLOAN.

Chicago radio fans are to hear the city's best in broadcasted music. This was announced yesterday by George H. Jaspert of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, following the granting to Station KYW of the use of telephone lines for broadcasting work.

Heretofore those in charge of the radio programs have been handicapped in that all the musical numbers had to be broadcasted from the studio on the sixteenth floor of the Commonwealth Edison building. The telephone company refused to allow the use of its lines to broadcast, for instance, the music of Jesse Crawford's organ at the Chicago theater.

Makes Program Limitless.

This is to be changed, it was announced. Lines are to be immediately run to Orchestra hall and the Chicago Association of Commerce quarters in Hotel La Salle. The former will be used to transmit musical entertainments appearing at the hall; the latter for the broadcasting of the Wednesday noon talks given by various personages at the meetings of the association.

With the lifting of the ban on telephone lines the station authorities now can transmit entertainments and events taking place in any section of the city. Great bands and orchestras coming here can be sent out via radio—the possibilities for variation in the program are almost illimitable.

Arbor Day Message.

Chicago amateurs and broadcasting stations are to coöperate in the distribution of a message on Friday evening, Arbor day eve, by Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture.

The message will be broadcasted simultaneously from every governmental and private broadcasting station and by more than 1,000 amateur stations in the country. It will be the most widespread distribution of a radio message ever attempted. Boy Scouts in each community who receive the message are to deliver it on the golden anniversary of Arbor day, April 22, to the mayors of their respective towns.

Plan for Exposition.

Members of the advisory committee of the National Radio exposition, to be held in the Leiter building from June 26 to July 1, will meet this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Hotel La Salle to formulate plans for the exposition. J. Elliott Jenkins of Station 9CT is chairman of the committee.

Bandits Shoot Candy Man, Then Flee Without Loot

PROBST LOVESICK ONLY, NOT CRAZY, ATTORNEY SAYS

New York, April 19.—August Probst, Swiss butler, who charged he was being railroaded out of the country because he had a love affair with a society girl at the Rolling Rock club, just outside Pittsburgh, won a victory in his special examinations on Ellis island, Bernard H. Sandler, his counsel, declared today. Probst was not termed insane in the findings of the special board which investigated his case, Mr. Sandler said.

The attorney said he had telegraphed to Secretary of Labor Davis, asking that he be heard before any final order is issued in the case.

Mr. Sandler declared that a series of examinations by several doctors on Ellis island had failed to find Probst insane. One of the doctors, however, asserted the Swiss was suffering from pseudo-paranoia, which, Mr. Sandler said, means nothing more nor less than love sickness.

The TRUTH about THE NOISELESS

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO the typewriter was blind. You had to lift the carriage to see what had been written.

Then visible writing was invented. It was a great step toward speeding work—getting more and better work.

The Noiseless Typewriter represents the most radical improvements in typewriter development since the visible machine. It brings quiet—greater speed—more beautiful work—easier operation—greater economy and durability.

Every one knows that concentration of thought is essential to success in business. Irritating typewriter noise destroys the quiet that permits concentration of thought. Hence, typewriter noise impairs the business man's best asset—namely, his thinking power.

The Noiseless is recognized today as the "silent partner" of increased production. Its triumphant success is due to the fact that, at every point, it means PROGRESS:

QUIET

SPEED

The Noiseless is the fastest stock typewriter in the world. It has the lightest touch of any typewriter and can be operated with the least fatigue.

QUALITY

Perfect control of the keys assures beautiful work, with even spaces and accurate alignment. Adjustable pressure dial permits the making of clear and numerous carbon copies.

ECONOMY

The Noiseless is the most economical typewriter you can buy. It saves valuable minutes because it can be operated constantly—even when you are talking over a long distance phone. The metal platen does not require replacement.

DURABILITY

Let Us Demonstrate

these features to you in your office. There will be no obligation on your part whatever. Call, write or phone.

The NOISELESS PORTABLE—"Your Junior Partner"

Before you buy a portable typewriter, consider The Noiseless Portable. We can't promise that you will hear anything, but you will see a beautiful, convenient typewriter that combines quiet with speed, beauty of work, durability and economy.

The Noiseless Portable is the only portable typewriter in the world that can be used anywhere at any time without disturbing anybody. Descriptive circular mailed on request.

—so is the good catalog in a cheap cover

THE cover says the first word to the prospect who gets your catalog or booklet. It invites reading, suggests high quality—or it wastes an opportunity to do this.

Collins Cover Papers use the never-failing lure of beauty, of distinctive unusualness. "Castilian," for instance, suggests in many charming colors the rich texture of fine old Spanish leather. When you see actual samples you will want to keep them—you really will: they show what can be done in mixing art and craftsmanship in paper making. And we have been doing just this for 65 years.

GOOD FIRM FLESH, INCREASED WEIGHT, STRENGTH AND ENERGY—Amazing New Food Factor.

Thousands who have always been complaining about being weak, thin, emaciated and run-down may now find in Yeast Vitamines when used in connection with Nuxated Iron the very thing which will often quickly help them to put on good firm flesh, round out face and figure and increase their strength, energy and endurance, provided their blood contains a sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable them to assimilate their food properly. Without organic iron both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless, as your body loses the power to transform lifeless food matter into living cells, flesh, muscle and tissue, therefore your food merely passes through your body without doing you any good.

It therefore appears that in practically all cases where Vitamines are necessary, organic iron is also necessary.

To prove to you the surprising results which we feel should be quickly obtained from this valuable combination, arrangements have been made with druggists in this city to give you A LARGE DOLLAR PACKAGE OF GENUINE YEAST VITAMINE TABLETS ABSOLUTELY FREE with your purchase of a bottle of organic Nuxated Iron. Take your Vitamine Tablets before meals and organic Nuxated Iron after meals. Weigh yourself before you start and again after ten days and see how much you have increased in weight, also in strength, vigor and energy. If you are not perfectly satisfied with your weight increase and the general results obtained, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money.

Free

IMPORTANT: We recommend that you do not take Vitamines unless you wish your weight increased—if you merely wish greater strength, energy, physical and mental vigor, we recommend that you take Nuxated Iron only.

HAYS' CUTOUT OF ARBUCKLE STIRS HOLLYWOOD WAR

Friends Denounce Action —Foes Try to Use It.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 19.—[Special.]—The action of Will H. Hays barring Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle from the screen has split Hollywood into three distinct factions. Two of these are composed of his friends. The other consists of enemies and those not friendly to him.

One faction of friends is demanding immediate action on Arbuckle's part. They declare that Hays is living up to his title of "czar of the movies," deplore his decision as un-American and despotic, and talk of putting up money to form an independent concern that will produce "Fatty's" pictures and market them.

The other division of his friends is "standing pat" until the arrival in Los Angeles of Joseph Schenck, Arbuckle's producer, who was represented at the conference wherein the "movie dictator's" decision was reached. These men believe the report that Hays will try Arbuckle and they are hoping he does.

Hope for "Movie" Trial.

"Another trial would but serve to bring Fatty back to the screen bigger than ever," one of them said today. "The American people may believe that Arbuckle bought jurors and witnesses. It isn't true, but if he is investigated by men who are sincerely attempting to put clean pictures on the screen the public cannot help but be convinced of Arbuckle's innocence."

"The American public already has taken Fatty back," say the others. "The people want him. They will not see him sacrificed."

The Rev. Gustav A. Briegleba, a Los Angeles minister, wired Hays immediately after Arbuckle was acquitted in San Francisco, saying he had been informed by members of the city council that if Arbuckle films were shown in Los Angeles immediate action would be urged upon pending censorship laws.

See Hand of Jealous Rivals.

Arbuckle's friends assert he is being sacrificed so that the pictures of other actors and actresses may not be censored—and they point to the fact that Arbuckle never made an unclean picture, nor one that a censor could touch.

They promise that if the "dictator's" action is final there will be considerable backfire and that many another famous player will be sent to the "guillotine of Hays."

Arbuckle and his personal attorney, Milton Cohen, are saying only this:

"We are willing to go to trial again before any tribunal on earth."

PRAISED BY "VIGILANTES."

Philip Yarrow, field superintendent of the Illinois Vigilance association, in a letter sent yesterday to Will H. Hayes, head of the Motion Picture Producers' association, upholds the director's order that "Fatty" Arbuckle's contracts be canceled and his finished screen plays withdrawn.

Characterizating this decision as "a distinct and unusual step forward in behalf of better movie morals, Mr. Yarrow writes:

"In other unrelated lines of endeavor, where the reports of Mr. Arbuckle's alleged indiscretions would have little or no influence on the life of youth, the Illinois Vigilance association would wish him nothing but success. But the possibility of his continuing to be the inspirer of our children's conduct has been destroyed by the stories connected with his past."

ASK COUNCIL ACTION

A move to ban the films of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle indefinitely in Chicago was initiated at yesterday's session of the city council.

The order, introduced by Ald. Guy Madderom of the Ninth ward, if passed, will direct Chief of Police Fitzmorris, whose jurisdiction includes the motion picture censorship bureau, to refuse a permit for the showing of Arbuckle's pictures. The order was referred to the police committee.

"In view of the conditions exposed in Arbuckle's trial for the death of Virginia Rappe, I don't think there is a member of the city council who would care to introduce Arbuckle in his family," Ald. Madderom said.

"For the same reason I see no good reason why our families or those of any Chicagoans should get further acquainted with Arbuckle as a screen character."

Ald. Coughlin asked the council to prohibit the sprinkling and flushing of downtown streets in the daytime. Ald. Toman, at whose request the First ward alderman introduced the order, said that the damp streets cause automobiles to skid, slow up traffic, and that the flushers ruin clothing for pedestrians. The order went to the streets and alleys committee.

MAYOR TO URGE BAN ON U. S. COURT UTILITY APPEALS

After an exchange of telegrams yesterday between Mayor Hylan of New York and Mayor Thompson it was announced that Corporation Counsel Ettelson will depart for Washington next Monday to advocate passage of the Bacharach bill, which proposes to prohibit public utilities from resorting to federal courts while rate proceedings are pending before state commissions.

Mayor Hylan's telegram urged that a "country-wide movement should be started to prevent such practices." He declared that after a convincing case in favor of reduction of New York telephone rates had been presented to the New York state commission "the telephone trust jumped into the federal court and secured a restraining order."

"We have had a similar experience in traction litigation, and I will be glad to help in any way I can," Mayor Thompson's telegraphic reply read.

The Right of Way to Tire Leadership

A year or so ago, the American public placed the leadership of the tire business in the hands of the men who make U. S. Royal Cords

THE first Royal Cord Tires were made and sold in 1916.

No cut-and-dried story could possibly account for their position of command today—earned in a short six years.

It mostly comes down to the car-owner as an out and out human being. Forget him as a mere tire customer and consider him as a personality. With an inborn instinct for quality. With a pride in demonstrating his quality beliefs.

How many tire manufacturers, would you say, have even guessed that American car-owners were shifting so fast to better tires?

Certainly U. S. Royal Cords have proven this fundamental thing—

For every low-grade tire made there is arising some motorist with a fine, human indifference for it.

He and his kind have become out and out loyalists of Royal Cord Tires—as representing the highest expression of their demands.

Multiply this man by a million or more. Then sit down and weigh his tremendous deciding influence.

Their spirit of leadership is the spirit of constancy—faithfulness—a simple, understandable policy.

U. S. Royal Cords have come to be the measure of value of all automobile tires.

The makers of United States Tires urge upon everybody—manufacturer and dealer alike—a new kind of competition.

Let us compete for more and more public confidence.

Let us compete for higher and higher quality.

Let us compete for still more dependable public service.

Yellow Cab Wants You to Take a Receipt

Once more we remind you that YELLOW CABS are equipped with the Ohmer Fare Register which issues a printed receipt at the end of your ride.

We want you to take it. If the driver should forget to hand it to you, you will oblige us greatly by asking him for it. It is protection for you and protection for him.

That receipt very often proves a valuable possession. It identifies the cab, the date and the driver.

If you should happen to leave something valuable in the cab, as hundreds of people have done and are doing, the receipt will unerringly locate the cab and its driver.

Moreover this receipt shows you the exact amount of fare you should pay—obviates the possibility of overcharging or error and entirely does away with question or argument between you and the man.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of valuables are annually left in YELLOW CABS, and while in most instances they are promptly recovered—promptly turned in by the drivers—we like to have a definite check for your sake, the driver's sake and our sake.

Do you see now what a big thing that receipt is?

This company is not financially interested in the operation of any other cab company in Chicago or any other city in America.

2 MONTHS' DELAY ON COUNTY ROADS IS LAID TO SMALL

Frank Wilson, county commissioner and chairman of the roads and bridges committee, let loose a post election broadside at Gov. Len Small's highway administration yesterday for the two months' delay which the state has caused in the opening of Cook county's road building program.

FRANK WILSON.

"Cook county pays for its good roads and, until the state administration delayed the program this year, has completed the greatest connected highway pavement mileage of any like district in the world," said Mr. Wilson after President Daniel Ryan had appointed a commitee to go to Springfield and urge action on 1922 county road plans.

Can't Understand Delay.

"I don't understand why these plans have been held up, especially now that the state has ordered cement. The people have voted the money for the roads, all of which are paid for from county funds. Our contracts should have been let two months ago so that the builders could have materials on hand right now.

"Preliminary work such as grading, culvert building and the like might have been well under way except for this delay. Our plans have been held up in Springfield ever since we submitted them last December. They call for twenty-two miles of early spring paving and must be approved by the state highway department before we go ahead."

The state highway department will also be asked for the payment of about $2,000,000 in cash, due to Cook county as the state's half of the state aid roads already built and paid for by the county. The highway committee departed for Springfield last night.

Governor Loses Interest.

Chicago road boosters remarked yesterday that Gov. Small's interest in the highway program has appreciably dropped since the primaries. He will be present at neither of the two highway routing meetings officially scheduled by the state highway department in announcements issued this week, although he attended and made his "roads for legislators" bargain at each of the public meetings held before election.

The first public conference announced will be held in Clinton, Ill., tomorrow in connection with the location of state bond issue route 2 between Decatur and Bloomington. The second will be held in Rock Island April 25.

FLAGMAN HURT BOARDING TRAIN.

AUTHORITY GIVEN TO RESTORE FINE ARTS BUILDING

Delegates from the thirty organizations in the second district of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, with a membership of 6,000, at a meeting of the South Park commissioners held yesterday afternoon in the administration building, 56th street and Cottage Grove avenue, received permission from the board to restore, at their own expense, the northeast corner of the old world's fair fine arts building.

Mrs. Albion L. Headburg, chairman of art for the district, and chairman of restoration for the club women of the state, testified that more than $5,000 of the required $7,500 has been pledged by club women.

In granting permission, the south park board stipulated that they be committed to no financial aid, nor to a program of rehabilitation of the rest of the building.

Flat finish paint Egg-shell finish Barreled Sunlight

Paint surfaces photographed under a powerful microscope—each magnified to the same degree

The microscope shows why ordinary paint collects dirt

The first circle shows what flat finish paint looks like under the microscope. The second shows high-grade "egg-shell finish" paint, similarly magnified.

These paints—smooth enough in appearance—are actually rough and porous to an astonishing degree. Walls and woodwork coated with them are bound to collect dirt. They can never be properly cleaned. Water only smudges much of the dirt still deeper into the tiny pores and crevices.

The third circle shows Barreled Sunlight magnified to the same degree. Even under the powerful microscope its surface is smooth and unbroken.

This lustrous, even surface of Barreled Sunlight is highly resistant to all forms of dust and dirt. It has no pores or holes in which the tiny particles can lodge. Even if soiled after years of service it can be washed clean like white tile.

This is why Barreled Sunlight is being used today throughout the country in thousands of homes, hotels, office buildings, stores, industrial plants—for every interior where light and cleanliness are desired.

Easy to apply. Flows freely and leaves no brush marks. Comes ready mixed in cans from half-pint to five-gallon size—barrels and half-barrels.

Reaching All Levels of Purchasing Power

When the Aeolian Co. experimented

The Aeolian advertising story is essentially one of quality. It is a story of prestige and power—the dignified utterance of a great business house that has achieved international organization and scope. In quality it has restricted class appeal. In product—music—it has an appeal that touches the sensibilities of all men.

In 1910 Aeolian Co. used the NEW YORK EVENING JOURNAL experimentally. The results of this experiment are told in Mr. Fletcher's letter. That year Aeolian used only 8,000 lines in the EVENING JOURNAL. In 1921, they used over 119,000. That lineage record tells a story of sales results obtained through the NEW YORK EVENING JOURNAL by the foremost musical instrument house in the world.

In four years Aeolian have used more than half a million lines in the NEW YORK EVENING JOURNAL, which is more than used in any paper in the city. In fact, during 1921, over 61% of their appropriation for the evening field has been placed in that paper.

Thus another commercial experiment conducted by men of merchandising vision and a keen knowledge of local marketing conditions has been carried to success.

Publisher,
New York Evening Journal,
2 Columbus Circle,
New York City.

Dear Sir:-

Answering your inquiry about our ten year advertising experience with the NEW YORK EVENING JOURNAL, we thought you would be interested in this special angle of it:

We began advertising in the Journal expecting to reach a mass of buyers of medium price instruments. That expectation was fully realized - but to our surprise the Journal has brought us in increasing numbers, people able and willing to buy our highest-priced and most artistic products - Duo-Art Reproducing Pianos, Period Model Vocalion Phonographs, Weber Grand Pianos and other merchandise of that nature.

Our experience, however, doubtless parallels that of your other advertisers for in reaching such a numerous public as your paper offers it is logical to assume that this public would represent all levels of purchasing power.

As constant users of your paper since 1912 we should like to express our appreciation for the results we have always obtained.

Yours very truly,
Thos H Fletcher

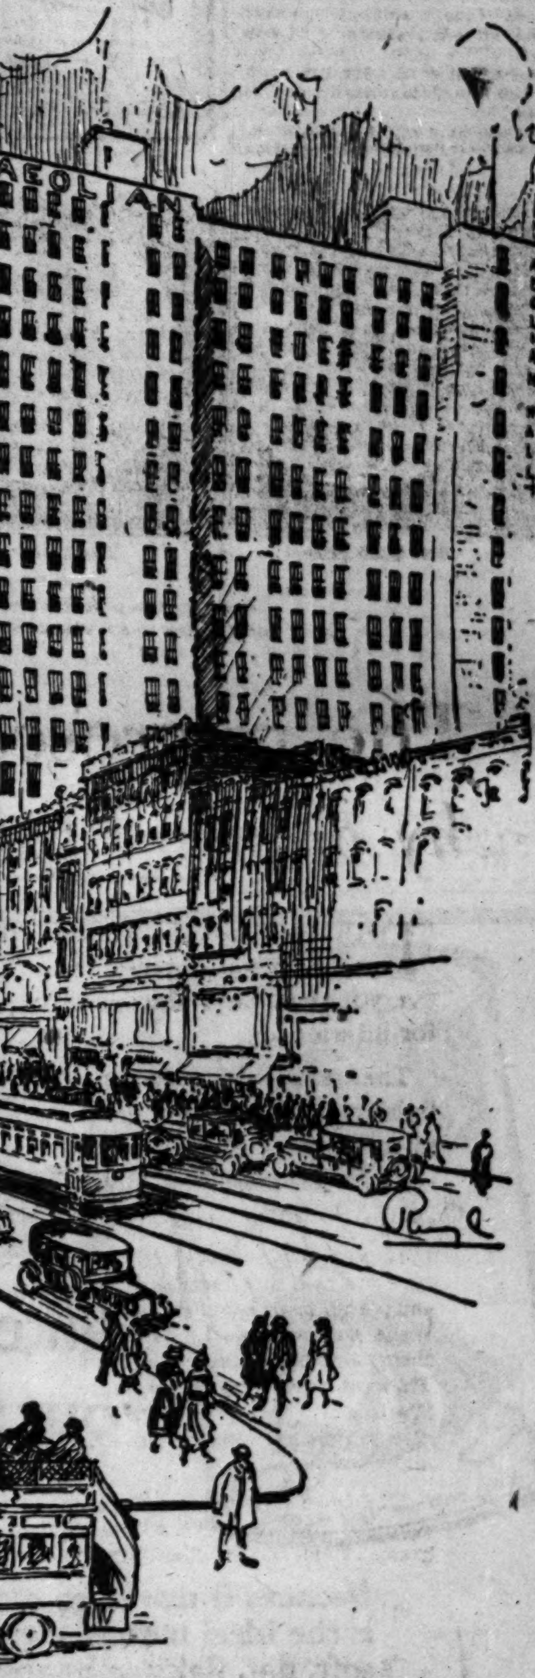
Manager Advertising & Retail Sales



Mr. Fletcher's letter should be of particular interest to every business man who wants to increase his sales in New York, the greatest market in the world, because it tells the experience of a local merchant who knows his market intimately, and who can directly trace the results of his advertising. Every advertiser will find the key to the New York market in the selling power of the NEW YORK EVENING JOURNAL, which is read by over a million people every day.

50 CLUBS JOIN TODAY TO CURB SPEEDER MENACE

Women Drivers Enlist in Safety Campaign.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Direct action featured yesterday's contribution to the coöperative campaign for public safety and against speeders and reckless automobile drivers. The developments included:

Organization of a woman's vigilance committee by fair drivers of the Illinois Automobile club, who pledged themselves to watch for all traffic law violations and report them direct to Chief Charles Fitzmorris. The volunteer organization was formed primarily to "save Chicago children."

Announcement that representatives of fifty clubs will meet today for the organization of a huge citizens' vigilance committee to keep a check on speeders, and to draft recommendations for a change in the state law making it possible to punish persistent reckless drivers with jail sentences rather than fines. Citizens will also take steps to abolish the "fixing" of all speeder cases.

Judge Issues New Orders.

Instructions by Judge Robert Gentzel of the speeders' court to traffic officers, directing them to book all intoxicated drivers and drivers guilty of "assault" under the provisions of the state law, rather than city and park ordinances, thus making it possible to impose bridewell sentences in bad cases.

Announcement of the big loop anti speeder meeting was made by Si Mayer, secretary of the police department and president of the North Shore Motor club. It will be held at noon at the Elk's clubhouse, 174 West Washington street. Judge Gentzel of the speeders' court, Coroner Hoffman, Judge Marcus Kavanagh and Judge Josea Wells will be among the speakers scheduled to talk safety to delegates of more than fifty Chicago clubs.

"We have four objects in view in this citizens' meeting," said Secretary Mayer; "to save the lives of pedestrians and automobile drivers themselves, to reduce automobile insurance rates, to reduce the number of unnecessary arrests, and to release many police officers for the work of looking after major crimes."

Day's Toll One Death.

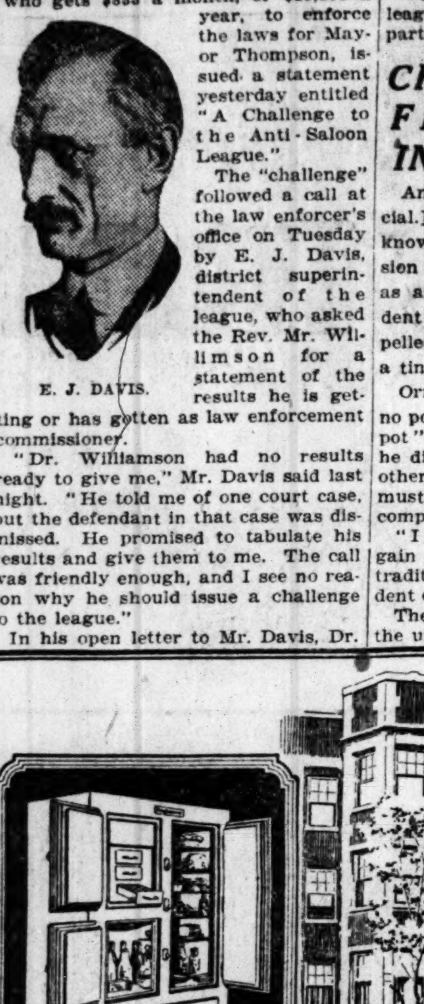
Judge Gentzel ordered a change in law enforcement when a man charged with driving while intoxicated appeared in his court with an arrest slip issued under the city ordinance which does not carry a jail sentence.

One death and one probably fatal injury made up the day's automobile accident report. Clarence Slingo, 7 years old, 5221 Warwick avenue, was struck and killed by an automobile driven by Gordon Townsend, 217 West 63d street, when the boy stepped from the curb and fell under the right front wheel of the car.

STEALS VACUUM CLEANER.

Raymond Girty, 24, of Cincinnati was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction yesterday for stealing a vacuum cleaner.

LAW ENFORCER AND DRY CHIEF IN CONTROVERSY



E. J. DAVIS.

The Rev. John Henry Williamson, who gets $833 a month, or $10,000 a year, to enforce the laws for Mayor Thompson, issued a statement yesterday entitled "A Challenge to the Anti-Saloon League."

The "challenge" followed a call at the law enforcer's office on Tuesday by E. J. Davis, district superintendent of the league, who asked the Rev. Mr. Willimson for a statement of the results he is getting or has gotten as law enforcement commissioner.

"Dr. Williamson had no results ready to give me," Mr. Davis said last night. "He told me of one court case, but the defendant in that case was dismissed. He promised to tabulate his results and give them to me. The call was friendly enough, and I see no reason why he should issue a challenge to the league."

In his open letter to Mr. Davis, Dr. Williamson says that the police are holding fifty barrels of beer on the Municipal pier and that a court order has released the truck in which the beer was taken. The letter implies that the evidence in the case is disapparing and closes with this question:

"Just what can the Anti-Saloon league do to help the police in this particular case?"

CHICAGO YOUTH FLOUTS CUSTOM IN U. OF MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 19.—[Special.]—Louis T. Orr Jr., son of a well known Chicago attorney, faces expulsion from the University of Michigan as an undesirable student. The student council has demanded Orr be expelled because of his refusal to wear a tiny gray cap, insignia of freshmen.

Orr asserts that the university has no power to force him to wear a "frosh pot" or to observe any tradition which he disapproves. The students, on the other hand, insist that the freshman must observe the traditions as well as complete his studies or be expelled.

"I am attending this university to gain an education, not to follow your traditions," is Orr's answer to the student council.

The matter is now in the hands of the university authorities.

Practical and Profitable Equipment for Apartments

Many apartment-house owners in Chicago agree with Mr. Schiesswohl that—"Frigidaire has added much to the value of my apartments. The tenants would be loath to rent any apartment not equipped with this kind of refrigeration."

Desirable tenants appreciate modern conveniences and comforts, and the wise Apartment Builder looks ahead to the day when mechanical refrigeration will be in general use just as vacuum cleaners are today.

Old Dutch Cleanser
Chases Dirt
MAKES EVERYTHING "SPICK AND SPAN"

Old Dutch
out of cleaning

Because it works so quickly and easily. It is the ideal natural cleanser—made from a soft, flat, flaky substance mined from the earth. There is nothing else like it.

In cleaning, these soft flakes break down into many similar smaller flakes. They lie flat on the surface and make a clean sweep, erasing the dirt instead of scratching it off as grit does. This is why Old Dutch makes the work easy for you.

Every particle of Old Dutch cleans. Grit merely touches the surface with its points—it scratches and scars. Then the dirt is ground in, but Old Dutch will clean it out because the flat flakes get right down into the scratches and crevices and remove all the dirt without digging deeper.

For all household cleaning Old Dutch gives you superior results and saves you money. Put it on the job today!

Old Dutch won't roughen

CANNERS FIGHT RESTRICTIONS ON CHICAGO PACKERS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—Validity of the consent decree which restrains the Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson, and Cudahy packing interests from engaging in unrelated lines of business is attacked in a petition filed today in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia by the California Coöperative Canneries.

It is asked that the court entirely vacate the injunction, which was issued on Feb. 27, 1920, or at least modify it radically to permit the use of the packers' distributing facilities in the marketing of unrelated commodities, either by allowing the packers to engage in dealing in such commodities, as was previously permitted, or by allowing them to handle such commodities on a commission basis.

Agree to Commisison Basis.

It is stated in the petition that at least two of the packers, Armour & Co. and Wilson & Co., have indicated a willingness to distribute food products on a commission basis if permitted to do so.

The petition declares that under such a scheme the speculative features in the handling of foods would be eliminated. Such a plan, it is asserted, "would enable the producers, canners, and food manufacturers to reach the small dealers at the lowest possible cost, while the consumption of the products would be increased because of the lower prices, and thus both the producing and consuming classes would be benefited."

Grocers' Bodies Attacked.

The petition vigorously assails the National Wholesale Grocers' association and the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, who oppose modification of the decree, and charges that their influence caused Attorney General Palmer to force the packers to consent to the injunction in 1920. It is alleged that by thus getting rid of the competition of the packers in the grocery lines the wholesale grocers were enabled to put the producers, the retailers, and the consumers at their mercy and thus arbitrarily and artificially keep up the prices of food.

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIRMEN HALTED BY BROKEN PLANE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 19.—Owing to the damage to their airplane when they alighted at St. Paul Rock yesterday Capts. Coutinho and Sacadura of the Portuguese navy, who were flying from Portugal to Brazil, have been forced to abandon their flight for the present.

Both the floats and a wing of the airplane were damaged so severely as to make an immediate resumption of the flight impossible. It is stated that Portugal is considering sending another plane for the aviators to resume their journey.

[Und. & Und. Photo.]

Rumors that an immense fortune had been left by the recenlty deceased Bohemian twins, Rosa and Josefa Blazek, were dispelled yesterday when petition for letters of guardianship filed before Assistant Probate Judge Paul Corkell, indicated the probable value of their estate at $400.

The petition, filed in behalf of Frank Blazek, a brother, seeks the appointment of Attorney Joseph F. Triska, as the guardian of Frank Blazek, the 11 year old son of Rosa.

Four Out of Five Wait Too Long—

Are your gums tender—do they ever bleed when you brush your teeth?

If so—see your dentist at once and start using Forhan's For the Gums. You have the first symptoms of Pyorrhea.

Incredible as it seems, four people out of every five past the age of forty, and thousands younger, have Pyorrhea.

If neglected Pyorrhea soon runs its deadly course. It loosens teeth until they drop out or must be pulled, and it causes those deadly pus pockets to which scientists now attribute so much serious illness.

If you use Forhan's For the Gums consistently, and use it in time, you can prevent Pyorrhea or arrest its course.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's twice each day. It will keep your teeth and gums in a clean healthy condition.

Don't delay longer. Four out of five fall victims to Pyorrhea because they waited too long. 35c and 60c tubes, at your druggist's.

SATURDAY

AWOKE and found that the prunes I stewed last night had been served. At seven-ten by the kitchen clock I went to the oven with some breakfast food to crisp. Then I was given six eggs which, after warming up to my work and with the aid of a cover, I poached with a little less than one-half the amount of heat ordinarily used. You see, I heat up evenly all over, hold the heat a long time and, therefore, I save a lot of fuel.

After breakfast I made a delicious rice pudding for luncheon. The children love the kind I make. And, then it became a question of whether I would make soup, or heat up a can of beans. The soup won.

Later in the afternoon I was given the delightful job of molding fruit gelatine. That being turned out onto a dish and placed in the ice box, I was sent to the oven to make a chicken pie.

Tonight I'm in the refrigerator keeping some food cold. Because of the thickness of the aluminum from which I am made, I absorb cold as well as I absorb heat. And, being made of hard, cold-rolled metal, I resist the action of strong food acids, I do not absorb odors or flavors, and I am safe and sanitary.

Tomorrow is Sunday. I always start Sunday upside down—inverted over a dish of griddle cakes to keep them hot. I love that job, too.

Get this useful pan TODAY

THIS two-quart "Wear-Ever" Pudding Pan which regularly sells for $1.10 is offered to you now at 49¢—and for a reason!

Because we know that if you once use a "Wear-Ever" aluminum kitchen utensil you ALWAYS will look for the "Wear-Ever" trademark on the bottom of EVERY cooking utensil you buy.

That is WHY we are making it unusually easy for you to TRY "Wear-Ever."

The two-quart "Wear-Ever" Pudding Pan has been chosen to show you the difference between "Wear-Ever" utensils and the ordinary kind because it has such a great number of daily uses in any kitchen. And the more you will use a "Wear-Ever" utensil the more convinced you will become that "Wear-Ever" utensils ARE different from the ordinary kind.

"Wear-Ever" utensils are made from metal that is HARDER, TOUGHER, DENSER. They are made from sheet aluminum that has been cold-rolled under enormous pressure for the purpose of putting INTO it the years and years of SERVICE that you will get OUT of it.

You should not confuse "Wear-Ever" utensils with thin, flimsy utensils that have little more than a bright finish to commend them—and whose prices alone indicate the kind of service you may expect.

Get this "Wear-Ever" Pudding Pan TODAY. Put it in your kitchen for a real service test. Then, you will KNOW why more than two million women prefer "Wear-Ever" and insist upon getting it. And then, too, you will KNOW why it pays to replace utensils that wear out with utensils that "Wear-Ever."

Cullerton Is Given New Powers.

JOHN F. CULLERTON.

Fire Marshal Thomas O'Connor will remain as chief of the fire department "for the present" Mayor Thompson said yesterday in commenting on the demand of the Chicago board of fire underwriters for "immediate action," including O'Connor's removal, to reëstablish "harmony and confidence" in the department.

The mayor said he will take no action until the council committee on fire, police and civil service, which begins a new inquiry into the department this morning, has made its report.

Cullerton in Charge.

Yesterday was replete with sensations in the fire department row. In the council the words "gold diggers," "exploiters," "vultures," and "thieves" were used in debate. As if in defiance of the underwriters' recommendations, Business Manager John F. Cullerton took direct control of the marshal's office, and ordered the doors locked except during office hours "to keep gossipers and trouble makers" out of the office.

The order putting Cullerton in charge was signed by Chief O'Connor, who announced that he has no intention of quitting and that his health, declared by the underwriters to be bad, was never better in his life.

In addition to the marshal's order, Mr. Cullerton announced that twenty-eight of the 122 fire engineers in the department will be retired next Saturday as incapacitated by reason of their age.

Trouble in Council.

In the council the bad feeling between Mr. Cullerton and Assistant Chiefs Buckley and McDonnell, the former recommended for the chiefship by the underwriters, broke out in the form of a heated debate when Ald. Albert introduced a resolution to widen the aldermanic inquiry now under way.

"It is charged that one man is running the fire department, while the chief is incapacitated," Ald. Albert said. "It is charged that gold diggers, exploiters, vultures and thieves are preying on the city in the purchase of supplies. Let's find out. Let's take the lid off as Chairman Armitage of the fire committee promised, only to quit when we were about to get somewhere."

Armitage came back with a defense of his actions and promised that Mr. Cullerton would appear before the committee and answer questions. Armitage asked that the Albert resolution be filed, but the "kid alderman," as Albert is called because of his youth, hammered away and finally got the resolution sent to committee.

Zina R. Carter, Republican candidate for mayor in 1899 and former president of the Board of Trade, died yesterday at Columbus hospital after a short illness. He was 75 years old.

Mr. Carter came to Chicago in 1871 and founded the Z. R. Carter & Bro. feed and flour business, now located at 16th and Halsted streets. He was a member of the Board of Trade for nearly forty years and was active in civic and business affairs of the city. He was a brother of Judge Orrin N. Carter.

In 1895 Mr. Carter was elected alderman from the old Tenth ward. He later resigned to accept a place as trustee of the sanitary district, serving until 1905. He was at one time president of the board. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Maude W. Carter; two sons, Roscoe D. and Zina R. Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Mildred C. Miller and Mrs. Helen McConnell.

Funeral services will take place at Rosehill chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

FIRST EVIDENCE IN M'CALLUM DIVORCE HEARD

Following his fourth unsuccessful attempt to effect a reconciliation between William Wallace McCallum, attorney, and Mrs. Helen Hoeck McCallum, Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday consented to hear their bill and cross bill for divorce.

Mrs. McCallum, recently the center of a hair pulling and hat pin battle in the La Salle hotel, when she was discovered in company with Lester Du Vall of 814 Sunnyside avenue by Mrs. Du Vall, filed suit for divorce. She charged cruelty and accused McCallum with undue intimacy with Miss Gertrude Franz.

In a cross bill McCallum named Du Vall, who has since been sued for divorce by Mrs. Du Vall, who charged that Du Vall married her without first obtaining a divorce from a previous wife.

In corroboration of the charges of cruelty, Mrs. Judith Bea, 3247 Belle Plaine avenue, a neighbor, testified that on Jan. 14, 1922, she had attempted to defend Mrs. McCallum from McCallum, whom she alleged "threw her into a corner."

Following the announcement by Attorney Bidwill that Miss Alice Daniels, a model, and an important witness for Mrs. McCallum, had mysteriously disappeared, Judge Sabath continued the case until April 25.

Reclamation Project Is Approved by Harding

Washington, D. C., April 19.—Approval of President Harding for the McNary bill providing for creation of a $350,000,000 revolving fund to be used for development of western and southern reclamation and drainage projects was given today to a congressional delegation that called at the White House.

Bird's Neponset Rugs

Re-New your Floors the Bird's Neponset Way.

THE sensible way, the attractive way, the most inexpensive way, as thousands of thrifty home-keepers are discovering.

For a summer living room, there is nothing so acceptable. For the porch, the dining room, the summer sleeping room, one of these beautiful, cool-looking, colorful Bird's Neponset Rugs is most desirable.

And for the kitchen, bathroom, hallway, pantry—winter and summer—women who make a fixed practice of getting one hundred cents worth out of every dollar will tell you there is nothing else nearly so practical.

And, to all the good points of other rugs of this type—attractive patterns, quickly cleanable surface, stainproof, waterproof—there is another and an added advantage for you to think about—

A Bird's Neponset Rug has a waxed back. This is a patented process which waterproofs the rug to a much higher degree than the back of other floor coverings. And, because of the waxed back, there is no danger of the rug sticking to the floor or of permanently staining it.

Rug sizes: 6 ft. x 9 ft.; 7 ft. 6 in. x 9 ft.; 9 ft. x 10 ft. 6 in.; 9 ft. x 12 ft. Come in and see these inexpensive new-idea rugs. Come in Today. The new Spring patterns are here.

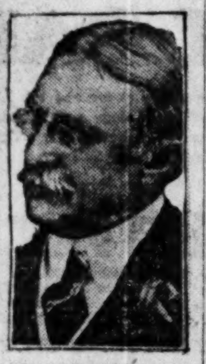
SUBDIVIDER BUYS SELFRIDGE HOME AT LAKE GENEVA

Lake Geneva, Wis., for years the summer refuge of Chicago's gold coast millionaries, famous both for its natural beauty and its magnificent estates, is going to have such a commonplace thing as a real estate subdivision. Harry Gordon Selfridge, former Chicagoan and now London department store owner, has sold his Harrose hall, a French gothic stone, timber and tile residence, overlooking Lake Geneva, and standing on a forty-eight acre estate, for $200,000 to Edward C. Waller Jr., who will at once subdivide it. Chandler, Hildreth & Co. represented both parties.



HARRY GORDON SELFRIDGE.
[Marshall Syndicate Photo.]

The Selfridge property adjoins Ceylon court, John J. Mitchell's summer home, and also Mr. Waller's warm weather residence. It has 1,000 feet of lake frontage.

Mr. Waller will cut twenty-seven acres up into acre and acre and a half lots to sell for $2,000 up to $8,500, and build houses to sell from $8,000 to $10,000. Architect Robert T. Newberry is drawing plans.

The new owner says he'll dispose of his houses to exclusive clients up to May 1. From that date to May 30 he'll advertise them and then if there are any left he'll auction them off. If the big Selfridge residence isn't bought he'll auction off the furniture on May 30 and use the building materials for his smaller houses.

NEWS WRITER TO TELL WHENCE COME WRITERS

"Whence come the best writers for the great papers and how are they trained?" are questions which Paul T. Gilbert, feature writer for the Chicago Evening Post, is going to answer this evening in his lecture before Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern university. It is one of his contentions that good feature writers are "not recruited from the centers of sophistication" and he will tell why.

The lecture, which is open to the public, will be given at 31 West Lake street at 8:15 o'clock.

M'CORMICKS NOT TO LEAVE CITY; HAVE NO PLANS

Harold F. McCormick, in an interview last night, contradicted the rumor that he and his daughter, Mathilde, will leave Chicago within three days for a week in New York peparatory to their sailing for Europe.

"There is no truth whatever in the statement that we are to leave Chicago soon," said Mr. McCormick. "We have made no plans of any kind."

This statement of Mr. McCormick's coincides with that made by Miss Mathilde Tuesday at the stage debut of her sister, Muriel. "I have no plans," insisted Mathilde. "I am just living from day to day."

Miss Mathilde, whose engagement to Max Oser, Swiss horseman, was announced several weeks ago, returned Monday with her brother, Fowler, from the McCormick farm near Virginia Hot Springs, especially to witness the performance of "Le Passant," in which Muriel McCormick took the stellar rôle.

Chicago toy manufacturers gathered 100 strong at the Sherman hotel yesterday to organize a Chicago Toy association to promote the annual exhibition of toys held here. The association hopes to make the Chicago exhibition larger than that of New York.

Council Can't Regulate Rents, Ettelson Rules

Direct regulation of rents is within the power of the state legislature, but is not within the power of the city council, Corporation Counsel Ettelson decided yesterday in an opinion rendered to the city council in the light of the recent United States Supreme court decision upholding the New York rent commission law.

'TIZ' FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

How long has this been going on?

MEN naturally fall into two groups on all sorts of questions. Some think cheerfully and are optimists. Others think sourly and are pessimists. It is largely by accident that one is a liberal and the other a conservative, or that one believes in Santa Claus and the other doesn't.

That is why certain men just naturally see the place that printed matter has in selling. They wouldn't dream of asking their salesmen to undertake their work without the support of mailings.

And opposite these are the doubters. "Circulars," they say, "are as common as dirt. Can't be effective." And so their salesmen carry the whole load of selling.

Once in a while, by accident, one of these doubters tries the effect of printed mailings. If it is a good campaign, he gets results that open his eyes, and he wonders, "How long has this been going on?"

WEDDING SILVER TRADITIONS

THE Traditions surrounding the use of Sterling Silver are among the most revered of all our social customs. That Silver and Weddings go inviolably together is perhaps the most beautiful phase of such Traditions.

A bride of the old Dutch Colonies, bending over the oaken chest which held her shining spoons and heavy, gleaming bowls, could have had no greater joy in them than brides still feel today in Wedding Gifts of Silver.

The Woman He Forgot

Blue Ribbon Fiction

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

SYNOPSIS.

Nora Clayton, beautiful and still young, although she is the mother of a 19 year old son, returns to England after an exile of seventeen years. Her real name is Eileen Thorpe. She had been married when extremely young to Lucien Thorpe, whom she had loved devotedly, although he was blind and had been blind from birth. Lucien had been made to believe his young wife loved another man and had betrayed him. With her 2 year old child he had cast her out of his house. Shortly afterward she and the child had been in a bad railway accident, and she allowed her husband and friends to believe they had been killed.

Nora is brought back to England by the news that her son, Bill, had been ensnared by Lady Helen Margenty, a woman years older than the boy. She meets her son at the home of her friend, Fanny Flute. Nora is overcome with emotion when she meets her husband, who also is a guest in Fanny's home. He is no longer blind. He and Bill are friends. Fanny tells Nora her own story, in ignorance of Nora's real identity. Lucien does not recognize his wife. Nora and her son quarrel about Lady Helen. They are already married, but Helen makes Bill promise to keep it secret even from his mother.

INSTALLMENT XVI.

THE YOUNG HUSBAND IS PUNISHED.

They irritated her beyond endurance and the quarrel with Bill put the cap on it. Why had it been her fate to fall in love with a penniless undergraduate? Her father cynically explained the undergraduate part of it on a physiological basis. "Getting a little on in life, Helen, we need the refreshment of youth. Do you ever catch me making eyes at a dear old lady of sixty?"

This might explain, but it did not satisfy her wonder at herself for falling in love with Bill Clayton. He gave her no intellectual stimulus, but perhaps she did not require it of him. Lucien Thorpe, on the other hand, had always fired her imagination.

Years ago she had been as desperately in love with Lucien as she now was with Bill. Had she ever really got over it? That is to say, entirely over it. She had done a mad, cruel thing where Lucien was concerned—something she never liked to think about afterwards; something for which she had told herself she was not really responsible.

It had happened in a big country house at a fancy dress ball where towards the end of the evening everybody had gone a little mad. Lucien had brought his young wife, not for his own pleasure, but for hers. Helen remembered her dimly—"a silly little thing," wearing an old fashioned Columbine costume with a slit of a black satin mask. A guards officer named Fairchild, one of the house party, was supposed to be deeply in love with her, and it was assumed that she was deceiving her blind husband.

"Do be reasonable, darling."

The full extent of that evening's madness can only be gauged by results.

There had been plenty of champagne at supper, dancing again afterwards. Helen had danced with Lucien and scolded him for his ultra-domesticity. Then, a little later—how had it happened exactly? Often she had wondered, for the details were by no means clear.

One of her most successful parlor tricks at that time was the gift of mimicry. She could have made a fortune at it on the music hall stage.

Somehow she found herself alone with the dashing Capt. Fairchild. Already they had exchanged their confidences and were on terms of friendly intimacy. And in some curious fashion—a suggestion from him or from the devil—she was prompted to play a love scene with him in the voice of Eileen Thorpe, Lucien's wife. All the time she knew, and she believed that Capt. Fairchild knew, that Lucien had stood for a moment clutching the curtains in the doorway, his eyes dwelling in agony upon the scene which unfortunately he could only hear, not see.

"Please, mater. I want to be with you. You must tell me more accurately how things stand. Do you really take me for a conscienceless brute?"

"All right, dear. If you want me to. Do you mind if I don't change?"

His manner became brisk and cheerful. He examined his watch and found the time to be a little after 6. If he didn't have to get into his evening things, he could take a taxi around to Clavertons Square and explain to Helen in person. That would be better than telephoning. And if that Margenty man was still there!——

"I'll get some tickets. I don't suppose you mind what show it is. I'll be back here about 7:30, perhaps a little before, and we'll have a jolly evening."

The face of a house can tell a story to those with eyes to read.

As Bill Clayton jumped out and dismissed his taxi in Claverton Square, he received an occult impression that something was wrong behind the chintz curtains. The windows faced east and looked vaccuous, coldly stupid. He ran up the steps and rank the bell.

"Her ladyship is dressing for dinner, sir," said the man servant.

Bill remembered that he was supposed to be taking Helen to Palermo's that evening. She was fond of dancing. He hated to break the engagement with her, hated the scene she might make, but he could not help feeling a little relieved that whatever happened, he would escape an evening in a ballroom. Very likely it wouldn't be crowded, and it was cool in the club pavilion down by the river, but dancing in August is no joke for one who must go to it clad in broadcloth and starched linen.

"Ask her ladyship if she could possibly see me for a moment?" he said hurriedly. "Tell her it's rather important."

In a moment the correct servant was back, trying not to look scandalized.

"Her ladyship will see you, sir."

Bill followed him up to the second floor, where he opened a door and announced, "Mr. Clayton, my lady," in a voice from which the stiffness was not quite brushed out.

It was Helen's dressing room, and she sat at the wide mirrored table, clad sufficiently but somewhat diaphanously. As Bill entered her maid dropped a Venetian lace shawl over her bare shoulders. She held a lipstick in one hand and a tortoise shell hand glass in the other. Her fuzzy red hair was confined in a jeweled net cap, with a rather startling aigrette sweeping down to her left shoulder.

"I'll ring when I want you, Sanford," she said to the maid, an elderly woman of prim aspect, who veiled her eyes as she sidled from the room.

"Really, Helen, you shouldn't have had me shown up here," Bill protested. He felt most uncomfortable. "What will the servants think?"

"What will the servants think?" she mimicked, crossly. "I haven't time to consider the profundity of their meditations. You wanted to see me in a hurry, didn't you? Well, it was just as easy for you to come up here as for me to go down." She laid aside the lipstick and mirror, and turned to face him, crossing one knee over the other and clasping them with her hands. "What is it, Bill? You're not due for an hour yet. What's happened?"

He told her apologetically.

For a moment she stared at him as though it were impossible to believe what she heard. Then her eyes darted red fire.

"Are you trying to tell me that you've dared to break our engagement without even telephoning or consulting me?"

"That's what I've come for, Helen. Surely you must understand. Do be reasonable, darling."

He bent down with the intention of kissing her, but she pushed him away violently.

"Don't touch me! Can't you see I'm dressing? Let me get this quite straight. You're going to take your mother out because she is lonely. Well, I shall be lonely, too."

"But, Helen, she's unhappy; she's not well, I think. Something has gone wrong with her affairs and she won't tell me unless I coax her. After all, I must show her some attention. She has no friends in London."

"Go on, go on, my child. You'll have me weeping in a minute. Your mother looks as though she could scare up a friend or two on short notice. What about Lucien Thorpe? It didn't take her long to get off with him."

It was the first disillusion. Bill found himself regarding his wife with a suspicion of distaste. Between her and his mother he felt considerably bewildered. Those two whom he had hoped would love each other and become fast friends had conceived a mutual antipathy at first sight. The one was as cruel and unreasonable as the other.

"I don't think you can know what you're saying," he said coldly.

Her reply was the look of a schoolmistress with a birch in her hand. She unfolded her knees and got up slowly, her reddened lips set in a fine line, and crossed the room to a table where the telephone stood, hidden under the stiffly flounced petticoats of a little bisque lady with powdered curls and an engaging simper. Lifting off this "cosy" Helen applied herself to the instrument.

Bill stood watching her indecisively. It was in his mind to snatch the thing out of her hand, but he had been a little too well bred for such violence.

When she gave the number he knew she was ringing up Lucien Thorpe, and it set his teeth on edge. He hadn't felt any too good tempered towards her since the incident of Mr. Margenty that afternoon.

"Hullo, Lucien. This is Helen. . . . O' I'm very well, thank you. I'm ringing up about what you asked me yesterday afternoon. Are you free this evening? . . . Good! Bill had promised to take me to Palermo's, but he's dished me in favor of his mother. . . . Yes. It's awfully sweet of you, Julien. Come for me at eight. Au revoir!"

A slow flush crept up the boy's face and his hands clenched nervously. He had had his birching.

"You may go now, Bill," his wife said.

"You're doing this just—just to hurt me," he blurted out.

"O, no—only to avoid a dull evening. . . . Good-by, Bill. Let me know when you've got a moment to spare."

(Enter Sanford.)

"Will you be in if I come around later, Helen?"

She smiled sweetly on him. "I couldn't say, Billy. Anyway, it would be considerably later. Sanford, where did you put that little emerald bow pin? I can't seem to find it anywhere."

Bill was dismissed. He could not continue the argument before Sanford, and there was nothing else to do but go.

When he got outside he remembered his curious impression that something was wrong in that house, but he did not know what it was.

LOCAL POLITICS URGED ON WOMEN BY LADY ASTOR

'One Sex Can't Rule,' She Says in First Speech.

New York, April 19.—Lady Astor made her maiden American political speech in the town hall tonight to about 1,200 members and guests of the New York league of Women Voters.

Speaking slowly and distinctly, albeit betraying an occasional flash of the nervousness she said she felt, the first of her sex in the British parliament related how Viscount Astor "drove" her into public life, and then made a plea to American women to "get into politics, especially local politics."

It was Lord Astor, said Lady Astor, who started her on "this downward career from home to the house." Her husband, she explained, was a born social reformer, but he had avoided the pitfall of thinking one could right wrongs with philanthropy. He realized that one must go to the bottom of the wrongs and so for eleven years at Plymouth she had found out the wrongs and he had tried to right them.

"One Sex Cannot Govern."

One sex cannot govern alone, Lady Astor declared. She believed one of the reasons civilization had failed so lamentably was that it has had one sided government.

"Don't let us make the mistake of ever allowing that to happen again," she said. "I can conceive of nothing worse than a man governed world, except a woman governed world, but I can see the combination of the two going forward and making civilization more worthy the name of civilization based on Christianity, not force—a civilization based on justice and mercy. I feel men have a greater sense of justice and we of mercy. They must borrow our mercy and we must use their justice."

"Ever since woman's consciousness looked beyond the material," she said, "men's consciousness has feared her vaguely; he has gone to her for inspiration, he has relied on her for all that is best and most ideal in his life, yet by sheer material force he has limited her. He has without knowing it westernized the harem mind of the east.

Must Prove "Better Half."

"I don't believe he knows it yet, so we must break it to him gently. We must go on being his guide, his mother, and his better half. But we must prove to him that we are a necessary half, not only in private but in political life. The best way that we can do that is to show him our ambitions are not personal.

"Let the men see that we desire a better, safer, and cleaner world for our children and their children. We realize that only by doing our bit, by facing unclean things with cleanliness, by facing wrongs with right, by going fearlessly into all things that may be disagreeable, and we will somehow make it a little better world."

Greeted Upon Arrival.

A smiling, pretty, youthful matron, scintillating observations in unconventional language on a dozen different subjects for the benefit of the ship news reporters who met her this afternoon on the White Star liner Olympic—that was Lady Astor, M. P., but really Nancy Witcher Langhorne, Virginia born, first British member of British parliament, who was "coming home" for the first time in eight years.

When the photographers' flashlight "stills" and the movies began to grind and questions to fly, she exclaimed: "Getting into paliament was a picnic alongside of this!" Then she laughed and shouted: "Help! Help! Where's my husband? Steward, fetch my husband!"

The jovial viscount, however, on the outskirts of the reportorial crowd, refused to go to the "rescue."

In brief, here are some more of Lady Astor's observations made to ship reporters:

"The flapper? I like her and if there's any criticism of clothes, don't blame the girls—blame the parents!

"I think the most important piece of legislation I have championed is the amendment of the criminal law dealing with the cases of unfortunate unmarried mothers.

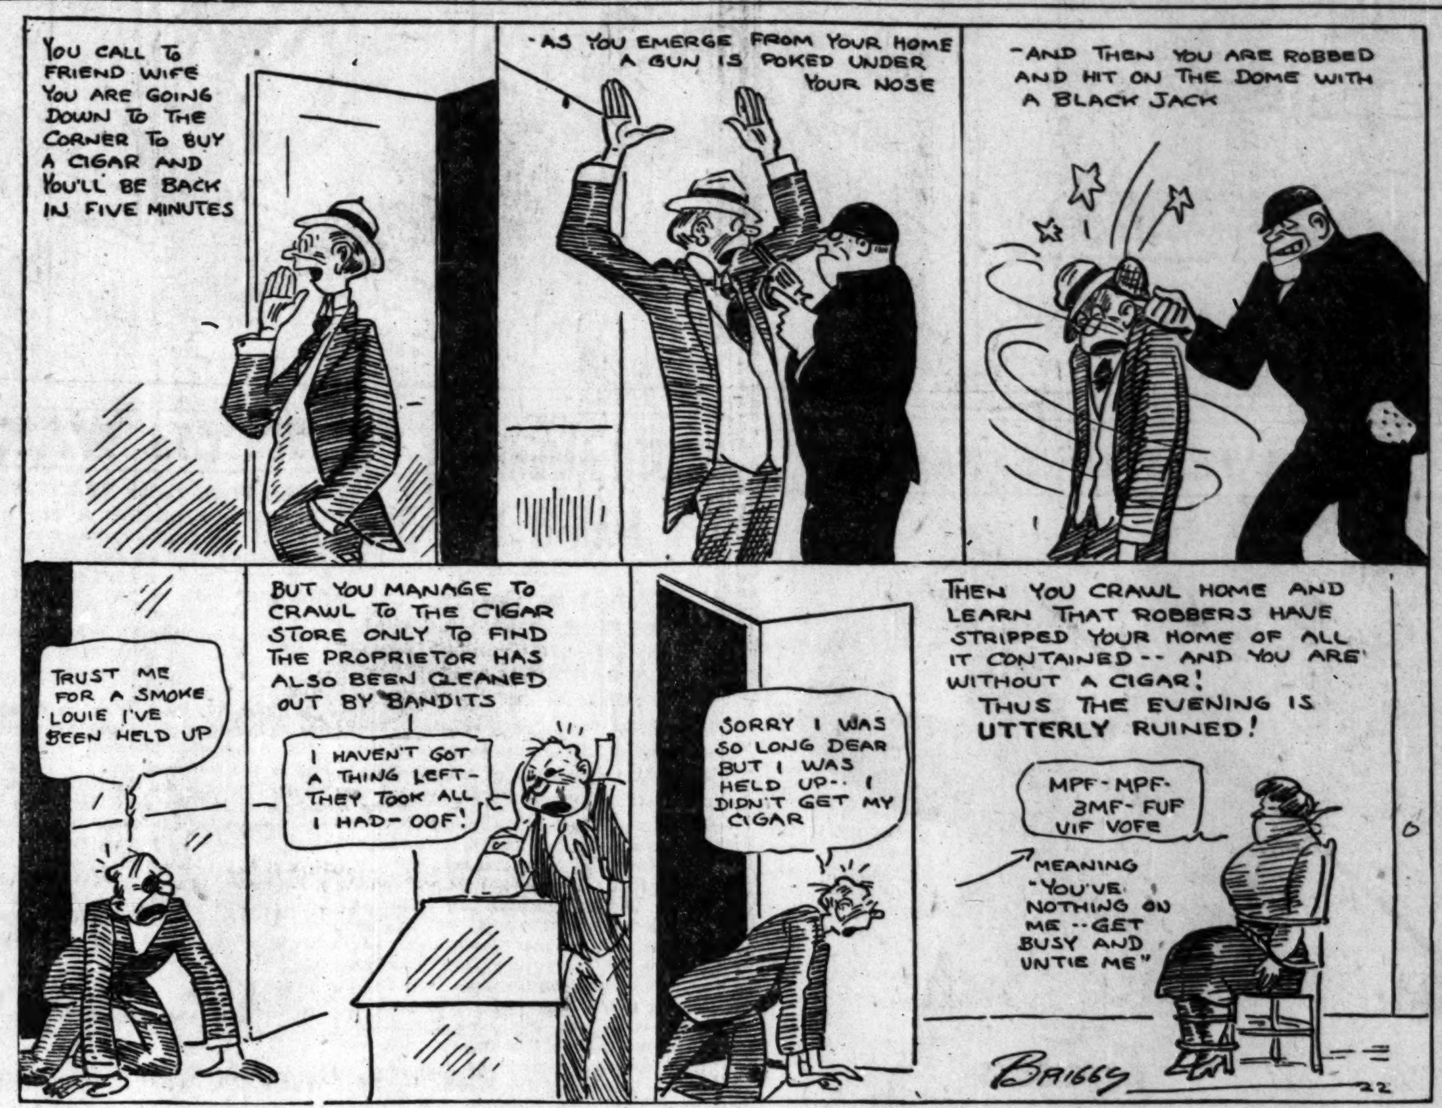
"The best way to get at the men is to get at them when they are children. I've come over to help women focus their attention on their responsibilities. What's the use of having votes if you don't use them?

"Of course, women have a different political point of view from men's, or there wouldn't be any sense to admitting them to public life—that would merely double the number of voters."

IN CHICAGO MAY 15.

May 15 will be Lady Astor day in Chicago. Woman leaders in club and civic work have united in the reception which is being planned.

HOW TO START THE EVENING WRONG



YOU CALL TO FRIEND WIFE YOU ARE GOING DOWN TO THE CORNER TO BUY A CIGAR AND YOU'LL BE BACK IN FIVE MINUTES

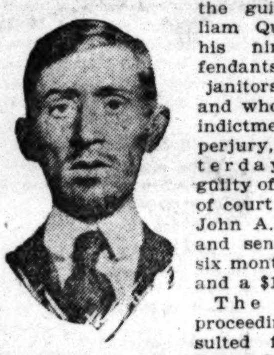
QUESSE JUROR SENT TO JAIL FOR FALSIFYING

Judge Rules He Evaded Questions.

Theodore G. Lodin, who was a member of the jury which disagreed as to the guilt of William Quesse and his nine co-defendants in the janitors' trial, and who is under indictment for perjury, was yesterday found guilty of contempt of court by Judge John A. Swanson and sentenced to six months in jail and a $100 fine.



THEODORE LODIN. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

The contempt proceedings resulted from Lodin's failure to make satisfactory answers to an interrogatory filed against him by Special Prosecutor Edwin A. Raber and which concerned alleged false answers made by Lodin during his examination for the Quesse jury.

Following the disposal of Lodin's case, the court took up the second trial of Quesse and his aids. Attorney Joseph Harrington, counsel for Robert Osterberg and Gus Anderson, two defendants and agents of the janitors' union, presented a plea for a change of venue.

The petition was backed by affidavits of Henry A. Erlinger, 7354 Yates avenue, and E. N. Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who alleged that Judge Swanson was prejudiced against the defendants.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In the story of the funeral of the late Capt. Anson which appeared in THE TRIBUNE Tuesday morning credit was given to Augie Kieckhefer for one of the floral pieces. Mr. Kieckhefer wishes to state the credit should be given to the Kieckhefer Recreation company and fellow billiard players, by whom the floral offering was sent.

In the same story Tom Foley was mentioned as president of the Old Timers' Baseball association. Mr. Frank Keefer is president of the association and has held that office since its organization in 1919.

In yesterday's TRIBUNE it was stated that the poster, to which Arthur Burrage Farwell had called the attention of the Rev. John Henry Williamson, city hall law enforcer, advertised a motion picture shown on Michigan avenue. The poster does not advertise a motion picture, but a stage play.

LAWYER'S WIFE NAMES 'RAINCOAT GIRL' IN DIVORCE

Startling Scene in His Office Described.

Mrs. Josephine Carlson of 6551 Normal avenue, who is the wife of Joel C. Carlson, lawyer and member of the athletic committee of the Hamilton club, yesterday filed suit for divorce. She names as co-respondent Miss Anna Weissbrodt of 4452 North Western avenue, Mr. Carlson's stenographer, and bases her allegations on a startling incident which she says occurred about two weeks ago in her husband's office at 10 South La Salle street.

Early one morning Mrs. Carlson walked into her husband's suite in the Otis building. Attorneys Morris Levinson, Samuel J. Hachtman and Emanuel Greenwald, who occupy other offices in the suite, were there, and Miss Theresa Fels, stenographer for Attorney Hugh R. Porter, sat working at her desk.

Finds Door Locked.

Miss Weissbrodt had gone into Attorney Carlson's office, and when Mrs Carlson entered, Attorney Levinson, who was unacquainted with her stepped forward and asked her whom she wished to see. Mrs. Carlson made no reply. She simply smiled at Levinson, walked around him, and tried the door of Attorney Carlson's private office.

The door was locked and would not open. Without a word, Mrs. Carlson raised an umbrella she carried and smashed the opaque, frozen glass panel in the door. Then she turned quickly: "Come here and see what I see!" she said to the three lawyers, Levinson, Hachtman, and Greenwald, and to Miss Fels. They ran to the door in a body attracted by Mrs. Carlson's palpable excitement.

Slips Into Raincoat.

They saw Miss Weissbrodt hastily slip into a raincoat which happened to be handy.

At this juncture Attorney Paul A. Neuffer, who has offices two floors above Attorney Carlson's suite, and who is a relative of Mrs. Carlson, rushed in. He demanded to know what the situation was.

Mr. Carlson meanwhile protested his and Miss Weissbrodt's innocence of any wrong. But Mrs. Carlson would pay no attention to him. She simply walked to his desk, seized the pictures of their three children, and then gave Miss Weissbrodt some kindly advice.

Gives Rival Advice.

"He has used you for a toy—a plaything," she told the young woman. "I am going to divorce him. Make him do the right thing by you. I am sorry for you."

Attorney Grover C. Niemeyer of Hoyne, Barnhart, McKay & Niemeyer, who filed suit for Mrs. Carlson, refused to discuss the case. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Carlson could be reached last night.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 each for questions which are accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send in your name and address with your questions to "The Inquiring Reporter, Chicago Tribune." No questions will be returned. For today's question, Mrs. V. Weston, 3344 Monroe street, Chicago, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Should married life be fifty-fifty, or should the husband be the boss?

Where Asked.

The Answers.

Mrs. Gladys McCarthy, 2204 North Sacramento avenue—Married life decidedly should be fifty-fifty—neither husband nor wife should be boss. That is the only way in which happiness can be maintained. They must go hand in hand from the church to the grave.

Ben Allegretti, 718 Grace street, candy manufacturer—It takes two to run the house and the bossing should be divided between them. In other words, it should be 50-50. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" applies to both.

Mrs. Zelma Hoffman, 840 North Robey street, saleslady—Married life should be fifty-fifty, so far as possible. However, I feel the ultimate decision of the husband should be followed in a case of serious disagreement, but in the majority of cases the fifty-fifty plan will turn the trick.

Fred P. Haase, 2030 Larrabee street, salesman—I believe in harmony, whether in the home or in the office. The home especially requires harmonious agreement between the two parties if trouble is to be avoided. It must be a fifty-fifty affair.

Miss Marion Gilliss, 5800 Sheridan road, bookkeeper—I'm single, but I believe the wife should look up to her husband if she loves him. He has the responsibility of caring for her and supporting her, so he certainly should have the controlling interest.

FLAMES DRIVE FAMILIES TO STREET.

Fire starting from a gas stove in the rear of a three story flat at 2916 East 19th street drove three families to the street yesterday. Despite the high winds, firemen got the flames under control before they spread to adjoining buildings.

PEACE OR WAR IN CONVENTION UP TO GOV. SMALL

Anti-Leaders Ready for Any Turn of Events.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

It is up to Gov. Small and the Chicago city hall machine whether there is to be peace or war at the Republican state convention at Springfield tomorrow. Illinois Republicans generally controlling an easy majority of the convention, are for peace, but not at any price. The general disposition is to do what is possible to heal over factional disturbances, as far as possible, looking forward to the congressional elections in November.

The decision is definite, however, that any attempt made by Gov. Small to secure for himself a public and party commendation of his administration will be met by stubborn resistance. The same is true of any effort by the city hall to secure a formal Republican state-wide approval of the so-called "traction settlement" bill and the tax commission bill that were beaten last June when the legislature revolted against the Lundin-Small-Thompson domination.

Leaders Are Impartial.

There is no disposition on the part of the anti-Small leaders to condemn him. Their feeling is that the criminal cases should be tried by jury and not by state convention. There is no symptom of effort to make platform reference to legislative matters, where Republican majorities in both houses in Springfield are on record against the traction and tax bills.

If it is disclosed, however, that Gov. Small makes a battle for his own indorsement and that Mayor Thompson strives to rehabilitate his discredited platform of 1920 then there will be a fight at Springfield, and it will be to the finish. Every indication is that such a move will be defeated.

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday handed down a decision that did not discuss the merits of the question as to whether the "old" or the "new" county committees in Cook county is the legitimate committee. The court held that the proper method of attack was not by quo warranto proceedings. On the direct issue of legitimacy the high court "sidestepped."

"Regular" Issue Is Raised.

This leaves the issue up to the state convention as to which is the "Regular" delegation of 636 delegates from Cook county, the delegates named by the Brundage-Crowe-Deneen county convention Monday or those named by the city hall convention Tuesday. Substantially complete reports from downstate from the Monday county conventions indicate that it makes little difference which Cook county crowd is seated. The anti-Small forces will have the downstate delegates from all but eight of the 101 counties at the outside and will dominate the convention.

Senator Thurlow G. Essington of Streator has been picked as the candidate of the regulars for temporary chairman. If his name is not recommended through regular channels, it is certain that the first test in Springfield tomorrow will be on a roll call to substitute Senator Essington's name for any other candidate that might be proffered by the "old" state committee. Regular organization leaders said last night that Senator Essington's election as temporary chairman is assured, if a roll call is permitted.

Senator McKinley went to Springfield yesterday afternoon. Senator McCormick, Clarence F. Buck, and others of the regulars, departed at midnight.

The Democrats have no state convention troubles. They will adopt a platform that will direct attention to the Small administration at Springfield and to the city hall's Chicago record. Bruce A. Campbell of East St. Louis is to be temporary chairman.

May Ignore Committees.

Failure of the Illinois Supreme court to determine the validity of either the "old" or the "new" Republican county committee resulted in immediate action by the Republican primary nominees for the major county offices. Coroner Peter M. Hoffman, nominee for sheriff, issued a call last night for a session of the fourteen primary nominees, aside from candidates for county commissioners and municipal court places, to be held at 11 o'clock this morning in Hotel Morrison.

"At this meeting," Coroner Hoffman said, "I shall suggest that each candidate name a campaign manager. The fourteen managers will constitute the general campaign committee and will handle the group campaign for the Republicans, if the suggestion is satisfactory. That's the only way that I know to get around this complicated situation."

CHECKER DRIVER FINED FOR FAILING TO GET LICENSE

Following his conviction on a charge of operating a taxicab without a license Sol Sternamen, chauffeur for the Checker Taxicab company, was yesterday fined $15 and costs by a jury in Municipal Judge Cook's court.

Sternamen, arrested on Sept. 30, 1921, was originally charged with operating a cab without a cabstand license and on March 3 was discharged, over the protest of Chief Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Daniel Webster.

Following his rearrest on the new charge, Sternamen demanded a jury trial. On cross-examination yesterday Sternamen admitted that, although he owned the cab he did not know whether a license had been procured.

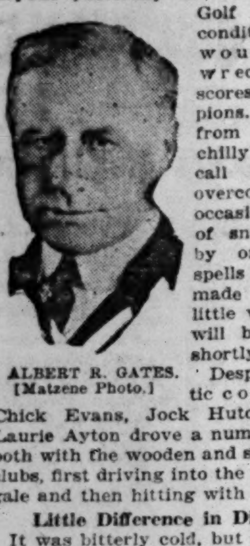
Son Is Fined $200 for Beating His Mother

"He beats me because I beat him when he was little," Mrs. Pauline Pitkowitz, 1013 South Racine avenue, testified in court yesterday against her son, Gustave Pitkowitz, 21 years old.

"You didn't beat him half enough," opined Judge John A. Bugee and fined the son $200 and costs and put him on probation for six months.

WIND A HANDICAP TO TEST OF STEEL SHAFTED CLUBS

BY JOE DAVIS.



ALBERT R. GATES. [Matzene Photo.]

The steel shafted club was given a tryout yesterday at the Edgewater Golf club under conditions which would have wrecked the scores of champions. A gale from the west, chilly enough to call for winter overcoats, with occasional flurries of snow, varied by one or two spells of sunshine, made the test of little value and it will be repeated shortly.

Despite the arctic conditions Chick Evans, Jock Hutchison, and Laurie Ayton drove a number of balls both with the wooden and steel shafted clubs, first driving into the teeth of the gale and then hitting with the wind.

Little Difference in Distance.

It was bitterly cold, but despite this handicap the experts got away from some fine cheaters, and then with the breeze behind them sent the balls soaring high in the air. Each man played with a steel shaft and then with a wooden club, and Professional Jim Foulis, who was doing the marking, reported that there was practically only a difference of fifteen yards between all of the shots, the steel shafted shots averaging a trifle better than those made with the wooden clubs.

The fairways were soft and there was practically no roll to the balls. It was too chilly to permit of playing shots with mashie and putter.

Not a Fair Test.

President A. R. Gates of the Western Golf association and Secretary W. W. Harless were among those present. It was conceded by all present that the conditions did not afford a fair test, and also that the steel shaft did not afford any mechanical benefit to the player.

Herbert C. Lagerblade, the former Youngstown professional, was among those present. He has given the steel shafts an extensive tryout and has reached the conclusion that there is practically no difference between high class wooden clubs and steel shafted clubs.

The steel clubs used were of tubular construction.

Shoreacres Course Open.

Shoreacres members are enjoying fine golf on their new course near the Great Lakes Training station. Tee boxes are in place and the regular putting greens are being used. The course came through the winter in fine shape. It will be two weeks before the full locker rooms conveniences are available.

Weather permitting, the Musicians' Golf club will open its competitive season today with a blind bogey event at the Harlem course.

The Glen View club will start its competitive season on May 6 with a handicap event, and the qualifying round for the Director's trophy. Regular clubhouse service will be in operation May 1.

PLAN HORSESHOE DUAL MEETS IN HIGH SCHOOLS

Horseshoe pitching is headed for a place among the official sports in Chicago high schools. Teams already have been organized at some of the high schools, and it is expected that the early part of May will find teams in all the secondary schools, with a league operating up to the end of the school year.

Dual meets between various high schools are being planned, and it is hoped that several interscholastic horseshoe pitching meets will be held later in the city. For several years the students at Hyde Park High have shown much interest in horseshoe pitching, and there are several "veterans" among them. Some of the teachers at the south side school have been "working out" with the boys.

MISSOURI BEATS OCCIDENTAL ON TRACK, 67 TO 64

Los Angeles, Cal., April 19.—The University of Missouri track and field team defeated the Occidental college team on the latter's field today, 67 to 64. Brutus Hamilton of Missouri accounted for 26 points, with four first and two seconds.

Hamilton won the meet for his team by taking second in the pole vault, the next to the last event. In the mile relay, which followed Missouri led by inches at the tape, but its team was disqualified because one of its members was declared to have elbowed an Occidental runner.

NEW BASKETBALL COACH FOR ILLINI

Urbana, Ill., April 19.—J. Craig Ruby, coach of the University of Missouri basketball team, will coach the University of Illinois basketball team next year. Director George Huff tonight said that while no contract had been signed by the Missouri coach, terms had been agreed on. Ruby will succeed Frank J. Winters, who has coached the Illini for two years, landing them well up in the percentage column. Ruby has coached Missouri two years, and his teams have lost two out of twenty-three games in the Missouri valley conference. He won the championship in 1921.

Englewood Swimmers Win Over Lindblom by 46-25

Englewood High school tankers defeated Lindblom, 46 to 25, in a dual meet in the Englewood pool yesterday. Knoebel of Lindblom was individual point winner, taking first in the forty and 100 yard swim events and third in the fancy diving for 12 points. Englewood swimmers won four of the six events, taking the first three places in the forty yard breast stroke.

"CHICK" EVANS.

MINOR EVENTS ROLL BEST IN PIN TOURNEY

The minor events continue to occupy the limelight at the Industrial bowling tournament at the Randolph alleys. While the shooting was exceptionally low in the main events, high totals were shot in the doubles and singles.

In the singles J. Urbanowski went into a tie for second place with 658, W. Schmitt hit off 653 for fourth position, and M. Fesel did 649 for fifth high. Five totals for the night went above the 600 line. N. Tabor and F. Milke grabbed off 1,230, the honors of the night in the doubles, which is a tie for third. The Majors from the General Electric showed the way in the main event with 2,731. Scores:

SHIP BALDWIN HORSES EAST.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 19.—Lantados and Cruzera, two of the fastest horses in the stables of Mrs. Anita Baldwin, daughter of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, will be sent east soon to compete in turf events in Kentucky and New Orleans, it was announced today. Both horses recently won distinction at Tijuana.

SEEK THIRD MAN FOR EAST'S NET TOURNEY TEAM

New York, April 19.—William T. Tilden II. of Philadelphia and Vincent Richards of New York may be the only players representing the east in the east-west tennis tournament next month at San Francisco, although eastern officials will attempt to obtain a suitable third member of the team.

An effort will be made to have Lawrence Rice of Boston reconsider his decision not to participate because of a recent operation. If he definitely refuses, two other players whose names are not disclosed will be asked to go. Should they refuse, a third man will not be sent, as only the best players are desired.

Miss Sterling to Play Title Golf This Year

New York, April 19.—Miss Alexa Stirling, former national woman golf champion, who has been following a business career here since last fall, has been elected an honorary member of the Garden City Country club and may represent that organization in the metropolitan and national tournaments this year. She has definitely decided to play in both these tournaments, and may also go to Canada in September for the Canadian title event.

SOUTH AMERICA'S MAN O' WAR DIES

BY J. W. WHITE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BUENOS AIRES, April 19.—The Genoa conference and the Portuguese flight were forgotten this morning as a result of the announcement of the death late yesterday of Botafogo, the greatest race horse ever produced in South America. The horse ran in eighteen races and won seventeen, of which sixteen were classics.

Botafogo ran second only once, when he was beaten by Greyfox. Nothin in' recent years so aroused intense excitement throughout Argentina as the return race arranged by the owners of Botafogo and Greyfox as a sporting proposition with no bets. Only the two horses ran and Botafogo won. His owner then retired him. He was the son of Old Man. The dam was Korea, by Raeburn and Ulla, born in the United States.

La Nacion published a five column obituary and other papers gave like prominence to the story.

PARAGON WINS RICH TURF STAKE AT EPSOM TRACK

EPSOM, England, April 19.—[By the Associated Press.]—Eir Ernst Paget's Paragon, by Radium out of Quintessence, ridden by the American jockey Archibald, won the City and Suburban Stakes for £1,000, run here today. Sir Henry Bird's March was second and James White's Grapely third. Ten horses ran. The betting on Paragon was 5 to 1 against.

Layton-McCourt Match to Be Played in Sedalia

The dates of the championship three cushion billiard match between John Layton, the titleholder, and Charles McCourt of Pittsburgh, originally scheduled for Sedalia, Mo., today were set for May 1, 2, and 3. Sedalia is Layton's home. The champion is practicing for the defense of his title.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Barrett took second place in the three cushion tournament at Foley's last night by defeating Barnes [31], 33 to 26. Cornelison won the tournament, Barrett second, and Barnes third.

A pocket billiard tournament with thirteen players competing will open tonight at Foley's. Tonight, Messersmith [75] will play Hoppe [45].

In the class A three cushion tournament at Bensinger's Wabash avenue room, Sampson defeated H. Peterson, 40 to 28. In the class B, Rehm beat McCullough, 30 to 18.

HOYT TO COACH EAST HIGH.

Des Moines, Ia., April 19.—Cress O. Hoyt, athletic coach at Oskaloosa High school since the fall of 1919, has been selected as the new athletic coach at East high, Des Moines.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

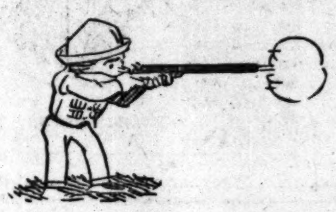
OLD TIME TRAP SHOOTING.

ANNOUNCEMENT in The Wake that a gold medal won in a shoot held in Chicago in 1882 had been picked up on the streets of Paris during the war and that the finder had been unable to locate the owner and therefore sought "Help! Help!" has brought two interesting letters from shooters of those days.

William W. Foss, long an officer of the Audubon club, writes:

"The club championship was won in 1882 by the Audubon club of Chicago, of which Charles Kern, the well known restaurant man, was president. The four men composing the team were Charles Kern, Charles E. Felton, then superintendent of the House of Correction; John J. Kleinman, veteran duck shooter of the Lake Calumet region, and myself.

"The tournament was held at Garfield park race track and only wild pigeons were used. The Board of Trade diamond badge, donated by O. H. Roche, president of the Board of Trade, was won by Kleinman, with your humble servant second.



"At that time, I held the dual office of secretary and treasurer of the club, but in 1884 I resigned and turned over all records and property to my successor, W. L. Shepard, then an insurance broker on La Salle street. I then retired from shooting."

Rollin B. Organ, onetime county commissioner and known to all local shooting and bowling fans, writes:

"I was president of the Chicago Shooting club at that time and most likely president of the Illinois State Sportsmen's association. The medal evidently was lost by some descendant of the original owner and will attempt to locate him."

"A duck's quack," when he saw her cried;
But, weaseling, he chanced to see
A dapper by her side.

The slat, full goofy, sought her smile
With all a crasher's static lure;
But pa, a bust, said: "Do a blouse!"
And so his stuff was poor.

And ritzy seemed the biscuit, too;
"A brush ape," was her sole reply
To his houdini efforts. Sore,
"Tomato!" he did cry.

It was a barlow and a dudd
"Dumbdora!" shouted. Then his stilts
Betook him hence. With that flat shoe
This jabberwocky wilts.

CHUCK MELLOR. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Boston, Mass., April 19.—[Special.]—Clarence H. DeMar, of Melrose Highlands, Mass., running for the Dorchester A. A., veteran road runner and winner of the B. A. A. marathon in 1911, repeated his victory after eleven years today, in the annual classic, shattering the record in a remarkable come back that drew cheers from the thousands lining the course. DeMar's time was 2:18:10.

Chicago's entrants, "Chuck" Mellor and Sidney Hatch, did not finish among the ten leaders.

Fresh at Finish.

Swinging along in a ground-eating lope, DeMar was wonderfully fresh after his long haul over the hills between Ashland and Boston, and raced across the finish line with 17 3-5 seconds clipped off the record hung up last year by Frank T. Zuna, of the Paulist A. C., New York.

More than three minutes elapsed before the second man, Willie Ritola of the Finnish-American A. C., New York, ended his jaunt and crossed the line. Ritola's time was 2:21:44 4-5. In another minute came Albert Smoke, the Indian runner of Peterboro, Ont., who had been up among the leaders throughout the grind. He was clocked in 2:22:49 3-5. The fourth man in was Victor Macauley, a dark horse of Windsor, N. S.

Kyronen Is Fifth.

Although the entry of 70 year old Peter Foley was refused, he swung down the road in racing togs. Three hours and forty-eight minutes after he started the veteran crossed the finish line.

The first ten to finish were:

1—Clarence De Mar, Dorchester	2:18:10
2—Willie Ritola, Finnish-American A. C., New York	2:21:44 4-5
3—Albert Smoke, Peterboro, Ont.	2:22:49 3-5
4—Victor Macauley, Windsor, N. S.	2:24:02 2-5
5—Willie Kyronen, Millrose A. A., New York	2:24:42
6—Otto Laakso, Millrose A. A., New York	2:24:45
7—Carl W. A. Linder, B. A. A.	2:25:29 2-5
8—Frank T. Zuna, Paulist A. C., New York	2:26:26
9—Harvey Frick, Glencoe A. C., New York	2:28:16 4-5
10—Edouard Fabre, Nationale A. A., Montreal, Que.	2:29:00 3-5

WALTERS HERE FOR ROLLER MEET

Oliver Walters of New Jersey, who defeated Roland Cioni, world's roller skating champion, in a series of races in the east last summer, arrived in Chicago yesterday to race in the National Skating Derby at the Broadway armory on April 25 to 30 inclusive. With Walters on the ground, a match series of races is in the making, and the contests may be held on one of the six nights of racing. Sam Mincer, who is staging the meet, with A. L. Green, Sr., as a partner, yesterday announced he will put on a half mile race for members of the Board of Trade, clerks, and office boys. The winner will be given a loving cup.

Woods and Waters

By BOB BECKER

GREAT LAKE TROUT IS A BIG EATER.

THE great lake trout, Mackinaw trout, namaycush trout—to give its various names—is one of the most important fishes found in the Mississippi valley and reaches a huge size. In fact, it is the largest of all the trouts, as some specimens have been taken weighing 125 pounds. In Lake Michigan it is exceeded in weight only by the sturgeon.

This big trout is an omnivorous eater and the amount of food it can stow away is a caution. Any kind of fish possessing soft fins is duck soup for namaycush, and it is said that jackknives, ham bones, raw potatoes, corncobs, and other rare and indigestible articles have been taken from the stomachs of the greedy trout. In this respect it runs a close second to the ostrich.

Herring are the ones that suffer especially because of the lake trout's marauding and ravenous habits, and many a small herring ends up by lodging in the stomach of a big namaycush. One twenty pound specimen caught in northern Lake Michigan had thirteen herring in its stomach. Another fish, twenty-three inches in length, has been known to swallow a burbot seventeen inches long, and not infrequently whitefish (another species that is picked on like the herring) two or three pounds in weight. "When do we eat?" seems to be the thought uppermost in the mind of the Mackinaw trout.

As a game fish some fishermen say it's not much good, while others rate it as a fish that furnishes lots of sport, and there you are. It is usually taken by trolling, and strong tackle is needed.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

SMASH LUMPS CAUSED BY PACKING RAINS.

A LATE spring works to the disadvantage of the gardener in many ways. It frequently happens that after a rainy spring, when the soil is soaked and packed, as it is this year, the ground breaks up into big clods. There is a tendency to hurry through the spading and ordering of the ground and not pulverize the soil immediately after it is spaded up.

There is a greater need for pulverizing the big lumps when the season is late than any other time, for the rainy season suddenly ends and is usually followed by hot, dry weather, and the conservation of moisture by means of finely pulverized dirt on the surface is necessary to save the plants.

Pulverizing the big lumps conserves moisture and is the equivalent of adding fertilizer, for it gives the roots a chance to radiate in all directions through the soil, coming in contact with the plant foods in solution. Clods lock up the plant food and the tiny roots creep around the hard lumps. Water penetrates the had clods slowly. Plants take up the plant food in solution, and when the water is locked out the plant foods are prevented from going into solution.

A much larger crop of radishes, lettuce, beans, and cabbage can be grown when the clods are smashed into fine particles. Not only will this allow the water to touch particles of soil, putting plant food into solution, but hoeing and weeding will be much easier.

INDOOR BALL TOMORROW.

The indoor baseball team of the Chicago postoffice will play the crack Seminary Federated nine of the Church league tomorrow at the Second Regiment armory, Madison and Rockwell streets. Both teams are strong.

PATENTED
the World's Smartest COLLAR

THE difference between the VAN HEUSEN Collar and ordinary collars is not merely that one is soft and the others stiff.

The VAN HEUSEN Collar is as stylish as it is soft; and as comfortable as it is correct.

Ordinary collars have as little consideration for a neck's curves as a round hole has for a square peg.

If your dealer cannot supply you with the VAN HEUSEN Collar and the VAN CRAFT Shirt (a soft white shirt with the VAN HEUSEN Collar attached) write us for address of one that can.

"Well dressed men take off their hats to the VAN HEUSEN Collar," wrote a leading haberdasher.

BY FRANK SMITH.

The peppery Cubs swung into town yesterday, preparatory to the opening of the local National league season today with the Cincinnati Reds. They hurried from the train to the north side park, planning to put in a couple hours of practice, in order to keep in the great shape they displayed at St. Louis in the final two games with the Cardinals.

On arrival at the park they ran into a cold rain, and Manager Killefer refused to permit them to take to the field, fearing some of them would catch cold and hinder the progress they have made in the race to date.

One of the long expected breaks in the ranks of the north side aggregation was announced by President William Veeck. "Speed" Martin, who came to the Cubs in the fall of 1918, was sold outright to the St. Paul club and Outfielder John Weis was released to the same club on option.

"Speed" of Old Gone.

The outright sale of Pitcher Martin means that all clubs in both the National and American leagues waived on him. According to reports from the coast, Martin was slow getting into shape, and in two starts this season, once in an exhibition game and once in a league game, the big hurler has shown himself anything but the "Speed" Martin the bleacher lads knew in the past.

The release of Weis to St. Paul under option means that Manager Killefer believes the youngster needs another year in the minors to receive the necessary polish to make him a big leaguer. We have the word of Manager Bill that he thinks a whole lot of Weis and hated to let him out of his sight. Weis will be back.

Full House Expected.

Weather permitting, a capacity crowd should see the north siders swing into action against the Reds. There was a lot of optimism in Cincinnati when the Cubs opened there, but some of it probably has been dispelled through the rough treatment accorded the former champions by visiting ball clubs. It was the plan to send a trainload of fans to the opening here, headed by Garry Herrmann, but it is possible there will be only a carload. All may be assured that Herrmann will be on the job.

Secretary John Seys has arranged for all the usual stunts of the opening day. John Bramhall will, for the twenty-eighth season, lead his band into action, and John is just as young and just as much of a fan as he was twenty-eight years ago.

Theodore Roosevelt post of the American Legion will turn out in force at today's opener. Manager Bill Killefer is a life member of the post and his buddies will be his guests. Judge Landis will sit in one of the post's boxes.

Alec the Great to Hurl 'Em.

The fans who get to the park early will see Killefer's colts cavorting about the field. Hartnett, Golvin, Kluggman, Friberg, Statz, Callaghan, and Wirts are names known only to the fans through the press, which couldn't help but say nice things about them.

All of them will not be in the big action, but one can almost bet his last dollar that Hartnett will be on the receving end of Alexander's delivery. If the Reds sends in a right-hander, Callaghan will be in right. If they send in a left-hander, Friberg will cover that corner.

It's all up to the weather man.

BALTIMORE FEDS STILL FIGHT IN SUPREME COURT

Washington, D. C., April 19.—The case of the Baltimore club of the defunct Federal league was up in court again today. Council representing Baltimore charge that their interests were betrayed by the peace settlement of 1915, with organized ball. They claim a loss of $750,000.

Senator Capper, representing the league, denied they were in an illegal combination and told the court that the settlement did not violate the terms between the leagues.

"It is up to the courts to decide whether organized ball is above the law or the law above them," is a statement made by William Marbury, representing the Baltimore club.

LANDIS REBUKES PORTLAND HEAD

San Francisco, Cal., April 19.—A telegram received today from Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis reprimanded William H. Keppler, former president of the Seattle club and now president of the Portland club, who is charged with tampering with Player Kenworthy, recently suspended. Landis said that "appropriate disciplinary consideration" will be given Keppler.

JOHN OVERLOCK QUITS BROWNS

Johnny Overlock, a pitcher with the St. Louis Browns, has deserted that team to join the Marquette Manors of the Midwest league. He left the club at Cleveland and will be in Chicago today. He will be used in the game Sunda yagainst the House of David team. The Marquette Manors hace signed Swede La Ross and Johnny Belz, a pair of outfielders.

Hit on Leg with Ball, Suffers Blood Poisoning

Toledo, O., April 19.—Bert Matthews, Milwaukee American association outfielder, underwent an operation for blood poisoning at a hotel here today. He was left behind when the team departed tonight for Louisville and it was said he probably would be out of the game for a week. His injury was caused by being hit on the leg by a pitched ball during training season.

WIND TOO ROUGH FOR SOX CONTEST; GO TO ST. LOUIS

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Too much weather in the shape of wind, yesterday blew the White Sox and Tigers out of town without the final of their series being staged. Ty Cobb carted his fellows off to their home pasture, on an afternoon train, and the Sox set out last night for St. Louis, where they will help to pry off the American league lid today.

For the opener in the Mound City Manager Gleason intends to employ Urban "Red" Faber, the ace of the hurling corps. Faber not only is ready to meet all comers but is particularly anxious for this start because of what the Brownies did to him in the opening game here last week. He hurled great ball that day but didn't get the needed "breaks." He intends to see that things are different this afternoon and by the law of averages he should not be disappointed.

After getting a chance to size up his outfit against the Browns and Tigers, Gleason is convinced that his summer isn't going to be utterly hopeless. He figures Shovel Hodge, who beat the Detroit gang Tuesday, will win quite consistently, and between the latter and Faber the Kid has men who can handle the first two battles of each series.

Ban Johnson, president of the American league, who has been confined with a cold for several days, was sufficiently recovered last night to permit a trip to St. Louis, where he will figure in the opening ceremonies today.

Pitcher Wingfield Is Reinstated by Martin

Memphis, Tenn., April 19.—The fine and suspension imposed upon Pitcher Wingfield of the Chattanooga club, in connection with a disturbance during the Little Rock-Chattanooga game, at Chattanooga, Monday, was remitted today by John D. Martin, president of the Southern association. Mr. Martin explained that after further investigation he was convinced that Wingfield's part in the affray merely was to defend himself. He ordered the Chattanooga player reinstated immediately.

HOYT HURLS YANKS TO SPLIT WITH RED SOX

Boston, Mass., April 19.—The Red Sox and Yankees divided a double header today. Boston hit Mays hard toward the close of the first game and won, 5 to 3. With Hoyt in rare condition in the second game, New York was victorious, 6 to 1.

BROWNS WALLOP INDIANS, 15 TO 1, FOR FIRST LOSS

St. Louis, Mo., April 19.—St. Louis broke Cleveland's winning streak today, beating Speaker's tribe, 15 to 1. Van Gilder held the Indians to three hits, duplicating his feat of last Saturday when he shut out the White Sox. Coveleskie failed to show his usual form but hurled 'em better than Pott or Keefe. OAK PARK HANDS RIVERSIDE A 10-0 SHUTOUT; 1 HIT

Oak Park High school's baseball team yesterday won its second Suburban league game of the season, blanking Riverside, 10 to 0, at Oak Park. Ferretti hurled a tight game for the Oak Parkers, fanning ten and holding Riverside to one hit. It is the first time in the history of the Suburban league that Riverside has entered a team, but the visitors showed a good brand of baseball. The wind and cold were mainly responsible for errors. Armour Nine Downs State Normal in Hectic Game, 17-13

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

LEO WALSH.

De Kalb, Ill., April 19.—[Special.]—In a weird game played in a gale Armour institute defeated Northern Illinois State Teachers' college today, 17 to 13. The Chicago boys started out to make a runaway game of it, but in the later stages of the seven inning contest the local team started to lift the ball into the wind and easy chances went for hits, which were converted into runs.

Both teams played bad baseball, which was excusable. Weather conditions were such that the players did not even remove their sweaters, while the pitchers did not let out. Aside from the strong wind it started to snow in the second inning, but cleared before the finish of the contest.

Credit for Normal Nine.

These conditions made it anything but an interesting contest. Even the players went about their work in sort of don't care fashion, and members of both teams were glad when the game was called at the end of the seventh inning.

The local team is deserving of credit for making such an uphill fight, and if Joseph Campbell had not tried to steal home in the last inning with two out, the bases full, and four runs behind, the result might have been different. The catcher of the local team pilfered bases several times when his team was behind.

Armour Piles Up Lead.

At the end of the third inning Armour led, 12 to 0, and apparently had the game sewed up. Ruddie Laatsch pitched a good game for Armour, but started to get wild in the fourth inning and was removed. Gilbertson, who took up the pitching burden, was hit freely, as was Andrews, who finished the game.

The local team scored four runs in the fourth inning by timely hitting, combined with inexcusable errors. Three more went across the rubber in the fifth and five in the sixth. During these disastrous frames fly balls which would have been easy outs under ordinary conditions went for extra bases, as the wind carried the ball faster than the players could run.

Generally speaking, the players of both teams did admirably well under the conditions. If it had been anything but an amateur contest the game would have been called off early in the day. The Normal team is one of promise and will improve as the season wears on, as today's team was the second of the season.

Paul Best, captain of the local nine, played a good game at first base. He handled all his chances without semblance of an error. He is weak at the bat, however, and needs more batting practice. Elmer Jujala, said to be a good ball player by the students, had an off day at second base and was taken out in the fourth inning after he had made two errors, which figured in Armour's scoring. He has a tendency to come in too fast on hard hit balls.

McCabe Strong at Bat.

Julian McCabe played a nice game at shortstop and managed to hit the ball every time up, something other members of the normal nine failed to do. Donald Snow started the game at third base and then took up the hurling job in the second inning, while Allan Newman moved to third. Both played the hot corner in bangup form and handled everything that came their way in errorless fashion.

Joe Campbell, the catcher, is one of the best players on the team. With the exception of running wild on bases he played a nice game. He held up his pitchers in good shape and made three hits, one of which was a two bagger with three men on the paths.

Outfielders Have Hard Time.

Clarence Stehmeir, Lyle Lawson, Miles Thompson, and A. Peterson, who took care of the outfield, probably learned more about chasing fly balls than they ever will in the remainder of their college year. They came in on hard hit balls only to see them sail over their heads. On other occasions they were compelled to come in on Texas leaguers. They had a busy day of it.

Allan Newman started to pitch for Normal, but was treated so roughly in the opening innings that he was replaced by Donald Snow. Both are right handers, but the latter showed by far the best form.

The local team is coached by Paul Harrison, a graduate of the school, who knows baseball. He made frequent substitutions because his men failed to play the game the way he demanded.

WHITE BALKS; PINKIE MAY GET TITLE BOUT

Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter for the American Legion at Michigan City, has about given up hope that he will be able to stage a bout between Bennie Leonard and Charlie White of this city for the lightweight championship this summer.

Fitz has been angling for three title bouts, heavyweight, lightweight, and welterweight, and is said to have the word of the three champions that they will box for him during the summer. He has been putting in his energies on White, but says he has come to the conclusion that the local lad wants to dictate to the champion regarding a split of the purse.

Chance for Mitchell.

With White standing back, instead of coming forward, as Fitz puts it, there looms on the fistic horizon none other than Pinkie Mitchell of Milwaukee, who was unable to meet the champion on New Years day in the Cream City because of a bad shoulder which developed the day before the scheduled bout.

Mitchell's representative is due in town today for a conference with Fitzsimmons and unless White gets busy and closes with the former Benton Harbor promoter, it is probable that Mitchell will be given consideration. Backers of Mitchell guarantee they will send a big crowd to Michigan City for the bout if Fitz puts on Pinkie.

White May Meet Leonard.

White last night stated that he had not refused to be one of the principals in the Michigan City bout, but was anxious to put on the mitts with the champion. He asserted, however, that he believed he was entitled to a real fight for the title at the lightweight limit and would do everything within his power to bring about a meeting of that kind.

He stated that he had been in communication with Ike Dorgan, who attends to his business affairs in New York, regarding a Leonard bout, and Dorgan assured him that within two months he would have a match with Bennie at the lightweight limit.

Charlie said he felt as if he must wait a day or two until he received further advices from Dorgan before entering into an agreement with Fitzsimmons.

Des Plaines post, No. 36, American Legion, will stage four bouts at the Echo theater on April 28. All bouts will go six rounds or less. Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion, will referee.

FEAR FOUL PLAY AS STAN EVERETT FAILS TO FIGHT

Peoria, Ill., April 19.—[Special.]—A big crowd tonight waited for Stanley Everett, Pekin Ill. bantamweight boxer, to box Herbie Schaeffer of Chicago, but Everett didn't appear. He arrived in Peoria this afternoon and weighed in for the match, and left his room with two men at 8 o'clock tonight for the theater. Since then no trace has been found of him. His friends fear foul play.

A straight guarantee of $25,000 is the bait which has been dangled in front of World's Champion Wrestler Ed ("Strangler") Lewis for a match with John Pesek, the Nebraska "Tiger Man." The offer was forwarded last night to Billy Sandow, Lewis' manager, by the Theodore Roosevelt post of the American Legion, through the posts athletic officer, P. G. Harris.

Before the offer was sent to Lewis the signature of Larney Lichenstein, manager for Pesek, was secured to a contract to wrestle Lewis, two falls in three, to a finish, in an open air match in Chicago on Saturday, June 17, by the post officials. Pesek, in order to get an opportunity to meet the champion, agreed to take a small guarantee without the privilege of a percentage.

Full Guarantee Deposited.

Officials of the Theodore Roosevelt post arranged with wealthy members of the post to deposit the full guarantee for Lewis as soon as he accepts terms. This is the largest guarantee ever offered a wrestler for a match in this city, being $5,000 more than Gotch received several years ago for defending his title against Hackenschmidt.

Officials of the legion post believe that a match here between Lewis and Pesek would draw the greatest throng ever attending any athletic event in the history of Chicago. The entire net proceeds of the match would be used in the post's relief work, with a portion being placed in the American Legion state headquarters relief fund in Chicago.

Must Be Chicago Referee.

The offer, which was telegraphed to Sandow, Lewis's manager, to his home in Cherryvale, Kas., asked for an immediate conference in Chicago to discuss details of the match.

The only restrictions placed on Sandow will be that the match and all negotiations for it be placed under the jurisdiction of the Chicago City Athletic commission, and that a Chicago man be named as referee.

Promoter Jim Mullen, announces he will take every precaution against a repetition of the alleged greasing as charged to Parcaut, when he met Meyers here a few weeks ago, when Meyers and Engel clash in the feature half of the double windup scheduled for April 27 at the Ashland adultorium, in which Bennie Reuben and Paul Prehn furnish the fireworks in the other half of the show.

Through a previous performance not so long ago, the Meyers and Engel match should be enough guarantee that there will be plenty of thrills in the tussle. Engel has supreme confidence that at the weight of 160 pounds he is the Pole's master.

ROYAL FAMILY SURVEYS JACK AT EPSOM RACES

KING GEORGE.
[American Press Photo.]

LONDON, April 19.—Jack Dempsey began to mingle with English nobility today. Jack saw and was seen by the king and queen, Princess Mary, Viscount Lascelles, the Duke of York, and Admiral Beatty at the Epsom race track, where the famous City and Suburban was run in the presence of hundreds of thousands of fans, and where the champion was the guest of prominent London bookmakers in a box within a few feet of the royal party.

When the royal party entered its box Jack, who was standing in his own enclosure, took off his hat and saluted with the crowd. Immediately he was pointed out to the queen and princess, who surveyed the champion curiously.

Dines with Nobility.

At luncheon Dempsey, wearing a derby pulled low over his ears and a soft tan shirt, was introduced to Lord Carnarvon, Lord Howard de Walden, and Lord Winchester. Dempsey took his introduction to nobility calmly.

"Nice gentlemen," said Jack. "They acted just like anybody else. I am glad I saw the king and family. They are nice looking people."

A movement was started here today to match Dempsey and Joe Beckett, champion of the British empire, who was defeated by Georges Carpentier. Beckett announced that his backers would post a side bet of £25,000. A group of western sportsmen following Dempsey immediately offered to cover any amount.

Beckett Match Brews.

George McDonald, veteran fight promoter, said wealthy English sportsmen are determined to have a championship fight in England and are raising the money. Jack said:

"You know me. I am ready to fight anybody at any time."

Manager Jack Kearns admitted being approached by Beckett's backers. He remarked that although they were not looking for trouble, Dempsey is in good condition and can fight on a week's notice.

Beckett was called to Dempsey's box at the Epsom track this afternoon, where the two boxers talked together for some time.

Loses on Favorite.

Jack was introduced to hundreds of people at the races, including several horse owners, actresses, and jockeys. Among the last named was the American jockey Archibald, who later won the day's biggest race, the City and Suburban stakes. Unfortunately Jack backed the favorite. He merely growled when asked about his luck.

After attending a theater tonight the champion promptly sought his bed. The Britons are astonished because Dempsey does not smoke or drink and rises early, which is not the custom here.

LEWIS FLOPS DAVISCOURT.

RAIN HALTS TRACK MEET.

Charlottesville, Va., April 19.—The dual track meet between Harvard and Virginia, scheduled to be held here today, was postponed until tomorrow on account of rain.

"Sisters" Is from the Novel by Kathleen Norris

"SISTERS"

Produced by International.
Directed by Albert Capellani.

THE CAST:

Cherry Strickland	Gladys Leslie
Anna Little	Mildred Arden
Peter Joyce	Matt Moore
Martin Lloyd	Joe King
Doctor Strickland	Tom Guise
Justin Little	Robert Schable
The colored mammy	Frances Grant
The colored man	Fred Miller

By Mae Tinée.

It does seem that when a picture is made from a book, the producers feel they must change it somewhere, somehow. "Sisters," as written by Kathleen Norris, had a "different" but most unhappy ending. In the picture, while the finish is not one joyful holiday, it 'as 'opes. Wonder what Mrs. Norris thinks about it? Myself, I would have preferred the pictured tale intact as the author had the story.

Be that as it may, the photoplay is a well cast, directed, and photographed character study. It deals with the lives of two sisters, one clear eyed and clear thinking—NOT so good looking, but attractive in a wholesome sort of way: the other a tempestuous bit of eyes and hair, sweetness, and selfishness, with a tremendous appeal for men.

A quiet, book loving sort, named Peter, loves her, but hasn't told her so. Another man comes along, captivates her fancy, and carries her off to a small mill town where she has to get right down to the brass tacks of existence.

Peter, after a long trip to ease his sorrow, returns and, finding Alix, the other sister, alone and desperately lonely, proposes marriage. They've always been good pals. No reason why the marriage ceremony should spoil their comradeship. Dickens of it is, though, that Alix has learned to care!

In the meantime, Cherry, the younger, leaves her husband, comes back, and fires Peter all over again. They are about to elope when—see the picture. Here's where novel and film go their separate ways.

You will find fault, I think, with none of the acting, though Mr. Moore as Peter, seemed rather a pill to me. Anyhow, the production is bound to hold your interest.

CLOSEUPS

The Goldwyn company leased a fur coat for Claire Windsor to wear in a recent picture and had to insure it for $10,000 while it remained at the studio. It is said that the property man was one of the most important dignitaries of the place until the wrap went home.

Edward "Hoot" Gibson, Universal's western star, will be married this month to Helen Johnson, a vaudeville actress. At the Pendleton, Ore., roundup in 1912, Mr. Gibson was adjudged the champion cowboy of America.

Priscilla Dean and her husband, Wheeler Oakman, are building a beyewtiful new house at Beverly Hills. They decided they'd rather have the house than a trip to Europe. One of its features will be a large, strong kitchen where Mr. Oakman can indulge his passion for preparing extraordinary dishes. His wife declares that he would wreck any ordinary kitchen.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge cr return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

My little neighbor came in quite often and asked for something to eat. His mother, wishing to break him of the habit, told me to refuse him.

One day he came in and said, "Dot any tookies?"

"No," I said.

"Dot any take?"

"No," again.

"Dot any nannoes?"

I said, "No."

He thought awhile, then said, "Well, give me a 'dink.'" M. C. S.

Virginia's father had brought home some strong cheese, much to the dislike of every one but himself. Although she was warned that she would not like it, she insisted on being given some. She ate some of it and then said, "O, mamma, this cheese certainly does taste loud." L. A.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

PERPLEXED: WELL, FORTUNATELY, so far I have not had to grapple with the question of dyeing my hair if it turned gray. But one of these days I suppose I'll be facing it. I cannot honestly say whether I would be tempted or not. One of the things life has taught me is not to be too sure I would not do a thing, were I sufficiently tempted. Being a weak critter and vain, too, I have succumbed sufficiently often to understand the frailty of human resolutions. As I look upon dyed hair now, I would not! But maybe my mind would change with my hair. So, there you are, Perplexed, and I seem to have gone the circle and come back to where I started out.

MRS. J. H.: YOU SENT A stamped envelope with no address. I suppose you are blaming me for not being on my job. I'm here, and if you will give me your name and repeat your request, I'll prove I am most interested in mailing you the information on the care of the hair.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Offers a Washstand.

"I have an old fashioned washstand set. Can't I find some one who would like it? R. A. W."

Perhaps Mrs. B. E. K. would like to have it for the summer tent some one is going to lend her. If she writes me, I will put you in touch with her. Or perhaps some mother would like it to help the kiddies hurry and wash before luncheon.

Daddy Was a Soldier.

"I am the mother of two children. One of them is able to walk, the other not. I am unable to take my baby out, as I have no stroller. If any of your kind readers has one to discard I will pay express or call for same. My husband is at a government hospital. "MRS. E. R."

Who will give a stroller to the child of a hero? Surely it would be a privilege and an honor to do so, and it would make the time at the hospital so much less tiresome for the hero, because if some kind friend will give the little stroller it will be quite easy for mother to take the babies to see him and cheer him up.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Drop Cheese Biscuit.

There are people who can eat a great deal of bread and not grow stout. Bread and butter are great fuel agents, and we all need enough fuel for our day's work. A way of getting a little extra fuel and food of other than that of energy value into biscuits, is to add some cheese to the batter or dough.

Cheese can be added to any baking powder biscuit recipe, but since we are working specifically for a highly flavored biscuit, let us observe every rule that will work to that end. For instance, wet batters in general give us more agreeably flavored quick breads than dry ones. In making thin batters we need use no more than one level teaspoon of baking powder to a cup of flour, and that gives the flour a better chance to yield its flavor. It is particularly undesirable to get a stiff cheese biscuit. The following formula ought not to give such:

Two cups of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, two tablespoons of shortening, about one cup of milk, half a cup of grated cheese. Put together like biscuit, drop the batter in uniform portions on the inverted bottom of a baking pan, and bake for fifteen minutes in a hot oven. The batter may spread a bit. To get biscuits with a smooth top, pat them with a spoon wet in cold water the last minute before they are put into the oven.

DAILY HOROSCOPE
Doris Blake Says:

TODAY IS FAVORABLE FOR BUSINESS.

The stars indicate today is favorable for business dealings. Watch out for deception, however.

If your birthday is today, you are generous, and are continually seeking to do good to others. You are always alert and longing to engage in new and great undertakings, but for some reason the results are never quite up to your expectations. You could make a great success of your life if you had a wise, guiding hand over you, as you possess great ability and native talent. You are very patient and if a woman, you would make a very good nurse, having a kind, quiet disposition. You are fond of traveling, are very excitable, emotional and amorous. You are ambitious, courageous and intuitive, loving prominence. You possess a bright and vivacious mind.

Won't Tell Mother.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going with a young man for several months and he has given both myself and my mother to understand that some day he wishes to marry me. He has not confided in his mother of this matter. Do you think it is right for me to go with him if he doesn't tell her? Although he has given me the understanding that he has serious intentions, I would like to know whether it is right for him to see a childhood companion of his. "ANXIOUS."

It would be more agreeable all around if he would confide in his mother. But maybe he has reasons for not doing so. She may have interfered in earlier romances. You might find out the reason and urge him to tell if it makes you unhappy. About seeing a childhood acquaintance, why not, Anxious? He would be perfectly agreeable that you see one of your schoolday friends, wouldn't he?

Elect Mrs. Church New President of Wednesday Club

The Wednesday club held its annual meeting yesterday morning in the Grace Hickox studio in the Fine Arts building, and elected Mrs. Archibald Church president for the ensuing year. After the meeting Mrs. William B. Greenlee, the retiring president, gave a luncheon for the members. The other new officers are: First vice president, Mrs. Walter C. Gunn; second vice president, Miss Naomi Donnelley; recording secretary, Mrs. H. Edward Sauer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles S. Reed; treasurer, Mrs. Robert H. Harvey; executive committee, Mrs. James H. Douglas, Mrs. William M. Derby Jr., Mrs. Willard W. Jacques, Mrs. Nicholas de Teresa and Mrs. Greenlee.

The Friday club, of which Mrs. Moses J. Wentworth is president, will have its annual meeting and election of officers tomorrow morning at the Newberry library. The Fortnightly, of which Mrs. Robert B. Gregory is president, has held its annual meeting and election, but has not made public the names of the new officers.

Mrs. George Pratt of New Orleans, La., who was to arrive today to visit Mrs. Benjamin F. Taylor of 10 East Schiller street, has been detained at home on account of illness, consequently the tea that Mrs. Taylor had planned for tomorrow is postponed.

Mrs. Charles S. Peterson of 1450 Lake Shore drive is giving a musical this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her residence for Miss Olga Menn, president of the Junior Friends of Art. Mme. Hughes Call, pianist; Mme. Hanna Butler, soprano; Sig. Sergio de Zanko, tenor; Miss Ruth Breyspaak, violinist; and Mrs. James N. Smith [Patricia Collinge], reader, will give the program.

"Rostand, the Dramatist of Failure," will be the subject of the second of a course of six lectures on the drama by Louis K. Anspacher this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Arts club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss will open their residence at 1524 Lake Shore drive next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock for an illustrated lecture on the "Spirit of Gothic" by Canon Talbot of the Cathedral at Washington, D. C., under the auspices of the Chicago committee of the National Cathedral association. Lynden Evans is chairman of the committee, which includes Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Otis, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Albert A. Sprague, Victor Elting, Mrs. F. F. Winans, John D. Hibbard, Mrs. W. S. Bishop, Eames MacVeagh and James O. Heyworth.

Mr. and Mrs. John James Odil of 5110 Kenmore avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Florence Jameson, to Albert L. Hopkins yesterday at the Fourth Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will be at home after June 1 at the Madison Park hotel.

Miss Anne Morgan of New York will spend today in Chicago as the guest of Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss, 1524 Lake Shore drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tyson of 20 East Goethe street, left yesterday for their farm at Brattleboro, Vt., where they will spend a few days before sailing next Wednesday for France to attend the opening of the American hospital at Reims in June. From France they will go to England for a visit, returning home in August.

Arthur T. Aldis of 100 East Chicago avenue and Lake Forest, is en route home from a trip abroad which included a short caravan trip across the desert of Sahara on which he was accompanied by Cyrus Hall McCormick and his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick.

Mrs. Earl L. Hambleton and Miss Margaret Hambleton of the Hotel Ambassador are leaving today for New York to sail next Tuesday for Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Folds and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Weston S. Folds, who have been at the Ambassador all winter, have moved to their residence in Lake Forest for the summer.

Mrs. John B. Drake has gone to New York and Washington for a week's stay.

Mrs. John MacMahon of 5426 Eastview park has returned from a six months' stay in South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Channon of 1434 Astor street are at Atlantic City for the early spring season.

Gratitude.

Last summer my parents left for a few days' visit, leaving me alone. One night my neighbor asked me to dinner.

The next morning, after my parents came home, my chum was going by and said, "I'm sure you are glad the folks are home."

"I say I am," I said. "I haven't had a decent meal since they left."

I looked up and saw my neighbor busy sweeping off her porch. I know she heard every word I said. J. S.

Telling the World.

I went to hear the recital which was presented by the glee club of a neighboring college. I was especially attracted to a young man who stood in the front row. He was handsome and an especially good singer.

When the recital ended, my girl friend and I decided to walk home rather slowly. Of course, the chief topic was the concert, and I said, "O, Jane, wasn't that man in the front row handsome. I've got a case on him, I believe."

Imagine my amazement when some one who had been walking in front of us turned around and said, "Thank you so much, girls; I'm awfully glad you like me."

After this experience I resolved to keep all flattering remarks to myself. I. E.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, April 19.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. James Cummings Barr of 11 East Sixty-eighth street, are in Boston to attend the wedding of Miss Eleanor Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Abbott, to Francis Bacon Lothrop. Mr. and Mrs. Barr will spend a week on their estate at New Ipswich, N. H., before returning to New York.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Miss Grace Vanderbilt are at Atlantic City, where they spent the Easter holidays.

Gordon Quartet (String) Scores Hit in First Concert

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The Gordon String quartet bowed—either or both pronunciations are correct here—for the first time in public yesterday afternoon. It was quite the most successful inauguration of a new musical body that has taken place in several seasons, and it took place at Orchestra hall foyer.

Three of the artists, Jacques Gordon, Henry Selinger, and Clarence Evans, are members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. The fourth, Nahoum Benditsky, will be one next season. The quartet was organized, so it is said, to carry on the traditions of a former quartet, also with a membership from the orchestra, and to present chamber music of all schools and ages.

An ambitious theory, this, but in this case it is one quite likely to be realized. The Gordon quartet has tone; it also has ensemble powers, and of considerable quality. The latter is not to be taken as a matter of course. Plenty of times four players of individual high standing have been assembled, only to find that long and severe routine drill was necessary before the whole became greater than or even equal to the sum of the parts. These artists are starting with the preliminary routine pretty well in hand.

The initial program rather reversed customary procedure. One of the safe and sane classics had place on the list, Haydn's Quartet in D Minor, Op. 76, No. 2. The others were modern, a work by Dohnanyi, Op. 15, full of impetuous, driving rhythm and good melody, and "Three Idyls," by Frank Bridge, of which the first and third were entirely charming. Both in matter and manner the new quartet begins well.

By no means the usual large crowd greeted the annual festival of the Civic Music association at Orchestra hall last night. In other seasons this event has generally attracted a capacity audience. Some seventeen children's choruses were merged into one, and under Herbert E. Hyde's talented baton the children sang many songs to the great delight of the audience.

There was also the Civic orchestra, the greatest achievement of the association and one in which to take pride.

Plan Vaudeville Benefit Tomorrow

Three Chicago theaters—the Palace, Majestic, and State-Lake—will join with 800 other vaudeville houses of the United States and Canada in donating their entire receipts tomorrow afternoon to the insurance fund of the National Vaudeville Artists, Inc.

This fund was created two years ago by the Vaudeville Managers' Protective association. Out of the fund every paid up member of the N. V. A.—and this includes almost all of the artists who appear at these three theaters—is insured for $1,000 without charge. Many payments made from the fund during the last year have proved a godsend to the unfortunate actor's family. Managers are determined to make this year's fund even larger than that of last.

In addition to the regular bill there will be a number of special attractions especially arranged for the Friday afternoon performance.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—Marshal Joffre and Mme. Joffre were the especially honored guests of the President and Mrs. Harding at the army and navy reception tonight, the last of the state receptions to be given at the White House this season.

Invited to join the presidential party in the blue room, they arrived early and met the President and Mrs. Harding and the members of the cabinet, descending the grand stairway with them in the stately little processional with which every state reception opens. The marshal and Mme. Joffre remained in the blue room until 11 o'clock.

It was the largest reception of the season, more than 5,000 guests having been invited.

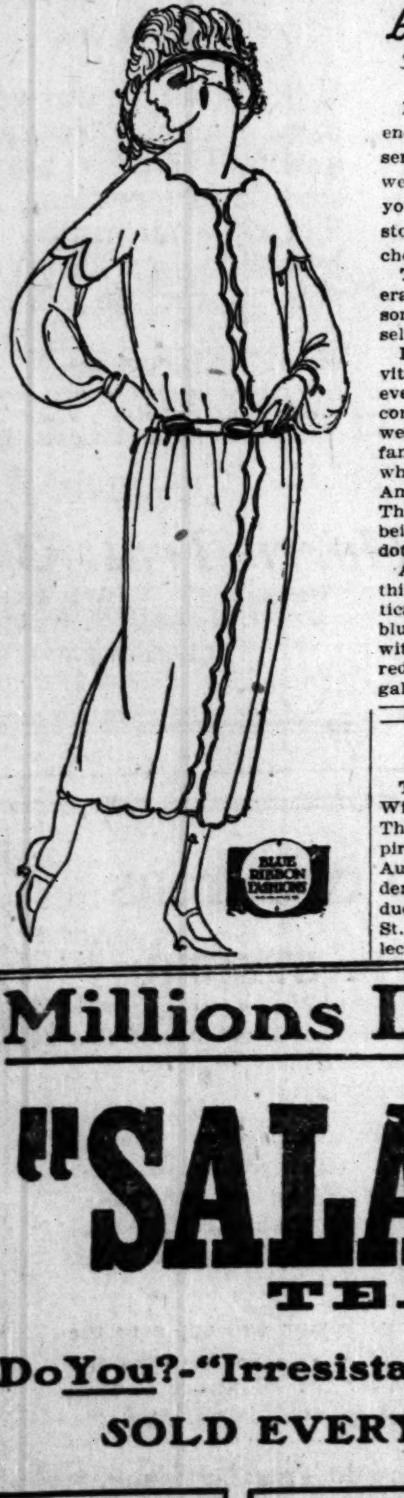
Popular Note of Red Sounded on This Twill



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—All the New York women assembled at a recent luncheon were wearing platinum fox stoles. Today you may still wear your little sable stole, but platinum fox is the first choice of the ultra fashionable.

This is only one step, however, in an era when the importance of the accessories makes the selection of dress itself a minor consideration.

Beige and gray stockings are another vital choice. These are being worn every place now and particularly in connection with black and gray footwear. Then there are earrings and fancy jewelry and dear only knows what else to make the costume. Among these, do not forget the veil. This is being done most in a tan or beige background for small French dots of black.

After having settled all of these things, you may turn to such a practical little frock as today's model of blue twill, scalloped inordinately and with undersleeves and underdress of red georgette. The belt is made of galalith motifs in red.

Honor Bard of Avon.

The 358th birthday anniversary of William Shakespeare will be observed Thursday evening by the British Empire Association of Chicago, at the Auditorium hotel at 8 o'clock. President William K. Pattison will introduce Dr. James S. Stone, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, who will lecture on the Bard of Avon.

FISCHER—Joseph A. Fischer. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away 3 years ago today.
LOVING WIFE AND CHILDREN.

MILLER—Ernest H. Miller. In loving memory of my darling son and brother, who met with death 1 year ago today, April 20, 1921.

Little we knew when the loved left home,
His dear face no more we would see,
Or hear his sweet voice as he once did say,
There is no fear for me.
Could I, his mother, have crossed his hand,
The son I love so well,
Or kissed his brow, when death was nigh,
And whispered, Son, farewell.

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER, FATHER, AND SISTERS.

PRICES OF WHEAT SHOOT UP AGAIN; OTHERS FOLLOW

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain markets reversed their action of the previous day and were as strong as they were weak Tuesday, closing well toward the top, with net gains of 1⅝@3⅜c on wheat, 1⅝@1¾c on corn, ¾@⅞c on oats, and ¾@1⅛c on rye.

A majority of the local element were short overnight and an unexpected advance of 2@2¼d in Liverpool led to general buying, which found offerings light. Realizing checked the bulge at times, but the undertone was strong and foreigners were free buyers of the July and September, while the seaboard took all deliveries.

It was apparent that efforts were being made to cover short May and the May-July difference widened to 17⅛c at the last, against 16c at the finish the previous day. A liberal export business was put through in Manitobas, and some sales of new crop winters were also made.

Cash houses were good buyers of corn to remove hedges against export sales from the seaboard, and the undertone was strong the greater part of the day.

Cash houses were fair buyers of rye, but there was selling on scale orders on the way up, which prevented it from making a full response to the upturn in wheat.

Hedging sales of provisions for foreign account, with a light local trade, made an easier market with lard closing 2½@5c and short ribs 2½@7½c lower. Foreign demand for cash product continues light. Prices follow:

NEWS OF THE CROPS

Spring planting of grains in the central districts has been seriously delayed by excessive moisture, according to the government weekly weather and crop report. Winter wheat is commencing to show the effect of the persistent rains in some central and eastern portions of the belt, where there are complaints of yellowing in poorly drained soil. In Oklahoma and eastern Kansas crop made good progress, but in north central and eastern Kansas fields are weedy and stooling poorly. Spring wheat seeding is later than usual.

Hungerford, the Logan & Bryan crop expert, wired Amarillo, Tex.: : "In large territory around Dalhart practically all abandoned acreage of winter wheat has been reseeded to spring wheat and oats. Spring wheat coming up now. Winter generally thin stand, and two to three inches high, with small root. Present prospects not encouraging."

"Much of the crop is looking fine," wired George M. Le Count to Stein, Alstrin & Co., from Kingfisher, Okla. "About 10 per cent of wheat has been damaged badly by green bugs. Occasional fields ruined beyond repair. Soil and plant conditions favorable and crop growing away from the green bug."

Loss of acreage of winter wheat in the territory east of the Missouri is expected to be relatively small, according to returns to the Price Current-Grain Reporter. Delay in field work will undoubtedly cut down the oats acreage.

COTTONSEED OIL

CHICAGO, April 19.—COTTONSEED OIL—Stronger in the east and slow and steady here, with May at $10.85.

NEW YORK.—COTTONSEED OIL—Closed 2@6 points lower for old crop months; new, unchanged to 2 net higher. Sales, 11,400 brls. Prime crude, 9.50@9.75c; prime summer yellow spot, 11.25c; May, 11.28c; July, 11.22c; September, 11.15c, all bid.

COFFEE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, April 19.—COFFEE—Futures closed with a net decline of 7 to 16 points. Sales, 63,000 bags. May 10.25c; July 10.02c; Sept., 9.73c; Oct., 9.70c; Dec., $9.62c; Jan., 9.65s; March, 9.62c. Spot firm: Rio 7s, 11@11¼c; Santos 4s, 15@15¼c. Santos cleared 5,300 bags for New Orleans and 1,200 bags for San Francisco. Brazilian port receipts, 37,000 bags. Jundiahy, 21,000 bags.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Late cables from southern Europe resulted in liberal sales of Manitoba wheat for export yesterday. Total was estimated at around 1,000,000 bu. Germany was after new crop winters, although bids were reported below a working basis. A large trade was on in corn, with sales of 1,500,000 bu Tuesday and yesterday, with England, Germany, Holland and Denmark the buyers. Rye sales were 400,000 bu and oats 700,000 bu. Hamburg took 10,000 brls flour, and there was a good demand for further lots.

Chicago handlers bought 165,000 bu hard winter at Missouri river points to come here for delivery on May contracts. Domestic shipping sales were 4,000 bu wheat, 68,000 bu corn, and 97,000 bu oats.

No change was shown in cash wheat at Chicago. No. 2 hard, ½@1½c under May. No. 2 red was nominally May to 2c over. Receipts 16 cars. Kansas City reported a good demand for wheat, especially for choice, with prices unchanged to 2c higher. Omaha declined 2@3c, with No. 2 hard 12c under Chicago May, against 10c under the previous day. St. Louis was 1c higher to 2c lower. Premiums at Minneapolis unchanged.

Cash corn prices ½@1c higher, with a good demand. Basis was firmer, with No. 2 mixed and yellow May to ½c under and white ⅜c over May. No. 3 mixed and yellow sold at 1@1½c under, and white at ½c under May. Receipts 101 cars. Outside markets easier, with prices 1c lower to ½c higher.

Demand for cash oats better, with sample values ½@¾c higher, with No. 2 white 1½@2½c over and No. 3 white May to 1½c over. Receipts 52 cars.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Foreigners were good buyers of cash grains and futures, giving preference to wheat. The unexpectedly strong tone to the cables changed the attitude of local traders and created a more bullish feeling toward the last. From the way May wheat has been absorbed on all weak spots below $1.42, and appears on sale on bulges, conservative traders have concluded that it does not pay to sell wheat on breaks.

A year ago today May wheat sold at $1.20¼ and before the end of the month was up 12¾c. In a majority of the last twenty-five years May wheat has sold higher in May than during the month of April, and there is a belief among many operators that it will do the same this year. Traders were mostly freindly to the buying side at the last.

* * *

The Chicago wheat market is badly overstrained and is regarded as out of line with other markets and with Liverpool. This keeps traders off the long side, but there appear to be enough who ignore these conditions to keep the markets active. The strong tone of the late private cables telling of Australian drought and no improvement in the foreign crop conditions, as well as the bullish forecast of the foreign supplies for the coming year, all counted in favor of holders and induced a lot of buying. July and September are coming in for more attention and the professionals are turning their operations to the new crop months.

Foreigners have a great deal of confidence in their future needs of wheat from the way they are buying new crop futures. Usually they do not commence to take them until later in the season, while this year they have bought them for a month past. Hardly a day has passed of late that there has not been a good business, only part of which has been reported.

* * *

Cash houses were good buyers of May corn early in the day against sales for export yesterday. Local operators are mostly so bearish that they have fought the advance and covered on bulges. The main thing in corn is fears that May liquidation will carry prices lower. With the season late and light stocks of corn in country elevators the trade may be disappointed at the movement this spring. For a good many years May corn has sold higher in May than in April, the same as has wheat. This also applies to oats. Most of the trade have overlooked this so far owing to the big stocks. All big stocks of corn and oats have been hedged, and when sales of cash grain are made the hedges have to be removed.

GRAIN STATISTICS

World's available supply of wheat decreased 9,169,000 bu last week. Stocks east of the Rockies decreased 1,013,000 bu, west of the Rockies 245,000 bu, Canada 2,011,000 bu, and afloat 5,900,000 bu. Corn in the United States and Canada decreased 2,363,000 bu and oats 2,563,000 bu. Details as compiled by Bradstreet's follow:

Bond Issues Protected By Guaranteed Titles

The safety of any bond, in which real estate is involved, is largely a matter of Title.

This is why Title Insurance written by the Kansas City Title & Trust Co., is recognized as such a desirable feature of these issues.

Investors quickly appreciate the added safety which title protection gives. Bond men realize that securities thus protected are more attractive and, consequently, more marketable.

The service of this company is available throughout the Southwest wherever real estate mortgage bonds are issued. In addition to examining and guaranteeing titles, we certify bonds and act as trustee, if desired.

Should you be planning a bond issue, write and let us send you valuable information on this subject.

You Can Rewrite This State Law Yourself

THE Illinois statutes prescribe exactly how your estate shall be distributed after your death if you leave no will.

For example, under the law, if you have children, your wife would receive only one-third of the bonds, stocks and other securities included in your personal property and a life interest only in one-third of your real estate.

If this is not the way you want your property to go, you must "rewrite" the law by making a will. There may be other provisions of the state laws governing inheritance that conflict with your wishes. You can change them by making a will. We suggest you consult your attorney on this important matter without delay.

We shall be glad to send you the booklet, "Safeguarding Your Family's Future," referred to in the magazine advertisements regarding Trust Company Service.

Convertible: Into first preferred 7% cumulative stock of the company par for par with adjustment of interest and dividends.

Business: The Texas Electric Railway owns and operates a modern, high speed interurban railway system, with a total of 269 miles of main track. It extends from Dallas, Texas, through McKinney and Sherman to Denison, from Dallas to Corsicana and to Waxahachie and Waco. The company does the entire street railway business in all of these communities, with the exception of Dallas, and serves a present estimated population of over 365,000.

Earnings: Average annual earnings after mortgage bond interest for the last seven years were more than five times the interest requirements of these debentures, and for the year 1921 more than six times the requirement.

Security: The company has outstanding $6,827,000 mortgage bonds and $2,160,000 of these debentures, the remaining $840,000 of which may only be issued under conservative restrictions. The company covenants that no new issue of mortgage bonds may be created unless these debentures are either called for payment or made to share ratably in the new mortgage.

These debentures are followed by $700,000 first preferred stock and $3,000,000 second preferred stock on both of which dividends at the rate of 7% yearly have been paid since 1917 and $6,000,000 common stock on which dividends at the rate of 4% yearly are being paid.

Legality: Legal proceedings in connection with this issue have been approved by Theodore S. Chapman, Esq., Chicago. The form of debenture and indenture has been approved by Messrs. Simpson, Thatcher and Bartlett, New York.

Smallest Wednesday hog receipts in several months at 11,000 added tone to yesterday's trade, the top advancing 10c to $10.70, standing highest in a week. The average price moved up 5c to $10.20, against $10.50 a week ago and $8.45 a year ago. Local packers purchased indifferently, causing a weak finish. Pigs sold largely at $9.00 @9.25, while "big heavy" packers went around $9.25. Underweights were in fair supply, with quality generally good.

Cheaper grades of cattle met with a good demand at fully steady prices, while better kinds closed weak to 15c lower, most of the decline in best heavy offerings. Yearlings averaging 860 lbs topped the market at $9.00, with best heavy on sale at $8.90. Heavy cows ruled weak to 10c lower and other grades of butcher stock and calves steady.

Many traders are of the opinion that hogs will continue to seek a lower level, while cattle values are due for a good upturn. Everett C. Brown thinks that inside of the next thirty to sixty days choice catle will sell above the $10.00 mark, while good hogs will go around $9.00.

Top Lambs at $15.25.

Improved eastern orders helped the lamb trade yesterday, with top at $15.25, standing 10c above the previous day. About 20 loads of Colorado wooled lambs arrived and changed hands within a range of $14.25@15.25, while shorn western fed sold at $12.35@13.25 for heavy to handy weights. Sheep were scarce and sold steady in sympathy with the general market.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 23,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep, against 12,093 cattle, 37,143 hogs, and 19,515 sheep the corresponding Thursday a year ago.

BUSINESS NEWS IN BRIEF

COPYRIGHT: 1922 BY FAIRCHILD NEWS SERVICE.

NEW YORK.—Returning department store buyers say the Leipsic fair was the biggest event of its kind in years. They confirm reports of big American buying. In most cases, complete deliveries are expected.

NEW YORK.—The National Association of Men's Neckwear Manufacturers demand of the Neckwear Makers' union wage cuts up to 25 per cent.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is understood that department of justice concludes, as result of retail price investigation, that prices are still too high, but have shrunk to a notable extent. Official announcement is held up for fear certain statements might be detrimental to an early coal strike settlement.

NEW YORK.—There was a continuation of the big business in the gray goods market. The market was firm and advances appeared all along the line. The 38½ inch, 64x60, 5.35 yards to the pound sold in a big way at 7⅝ cents a yard; 39 inch, 68x72, 4.75 yards, sold well at 8⅝ cents [up ⅛]; 72x76, 4.25 yards, sold at 10 cents [up ¼]; 80x80, 4.00 yards, sold for spot delivery at 10⅜ cents, and the market closed at 10½ cents. There was big business in sheetings on account of the jobbing and bag trades.

NEW YORK.—Formation of a business corporation to control the merchandise aspects of the radio telephone industry may be recommended by retailers by Lew Hahn, secretary of the National Retail Dry Goods association. It is said big department stores must be assured they may stake their reputations on the equipment they dispense.

NEW YORK.—Pongee cloth prices advance in Yokohama to a basis representing New York selling price of 77 cents a yard. Nevertheless, goods still are freely obtainable here at from 72½ cents to 74 cents.

BUENOS AIRES.—Wool traders start to contract for wool on the sheeps' backs, deliverable September-October. Contracting usually does not start until June or July. Prices paid are equivalent to 15 cents to 15¾ cents a pound for fine crossbreds. In effect, dealers are paying for next fall's wool the same prices as are current on the ranches now for immediate delivery.

7% and Safety Were Not Divorced Overnight

7% is Still the Prevailing Rate on First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds

First Mortgage Bonds were slow in reaching 7% and will be just as slow in going down to 6½% or 6%. It is a matter of record that interest rates on First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds invariably reach their high and low levels several years later than all other classes of securities.

There are many loans offered to us at lower rates which would afford us a larger margin of profit, but while the prevailing rate is 7% we would not be doing justice to our customers if we issued 6½% or 6% bonds. In addition to absolute safety of principal, the investor is entitled to receive the full earning power of his money.

While the prevailing 7% rate is still available it is our recommendation that investors purchase our "BETTER GRADE BONDS" in the longest maturities and in as large amounts as possible.

Ask for circulars describing several new issues affording maximum safety at the prevailing rate of 7%

To the Holders of the First Preferred and the Second Preferred Stock of the American Stores Company:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the American Stores Company, a corporation of the State of Delaware, held on the fifteenth day of March, 1922, it was Resolved to call for redemption all of the outstanding first preferred and second preferred stock of this Company, said redemption to take place on June 1, 1922, at the office of the Commercial Trust Company, in the city of Philadelphia, Pa., the Philadelphia Transfer Agent of the stock of this Company; that the redemption price of said first preferred stock and said second preferred stock is $115.00 per share with accrued dividend to the date set for redemption.

The stock certificate, properly endorsed with signature guaranteed by a bank or trust company, should be sent to the Commercial Trust Company, Philadelphia; attaching to the certificate transfer stamps as follows: two cents per share, Pennsylvania State, and two cents per share U. S. Government.

From and after June 1, 1922, dividends will cease to accrue upon said first and second preferred stock, and no right, title or interest in or to the said stock shall pass by any subsequent assignment or delivery of the certificates therefor, and the said certificates shall thereafter carry only the right upon presentation thereof to payment out of the fund set aside for redemption and accrued dividend.

If any preferred stockholder desires to convert his preferred stock into common stock he may do so in accordance with the terms and provisions under which said first and second preferred stocks were issued, which terms and provisions appear on the back of all stock certificates of the Company.

30,000,000 Guilders

Holland-America Line

Twenty-five Year 6% Sinking Fund Bonds

(20,000,000 Guilders offered in the United States; 10,000,000 Guilders offered in Holland)

Dated May 1, 1922 — Due May 1, 1947

Non-callable except for Sinking Fund

Coupon Bonds in denomination of 2,500 Guilders (At par of exchange = $1,005)

Principal and interest payable in New York through the office of White, Weld & Co., as fiscal agents for the loan in the United States, in dollars at the current rate of exchange prevailing at the time of payment, or at the option of the holder payable in Holland in Guilders. Interest payable May 1 and November 1. Free of all present and future taxes of the Kingdom of the Netherlands. Text of bond in both English and Dutch.
Trustee: Nederlandsche Administratie Trustkantoor, Amsterdam.

A Sinking Fund is provided beginning May 1, 1927, to retire by call by lot one-twentieth of the issue annually at par and interest, thus retiring the entire issue by maturity.

Company: The Holland-America Line maintains regular passenger and freight services from Holland and other European countries to the east and west coasts of the United States and Canada; Cuba, Mexico, South America, and from the United States to the Dutch East Indies. It also owns a substantial interest in the United Netherlands Navigation Company which maintains services between Continental European ports and British India, East Asia, Australia and East and West Africa.

Funded Debt: These bonds constitute the only funded debt of the company. There is no mortgage on the existing property of the company, and the company agrees that none will be created while these bonds are outstanding.

Assets: As of January 1, 1922, the company's balance sheet, after giving effect to this financing, showed net assets of 123,486,445 Guilders, or over four times the amount of this issue. Net quick assets amounted to 27,193,005 Guilders.

The company's fleet, aggregating 371,600 tons, including six ships built in 1921, is carried on its books at approximately 80 Guilders per ton (about $30 at current rate of exchange), and its smaller craft at one Guilder each. Office buildings, real estate, warehouses, etc., costing approximately 10,900,000 Guilders, are carried at 2,800,000 Guilders.

Annual average, 1905 to 1921 inclusive	11,670,596 Guilders
Annual interest on this issue	1,800,000 "
Times earned	6.4

For the year ending December 31, 1921, notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions existing, these earnings were reported as 10,754,344 Guilders, or almost six times the interest requirements on this issue.

Dividends: The dividend policy of the company has been conservative, the greater part of the yearly income being re-invested in the business. Annual cash dividends, however, have been paid since 1898 at the average rate of slightly less than 20%.

Purpose of Issue: The proceeds of the bonds now being offered will be used for the completion of the company's construction program for 1922 and 1923, through which three passenger steamers aggregating 42,400 tons and nine cargo steamers aggregating 98,200 tons will be added to the present fleet.

The offering of 10,000,000 Guilders in Holland is to be made simultaneously by the Rotterdamsche Bankvereeniging, Amsterdamsche Bank and R. Mees & Zoonen.

Bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to the approval of counsel, Messrs. Cotton & Franklin, New York, and Dr. Schadee Wijnhaven, Rotterdam. Interim receipts of White, Weld & Co., fiscal agents in the United States for the loan, will be delivered pending preparation of the definitive bonds.

APPLICATION WILL BE MADE TO LIST THESE BONDS ON THE NEW YORK AND AMSTERDAM STOCK EXCHANGES

Price $920 flat per Bond
To yield 6.30% to maturity and 6.90% if redeemed in 1927

These yields are based upon exchange at 38¼ cents per Guilder. With exchange returning to par of 40.2 cents within six months and remaining at that figure, the yield to maturity will be over 6.70% and to earliest date of redemption (1927) will be about 8.10%.

Out of Line?

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.

Convertible 4½% Bonds, Due 1932
Present Yield About 9%

These bonds are secured under the General and Refunding Mortgage, which covers more than 10,000 miles of road, valuable terminals and equipment. Under this mortgage there is also deposited $154,489,000 Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound First Mortgage 4's, which are a first mortgage on over 2,200 miles of the western extension.

The General and Refunding 4½'s and 5's, secured under the same mortgage as the Convertible 4½'s, but due in 2014, are selling to yield about 6.75%. On the same basis the Convertible 4½'s would sell about 12 points above their present price.

The present market value of the Company's preferred and common stock is about $85,000,000.

In our opinion these bonds are out of line with railroad bonds of similar security, and offer an attractive opportunity for profitable investment. They are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, and we shall be pleased to furnish additional information and to execute orders at the market.

STOCKS RESUME UPWARD TREND; OILS TAKE LEAD

The New York Times.

New York, April 19.—[Special.]—Whether because the tension at Genoa seemed to have relaxed over night, or because further signs of improvement in the home industrial situation outweighed political considerations, or for both reasons, all financial markets gave evidence of returning composure today.

European exchange rates moved up nearly to Tuesday's early and highest figures. The stock market, after an early and only fractional decline, recovered most or all of the previous day's declines, and the investment bond market continued both strong and active.

Oil Stocks Lead in Activity.

The least reassuring fact about the stock market—in which business again ran far above a million shares, making the fourteenth consecutive million share day in the present month—was the fact that the day's activity again converged, not on the seasoned investment shares, but on the highly speculative industrials, notably the "oil stocks."

While it is quite true that stocks of this character are always apt to move the most violently when the general market's tendency is either strongly upward or strongly downward, they are not the traditional basis for a sound and trustworthy movement of prices. It is markets such as that of 1919 in which their continued leadership is characteristic.

U. S. Steel Goes Up.

United States Steel was in this regard the main exception; an advance of 2⅝ points brought it within one-fourth of 1 per cent of par. Few other seasoned investment shares showed equal strength; the railway shares in particular recovered slowly. This may have been partly because the "car loading returns," published today for the first full week of April, showed decrease of 112,743 cars from the week preceding, and were the smallest since the first week of the year.

This, however, had been entirely expected; its cause is shown by the fact that loadings of coal alone decreased 115,496 cars, while loadings of general merchandise increased 6,041. Furthermore, even this large reduction left the week's total loadings greater by 115,000 cars, or 2¾ per cent greater than in the same week of 1921.

CORPORATION EARNINGS

UNITED GAS IMPROVEMENT.

The annual report for 1921 showed net income equivalent to $1.88 a share on the common ($50 par), as compared with $1.81 in 1920. Net profit was $2,717,032 after charges and taxes, despite a loss from operation of the Philadelphia gas works, as compared with $2,303,876 the previous year. The income account follows:

	1921	1920.
Preferred dividends	414,891	86,263
Common dividends	2,441,192	4,882,384
Deficit	139,051	2,664,771

REPUBLIC IRON AND STEEL.

For the quarter ended March 31, net of $277,063, compared with $470,242 in the same period last year, and $2,353,020 in the first quarter of 1920. After depreciation, interest, etc., there was a deficit of $712,082, contrasted with a balance of $104,611 in 1921 and a deficit of $1,777,317 in 1920. Unfilled orders as of March 31 totaled 130,551 tons, against 121,498 tons at the end of the first quarter last year.

WANT RULE ON GRAIN IN CARS.

Application was made to the Board of Trade directors on Tuesday to have grain in cars on track made a regular delivery on May contracts. It was referred to the warehouse committee.

FINANCIAL NOTES

With trading again far in excess of the million share mark, prices on the stock exchange yesterday registered a substantial recovery, the rise in some quarters being ascribed to covering of short commitments late Tuesday. Consolidated Gas and United States Steel common stood out from the entire list, the former advancing 5⅝ and the latter going up 2 points. Both issues on heavy buying forged to new high records for the year. Other issues which were substantially higher included Mexican Petroleum, National Lead, Standard Oil of California, Studebaker, New Haven, Electric Storage, Chandler Motors, and Crucible Steel.

Early strength in the steel stocks had much to do with the general recovery in the stock market. United States Steel common got to the highest price in two years. The peak was 99⅝ and close 99⅝. The move in steel caused allied issues to harden, and Crucible Steel rose 1¼, Bethlehem Steel B 1⅝, Lackawanna 1, Republic 1¼, and Gulf States Steel 1. In part the rise was based upon reports from the iron and steel trade which said that buyers are anxiously bidding for steel for early delivery. Consumers fear that the coal strike will curtail output.

Wall street has witnessed fourteen consecutive million share days since the bull market for stock set in, and twenty-two since the beginning of the year. The record does not yet compare with previous years. For instance, in the declining markets of the spring of 1920 nineteen consecutive million share days were witnessed. This record started in April and ended on May 3. In March of that year fifteen were recorded. The grand record, however, was in 1901, when in March, April, and May the consecutive million share days numbered forty-four. In January and February of the same year the record was twenty-four.

An interesting development in the bond market was the offering of the balance of the authorized $40,000,000 issue of Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean 6s by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the National City company at 83½ and accrued interest. Marketing of the remaining $10,000,000 completes the financing of this loan. The bonds are being offered pro rata to the distributing houses which placed the original $30,000,000.

Three new directors were elected to the board of the General Motors corporation. The twenty-eight directors now on the board were reëlected. The new men chosen were George H. Harnum, general manager of the Oakland Motor Car company; Alexander B. C. Hardy, general manager of the Olds Motor works, and Herbert H. Rice, general manager of the Cadillac Motor Car company. The election of officers will be held in New York April 25.

The Boston Stock exchange was closed yesterday because of the observance of Bunker Hill day, a legal holiday in Massachusetts.

The contest for control of the Submarine Boat corporation which enlivened the recent annual meeting resulted in a victory for the organization ticket, the corporation announced when the counting of votes was completed. Three organization directors, Frank Wallace, Stephen Peabody, and Otto Marx, were elected to the board, succeeding Isaac L. Rice Jr., Thomas Cochran, and William H. Remick.

All the stock held by the family of the late Verner Reed in the Associated Oil corporation, totaling 168,900 Wyoming shares, will be acquired by the Mountain Producers corporation at the annual meeting on May 15, when stockholders will be asked to authorize an increase in the capitalization from 1,000,000 shares—$10 par—to 1,750,000 shares of the same par value, to carry out the purchase.

C. W. Flint has been appointed receiver for the Charles F. Noble Oil and Gas company because of a factional contest for control. An official statement says all debts will be paid in full, as current payables are not over $1,750,000 and total indebtedness not over $3,000,000, while the company's properties are valued at $15,000,000.

American Locomotive company in the last eight days has closed orders for ninety-nine locomotives for domestic roads and manufacturing companies. This is not only the largest week's business since 1920, but is larger than the aggregate of order previously placed since the beginning of the year and is probably about equal to the total number of domestic engines sold by the company throughout 1921.

Stocks of gasoline at the close of February were the greatest in the history of the industry, according to a bulletin issued by the bureau of mines. They aggregated 818,500,000 gallons, an increase of 112,800,000 gallons as compared with the reserve of January and exceeding the previous high figure established in May, 1921, by 81,000,000 gallons.

THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS is, next to New York City, the largest port of entry in the United States and the leading business and financial center of the South. Excellent transportation facilities are furnished by fourteen systems of railroads and forty-two steamship lines to all the principal domestic and foreign centers. The city owns property far in excess of its total bonded indebtedness and the major part of the city's indebtedness has been expended in the last decade on the construction of necessary water works, sewerage and terminal improvements.

THESE BONDS, issued under authority of the State Constitution, constitute a direct obligation of the entire City and are payable from unlimited ad valorem taxes upon all of the taxable property therein.

Window Displays

That Teach You Investing and Inspire You to Save

ONE of the features of our new ground floor office (open soon) will be five window displays in the lobby of the National Life Building, 29 S. La Salle St.

These displays, part of The INVESTORS Idea of popularizing investing, will help you become a better saver and investor. They will teach without boring—they will arouse your enthusiasm and impel you to action—all because they will present the subject in a "different" way.

When our permanent loop offices open—and announcement of this will appear soon—come and look at The Investors Company windows. Do this for the good it will do you, or to get some new ideas, or just for curiosity's sake—but come and see them. You may be sure you will be well repaid for your trouble.

And, please do not forget to hold yourself in readiness for the formal opening of the new offices. This will be an event of real importance to the investing public, and you should be there.

STEEL INDUSTRY CONTINUES GAINS DESPITE STRIKE

BY O. A. MATHER.

Thus far, the coal strike appears to have had little effect on the steel industry, so far as production is concerned, although the fear of a future shortage has stimulated demand and caused a stiffening in prices. Actual production of coal has changed little in the last week, while a drive on the part of operators to reopen non-union mines is expected next week.

"The rate of steel works and rolling mill production is about 75 per cent for the Steel corporation and close to 70 per cent for independent companies," the Iron Age says. "Buying steel has been stimulated by increasing inability of mills to make prompt deliveries. In pig iron Chicago witnessed the heaviest buying in two years. The volume of fabricated steel business closed in March was 139,300 tons, almost as much as that of January and February combined and over 30 per cent better than the March average for the preceding ten years."

I. C. Makes Good Showing.

The annual report of the Illinois Central railroad makes a better showing than is indicated by the figures, which show net income for 1921 equivalent to $8.89 a share on the $109,296,000 common stock, compared with $12.41 a share in 1920. This decline, however, resulted from special charges in connection with accounts with the government.

In 1920 the company set aside a reserve of $6,854,541 for maintenance, including it among operating expenses, but in the settlement with the government for the guaranty period this claim was disallowed. It is deducted, therefore, from last year's income, being included under "deductions from gross income." The favorable feature is the fact that for the year ended Dec. 31, 1921, total operating revenue shows a decline of only $3,577,000, while total railway operating expenses declined $17,329,000.

The stockholders of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad were given some encouragement at the annual meeting yesterday. In March the road was operated at a ratio of about 77.74 per cent of gross earnings, compared with about 95.37 per cent in March, 1921. Net income after all expenses, rentals, and charges was estimated at about $72,000, compared with a deficit of $1,600,221 in March last year.

Piggly Wiggly to Expand.

In order to expand its chain of stores the Piggly Wiggly Stores, Inc., yesterday notified stockholders they may purchase 50,000 additional shares of class "A" stock at $43 a share. The new stock will be issued May 10 and will complete the total authorized issue of 200,000 shares. The new stock will be entitled to the $1 dividend recently declared and payable June 1 and to participation in unpaid back dividends of $7. To provide for this there will be set aside $8 of the subscription price of the new shares in a special surplus, while the remaining $35 will be carried to capital account, giving the company $2,150,000 of new money with which to open additional stores.

The annual report for 1921 of the Northern States Power company shows net income of $2,911,861, equivalent after preferred dividends, depreciation, and amortization charges to 8.27 per cent on the $6,170,000 common stock. Dividends of 4 per cent were paid. The annual report of the American Public Service company shows net income of $372,136, equivalent after preferred dividends to 19 per cent on the $1,601,600 common stock outstanding last year. This issue was increased on Dec. 15, 1921, to $2,322,320 by a dividend payable in stock.

Czecho-Slovak Republic.

L. H.—The $14,000,000 Czecho-Slovak republic 8 per cent external loan of 1922 is due April 1, 1951. These bonds are payable in United States currency. They are secured by a specific charge on the receipts from the customs duties and on the net profits of the tobacco monopoly, which together yielded $36,310,000 in 1921 and are estimated to yield $24,920,000 for 1922, figuring at the exchange rate of 2 cents for the krone. The government has agreed to pay weekly to Baring Bros. & Co., Ltd., London, one-fifty-second part of the total annual interest and sinking fund requirements of the loan. The present issue, together with 3,300,000 pounds sterling bonds being issued in London and Amsterdam, are part of an authorized issue amounting to $50,000,000. The bonds are not redeemable, except for sinking fund, before May 1, 1932, after which they are redeemable, as a whole only, at 108 and interest. These bonds offer an attractive investment for a business man's spare funds.

International Paper.

G. A.—The International Paper reported total revenue for 1921 of $1,542,642, compared with $21,936,237 in 1920. There was a deficit of $1,166,282, which, after preferred dividends of $1,500,000, was increased to $2,666,282 for the year, against a surplus of $10,555,902 in 1920. Final surplus after adjustment of inventory was $23,875,180, compared with $32,818,069 at the end of 1920. The preferred stock is paying 6 per cent regularly, although it was not earned in 1921. As this is cumulative, it is entitled to a fair rating, but cannot be considered as a sound investment.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, April 19.—Bar silver, 35⅛d per ounce. Money 2 per cent, discount rates, short and three months bills, 2½@2⅝ per cent.

PARIS.—Trading was quieter on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 58f. 25c.; exchange on London, 47f 59c; five per cent loan, 70f. 40c. The dollar was quoted at 10f 78c.

DRY GOODS MARKETS.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Cotton goods markets quieter; prices firm and tending upward on some print cloths and sheetings. Worsted yarns offered at concessions. Silks and staple dress goods quiet. Burlaps showed little change.

PLANTING CORN IN KANSAS.

Oats seeding is 50 to 75 per cent completed in Kansas, and corn planting has commenced in Sumner county.

LAKE RATES LOWER.

Opportunity for a Substantial Salesman

A well-established, substantial corporation in an unusually stable line, having paid dividends regularly for years—including the entire period of financial depression—as well as adding regularly to surplus—is increasing its capital stock. An unusual opportunity for a substantial salesman who, if worthy, will receive strong co-operation—co-operation that will secure results. Experienced preferred, but not necessarily so if possessing good, negotiative ability, favorable connections and reliability. Reply need not be exhaustive, but of a character to influence decision as to an interview. Please state phone number.

RAILROAD NOTES

Intimation has been given in Washington that there will be a liberal rate reduction when the long expected interstate commerce commission rate decision is handed down. The decision is expected within ten days and probably will be rendered this week. It is believed that coke, coal, iron ore, and other raw materials used in the manufacture of iron and steel will be singled out for particularly generous rate reductions, and that other freight will receive smaller cuts.

Canadian National railways have lifted the embargo on grain shipments to the head of Canadian lakes which have been enforced for a month on account of congestion in terminal elevators. Long grain trains are approaching the lakes. All parts of the west are hauling wheat as result of increased market.

Application was filed with the interstate commerce commission by the Mobile and Ohio railroad for authority to issue $400,000 of promissory notes at 6 per cent for the purpose of purchasing new equipment.

During the first eighteen days of April 78,481 cars were handled by the Chicago and Northwestern as against 70,723 for the corresponding period last year. There were 55,130 cars loaded on company rails, compared with 50,735, and 23,351 received from connecting lines, against 19,988.

LAKE NAVIGATION OPENS.

Lake navigation officially opened from Canadian ports yesterday and it is expected that 3,500,000 bu grain will clear in two days, and 10,000,000 bu have been sold to move in the next ten days.

A Bargain in Furniture Storage
Space

Through a consolidation of two businesses, there is now available for rent a six-story building in New York City, at about half the usual price. Location and type of building make it specially suitable for furniture storage. For further details communicate with

The Public Have Adopted The Motor Bus

ALL CHICAGO is interested in this popular mode of passenger transportation. The people themselves have settled all question as to its future. The convenience—the pleasure of riding up on deck in the fresh air and sunshine—the interesting sights and life along the route are all attractions that draw the people to the Motor Bus.

Ten new buses are now in course of construction to be completed and put in service before May 1st and orders have been placed for 10 additional buses of the new 301 open top type which has proved so popular.

It is still possible to secure an investment in this growing enterprise in the bonds of the Lake Shore Motor Bus Corporation to yield

WILL IMPROVE 5 ACRES AT GRAND AND HARLEM AVS.

BY AL CHASE.

Five acres at the northeast corner of Grand and Harlem avenues have been purchased by George W. Prassas from Lester F. Clow for a reported $100,000, and on this tract, which has a business frontage on Grand avenue of 500 feet, store and flats buildings will be built. Plans are being drawn by Architect Jens J. Jensen.

The court apartment buildings on the north side of Lunt avenue, 100 feet east of Greenview avenue, with a total area of 230x172, containing seventy-two flats, have been sold by August H. Skoglund to Adolph Amster for an indicated $303,000, subject to $166,000.

Broadway-Belmont Corner Sold.

The southwest corner of Broadway and Belmont, 75x125, which has been under one ownership for thirty years, has been sold by the Hambleton Realty Trust to Fred Berger, through Broomell Bros., for a reported $80,000. It is improved with a three story building, containing four stores on Broadway and fifteen flats. Mr. Berger will remodel the Belmont side and install several stores. W. K. Young & Bro. represented the buyer.

A reported $85,000, subject to $50,000, was paid by Louis Trocky to Fannie Shorr for the store and offices at the northwest corner of Princeton and 63d. Chutkow & Botham, brokers, also sold the northwest corner of Broadway and Rosedale, seven one story stores, for Alice C. Lomquist to Fannie Shorr, for a reported $60,000, subject to $22,500. Harrison & Riedy sold the six flats at 849 Ainslie for Joseph Levy and Morris Blum to Cerina Stephen for $53,500.

Oak Park Deal.

Biggs Bros. have sold the sixteen apartment at the southeast corner of Lombard and Pleasant streets, Oak Park, for Martin Hansen to Marie Baumgarten, for a reported $74,000.

Arthur T. Galt, an attorney, has purchased eighty acres between Melrose Park and Franklin Park, at the southeast corner of North avenue and 9th, from Mrs. Eva R. Wegg for $55,000, subject to $8,000, supposedly for subdivision purposes.

The twenty-four flats at the southeast corner of Evans and 50th have been sold by Eugene L. Garey, an attorney, to Margaret Stevens, for a reported $100,000, subject to $72,000. Joseph Jay Miller, of K. R. Beak & Co., represented both parties.

MILEAGE GUARANTEE ABOLISHED BY RUBBER MANUFACTURERS.
Sweeping action ends drain on tire industry.

Millions of tires have been replaced by the tire manufacturers every year on the adjustment system. These millions of tires must now be turned over to TIRE REPAIR SHOPS and every one entering this interesting and profitable business NOW will reap a golden harvest.

TIRE REPAIRING will boom—car owners will now be forced to guard every last mile in their tires and SPOT PATCHING, SECTIONAL WORK, and RETREADING will take the place of factory adjustments.

This business will come from 9,700,000 cars, making approximately 50,000,000 tires to keep in repair.

We teach you this business ABSOLUTELY FREE OF CHARGE, pay as you learn, find you a good location, and furnish you with all necessary equipment.

WATCH HALSTED STREET.

between 57th and 59th, grow into value like Halsted-st., between 63d and 65th-sts., when the big terminal goes in at 59th-st. Storekeepers, why worry and pay high rents when you can buy 50x125 ft. on west side of Halsted-st., 124 ft. north of 58th-st., at $150 a foot? Why wait and pay $500 a foot? Business vacant is selling for more than we ask for this out on the South Side prairie subdivisions. You laughed at buying Halsted-st. vacant, between 61st and 65th-sts., a few years ago, at $50 a foot. Well, the owners who hold it today, that bought it at $50 a foot, can hire other people to do the work and are laughing, besides. See McCLUN, 217 W. 63d-st. Wentworth 1845.

FRANKLIN

DO YOU KNOW?

That after 8 years as the Franklin dealer in Chicago I sold out my business April 1st?

Do you know that I am naming positively sacrifice prices on the few Used and Rebuilt Franklins I have left?

I am willing that you should take advantage of me. I am not trying to make a profit. I am trying to turn my cars into cash. I am willing to sell them for less than cars of same make and model were ever sold before—hundreds of dollars less.

Your Opportunity

Every car must be sold in 10 days. There are Used and Rebuilt Franklins on this sales floor that could not have been duplicated 2 weeks ago for $800 or $1,200 more. They are worth just as much today as they were before I decided to sell out, but they don't cost you as much. Come while there is a good selection. Come today.

PACKARD

LINCOLN DE LUXE PHAETON. It is impossible to distinguish this car from new in any detail. There is not a scratch or mar on it anywhere. The equipment includes spare tire and cover, nickeled radiator, natural wood wheels, 4 aluminum individual step plates, cigar lighter, Biflex front bumper, etc. Any one considering the purchase of a new Lincoln car will surely be interested in this one at our price of $3,750.

CADILLAC VICTORIA COUPE, MODEL 57. This is one of the last cars produced of the "57" model. It was taken in trade from the original owner, who availed himself of Cadillac Service Station at all times. The upholstery is silk velour and has been protected with seat covers, leaving it in condition like new. Mechanically this car could not be improved upon, and the tires on the car are practically new. We would advise an early inspection, as our price is considerably under the actual market value: $1,750.

FRANKLIN TOURING, MODEL 9-B. All necessary mechanical work has been done on this car and it is ready to put into immediate service. We have repainted it in Brewster Green and equipped with practically new tires. The upholstery and top, in fact, the entire car, shows practically no signs of wear. Special at $750.

NASH TOURING CAR, 1921. This is the 7 passenger model and has had comparatively little mileage. The original tires are still capable of many thousand miles of satisfactory service and the upholstery, top, and paint are as good as new. We are offering this car at a substantial saving over the new car price at $900.

PACKARD TWIN SIX PHAETON. This is our 5 passenger Sport car, taken in trade from the original owner. Car is very completely equipped, with wire wheels, extra cord tires, tonneau, windshield, bumper, etc., and the paint is in such good condition that it will not require refinishing. Special at $1,750.

PACKARD TWIN SIX SEDAN. This is one of the latest series cars. Has been completely refinished and cannot be distinguished from new in any detail. The upholstery shows no wear at all. LINCOLN

LELAND BUILT.

OWEN MAGNETIC MODEL M, 1917, TOWN CAR. This car was traded in by the original owner and is in exceptionally fine condition. Has a special Kimball Town Car body, elegantly upholstered in a beautiful imported dark velour. This car is equipped with 5 Rudge-Whitworth wire wheels, 5 good Cord tires, bumper, etc. This would make a very desirable car either for private use or high grade livery. $750.

STEPHENS MODEL 84, 4 PASS. SPORT. This car has had exceptional care and is in the finest mechanical condition. Body and fenders are without a dent. The upholstery is perfect and the Cord tires practically new. This car has just been painted a beautiful maroon with black fenders. Equipment consists of a genuine California Top, with glass winter sides, motometer, etc. A slightly used high grade Sport model car at the attractive figure of $950.

STANDARD 8, 1921 SPORT PHAETON. Just like new. Has been driven less than 5,000 miles. Original paint. Special leather upholstery shows no wear whatever. This car is equipped with an excellent set of seat covers, 6 practically new cord tires. Biflex bumper, motometer, etc. This car cost over $3,500 less than a year ago—can be bought for $1,500.

COLE, MODEL 870, 7 PASS. TOURING CAR. As good as the day it left the factory. Just painted a beautiful dark blue. Equipment consists of front and rear bumpers, spotlight, motometer and 5 good cord tires. This car was delivered in 1920 and cost the owner over $3,500 equipped. Now offered at $950.

CADILLAC'S 7 Bargains

BUICK TOURING, 1920, MODEL K-45. This is a small 5 passenger Touring Car. It is being turned in to us by the original purchaser, who has surely given it wonderful care and attention. In fact, it has been under the supervision of a thorough mechanic in his own employ. If you are looking for a Buick car that is exceptionally fine not only mechanically but as to paint and upholstery and has an excellent set of cord tires, 1 spare, bumper, etc., we consider this the best bargain we have ever offered. Special for this sale, $750.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 55, TOURING. This is our standard touring car which we are offering at a much reduced price. Mechanically the car will bear the most rigid examination and will make a good, quiet demonstration. The motor runs quietly and the balance of the chassis has been kept up in good shape by the original owner. The cord tires are in nice shape. Has an extra tire, bumper, clock, etc. If you are looking for a Cadillac car at way below the market and one that will give you excellent service, this car will come up to your expectation. Special for this sale, $750.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, TOURING CAR. This car has just come into our hands from the original purchaser and we believe it to be one of the best bargains we have ever offered in this series. Has seat covers, bumper, clock, 2 extra tires. Equipped with special Victoria top. The car runs smoothly and quietly and to one not wanting a car that has been refinished, but a car that has many miles of good service left in it, this bargain will please him. We are offering this car at several hundred dollars under the market price. $1,000.

OLDSMOBILE SEDAN, MODEL 46-S. This car is practically new. The mileage is less than 250. This is their standard eight cylinder car that is selling new today delivered in Chicago, including war tax and freight, at $2,775. If you are looking for a snap in a practically new car at a saving equal or greater than the dealer's discount, this car will surely please you. This is not a used automobile in any sense. Special for this sale, $2,250.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, PHAETON. This is our popular Sport model, with an excellent set of cord tires, 2 spares, bumper, clock, etc. Also a set of winter sides. It has had very careful usage and is coming into our hands in most excellent mechanical condition. As this particular model is very scarce and our price is extremely low, your immediate action will be necessary. Special for this sale, $1,500.

STEVENS-DURYEA LIMOUSINE, MODEL 6-C. If you would talk to people who know this particular make of car and this particular model they would advise you to buy this car if you want a standard limousine. It has been very carefully used and has had wonderful attention and kept in good condition throughout. Has a set of cord tires, 5 wire wheels, an extra tire, etc. If you are looking for even a chassis this car is a big bargain. Special for this sale, $250.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, VICTORIA COUPE. This is a roomy 4 passenger Coupe that has been so popular with us and we are very fortunate in being able to offer this type of car at this price. The general appearance of this car is exceptionally good. Mechanically very good. Has an excellent set of cord tires, seat covers, bumper, clock, spare tire, etc. If you are looking for a very well built car that runs smoothly and quietly and that has years of service left in it, this car will surely please you. Special for this sale. $1,400.

Marmon '21 Coupe

This is a roomy 4 passenger coupe that has had most excellent care at all times. The mileage is very low, in fact the car runs as smoothly as a new Marmon. The original paint, a conservative Brewster Green color, is in most excellent condition; interior of the car is immaculate; upholstery shows absolutely no wear; equipment is complete in detail; has 5 wire wheels and an excellent set of cord tires, one extra, biflex bumpers, front and rear; motometer, storm shield, heater, automatic windshield wiper, Warner lenses, stop light, etc.

This car cost the original purchaser in excess of $5,500 and we believe at our price is a value that rarely, if ever, is offered in the used car market.

Gale Fells Church Steeple—Continue Probe on Missing Bank Funds—Foil South Side Kidnaping

Mildred A. Hope

INTERIOR OF CHURCH AFTER STEEPLE FELL. A huge hole was torn in the roof as the massive steeple crashed through. Mildred A. Hope, right, employed by a securities company in the Metropole hotel, was struck on the arm by the ball from the steeple which hurtled through the hole shown in the window.

[Keystone Photo.]

68 YEARS A RAILROADER. Frank Knight, 93 years old, who will be given a pension by the C., B. & Q.

QUESTIONED ABOUT $450,000 SHORTAGE. Mrs. Albert H. Sporleder, with her husband, ex-cashier and ex-president of the Milwaukee-Irving bank, who is involved in the investigation of the missing funds.

HELD. Mrs. Vincenta Gonzalez, rooming house owner at 4107 South Ashland avenue, where a Mexican was killed.
